Balzac, Honoré de.

At the sign of the Cat and racket (La maison du Chat-qui-pelote); tr. by Clara Bell, with a preface by George Saintsbury. B218at

Same as "Cat and battledore" and "Fame and sorrow."

Contains also: The Sceaux ball.—The purse.—The vendetta.—Madame Firmiani.

The celibates, and other stories; tr. by Clara Bell, with a preface by George Saintsbury. (Comédie humaine.)....B218pi2

Contents: The celibates: Pierrette; The Abbé Birotteau.—Colonel Chabert.—The vendetta.

Country parson (Le curé de village), and Albert Savaron (De Savarus); tr. by Ellen Marriage and Clara Bell, with a preface by George Saintsbury. (Comédie humaine.) B218v2

Same as "Village rector."

Story of country life and of a man's efforts to improve the lot of the peasantry.

Father Goriot (Le père Goriot), and M. Gobseck; tr. by Ellen Marriage, with a preface by George Saintsbury. (Comédie humaine.).....B218p3

Same as "Père Goriot."

"In Goriot is exhibited the extravagance of paternal sacrifice; 'he is the modern King Lear,' impoverishing himself to give his daughters dowries; and when they are reduced to straits by their depravity, stripping himself to save them." Baker's Descriptive guide to the best fiction.

Jealousies of a country town (Les rivalités), [and A marriage settlement]; tr. by Ellen Marriage, with a preface by George Saintsbury. (Comédie humaine.).....B218ga2

Same as "Gallery of antiquities."

Marriage settlement (Le contrat de mariage), and other stories; tr. by Clara Bell, with a preface by George Saintsbury. (Comédie humaine.).....B218ma2

Other stories: A start in life.—A second home.

"A marriage settlement" is the same as "The marriage contract."

Describes the negotiations concerning a marriage settlement and the plots of a spendthrift mother to get the better of her son-in-law. Shows Balzac's practical acquaintance with the details of finance and law.

The peasantry (Les paysans), and Pierre Grassou; tr. by Ellen Marriage, with a preface by George Saintsbury. (Comédie humaine.).....B218so2

Same as "Sons of the soil."

"Elaborate account of the life of the peasant, veracious and sympathetic...but far from prepossessing in its presentment of the greed and land-hunger of the better class of peasants, and of the brutality, lawlessness and immorality that prevailed among the poorer. The story tells how a wealthy Count tries to establish himself on a fine estate, but awakens the hostility of the country-side, and is eventually driven by accumulated annoyances to leave the district." Baker's Descriptive guide to the best fiction.

Quest of the absolute (La recherche de l'absolu), and other stories; tr. by Ellen Marriage, with a preface by George Saintsbury. (Comédie humaine.) B218al2

Other stories: The unknown masterpiece.—Christ in Flanders.—Melmoth reconciled.—The red house.

"Quest of the absolute" is the same as "Alkahest."

"Metaphysical study...The subject is a modern alchemist, who sacrifices himself and his family to his belief in the Philosopher's Stone." Baker's Descriptive guide to the best fiction.

Seamy side of history (L'envers de l'histoire contemporaine), [and Z. Marcas]; tr. by Clara Bell, with a preface by George Saintsbury. (Comédie humaine.) B218sea

"[The first story is] founded on a conception the obverse of the famous Thirteen, i.e., a Brotherhood of Consolation, a secret society of men joined together for the purpose of remedying the evils which Society neglects...Z. Marcas is a brief psychological study of a politician." Baker's Descriptive guide to the best fiction.

The thirteen (Histoire des treize), and other stories; tr. by Ellen Marriage, with a preface by George Saintsbury. (Comédie humaine.) B218th

Other stories: Maître Cornélius.—Gambara.

"The Thirteen...are a secret brotherhood of men belonging to the most widely separated ranks and professions, and bound to each other by indissoluble ties. They make themselves into a force superior to the law. The story of their doings is full of melodramatic interest." Baker's Descriptive guide to the best fiction.

The unconscious mummers (Les comédiens sans le savoir), and other stories; tr. by Ellen Marriage, with a preface by George Saintsbury. 1897. (Comédie humaine.) B218unc

Other stories: A prince of Bohemia.—A man of business.—Gaudissart II.—The firm of Nucingen.—Facino Cane.

[Unknown masterpiece, and other stories]; an introduction by Ferdinand Brunetière, the translation by G. B. Ives. (Little French masterpieces.) B218un

Other stories: A seashore drama.—An episode under the Terror.—La Grande Bretèche.—The conscript.—A passion in the desert.

Ursule Mirouët, and other stories; tr. by Clara Bell, with a preface by George Saintsbury. (Comédie humaine.) B218u3

Other stories: Madame Firmiani.—A forsaken woman.—The imaginary mistress.

Same as "Ursula."

"Written specially for the young person; the innocent and pious heroine converts her guardian, who is an atheist. Swedenborgianism and clairvoyance are introduced into the plot." Baker's Descriptive guide to the best fiction.

Woman of thirty (La femme de trente ans), and A start in life; tr. by Ellen Marriage, with a preface by George Saintsbury. (Comédie humaine.) B218w

"A start in life" is translated by Clara Bell.

"The woman of thirty" is a story of an attractive woman sacrificed to a dull husband. "A start in life" is humorous throughout, the career of a young man of inordinate vanity whose infirmity leads him into great difficulties.

Bandelier, Adolph Francis Alphonse.

The delight makers B2242d

"The English rendering of Koshare, a priesthood among the Pueblo Indians whose function, among other things, is to create merriment between and sometimes during the public religious dances...The plot alone is fiction...The author has succeeded admirably in portraying Pueblo life as it existed before the advent of the white man in 1540." Larned's Literature of American history.

A young woman just escaped from restraining poverty and confinement into the joys of wealth and freedom develops a whimsical scheme for sharing her good time with others.

High noon; [stories].....B783h

Contents: A meeting in the market-place.—The book of love.—There and here.—His enemy.—Natalie Blayne.—A runaway match.—Rosamund in heaven.—The end of the game.—The miracle.—The map of the country.—The tryst.—A dream in the morning.

All of these stories are of the psychological and introspective type, and three of them border on the supernatural.

Judgment; a novel.....B783j

Appeared in "Harper's magazine," v.107, Aug.–Oct. 1903.

Rather short story, dealing with a psychological problem.

The Mannerings; [a novel].....B783man

Story of a small group of cultivated people in a New England town, including an ill-matched husband and wife and two interesting pairs of lovers. More character study than incident.

Paradise; [a novel].....B783p

A juggler and his runaway fortune teller are not the characters to be expected in a story of New England country life, but they are not more interesting than the farmer people among whom they come by chance or choice.

Brown, Anna Robeson.

Truth and a woman.....B7832t

Short love story of a thoughtful woman and a scientist with strong atheistic opinions.

Brown, Charles Brockden.

Arthur Mervyn; or, Memoirs of the year 1793. 2v.....B7842a

Brown (1771–1810) was the first American to make literature a profession, and his romances were considered by his contemporaries to be striking and original productions.

Action of the story takes place in Philadelphia during the yellow fever epidemic in 1793, and the book gives a vivid picture of the condition of the city.

Edgar Huntly; or, Memoirs of a sleep-walker.....B7842e

Scene is laid in Pennsylvania. It gives a picture of the society of the time (the beginning of the 19th century), with fine descriptions of natural scenery and a succession of strange adventures.

Ormond; or, The secret witness.....B7842o

Wieland; or, The transformation.....B7842w

Story of a ventriloquist who persuades the hero that he hears the voice of a supernatural being, and induces him to kill his wife and children.

"The appearance of these two novels [Wieland, 1798, and Ormond, 1799] constitutes an epoch in the ornamental literature of America. They are the first decidedly successful attempts in the walk of romantic fiction. They are still further remarkable as illustrating the character and the state of society on this side of the Atlantic." Prescott's Biographical and critical miscellanies.

Brown, Helen Dawes.

Daudet, Alphonse.
[Letters from my mill, and Monday tales]; an introduction by W. P. Trent, tr. by G. B. Ives. (Little French masterpieces.) D284le
Contents: LETTERS FROM MY MILL: The Beaucaire diligence.—Master Cornille's secret.—The goat of Monsieur Seguin.—The pope's mule.—The lighthouse of the Sanguinaires.—The curé of Cucugnan.—Old folks.—The death of the dauphin.—The legend of the man with the golden brain.—The three low masses.—The two inns.—The elixir of the Reverend Father Gaucher.—MONDAY TALES: The last class.—The game of billiards.—The child spy.—Mothers.—The siege of Berlin.—The little pies.—The pope is dead.
My first voyage, my first lie; a reminiscence of an imaginative childhood, related by Daudet to R. H. Sherard, by whom it was taken down, and is now published in Daudet's own words in the English language.....D284m "People of scientific temperament often demand a definition of 'charm.' My First Voyage is a definition of the word in a hundred and seventy-five pages. The book is a mental 'reconstruction' of an episode of Daudet's Southern childhood—a childhood of Tartarin! At the age of ten or so he was dispatched, with a companion of equal maturity, by steamer from Beaucaire to Lyons...The boys were going to school. The recital is a history, with gaps due to defective memory, of the voyage. Alphonse invented the lies—those lies which were to supply the halo of glory demanded by the Southern temperament...and Léonce loyally supported the colossal structure of deceit." Academy, 1901.

The nabob; tr. fr. the French, with a critical introduction by Prof. Trent. (Century of French romance.) D284na Excellent translation.

"Offers a very exact picture of social life in the last days of the Empire,—a feverish, over-wrought, jaded society, rousing itself to a sort of factitious activity, only to relapse and finally break down utterly." René Doumic's Contemporary French novelists.

Gautier, Théophile.
Avatar, Jettatura, The water pavilion; tr. and ed. by F. C. de Sumichrast G246a
"Jettatura" was first published in the "Moniteur universel" under the title "Paul d'Aspremont."
"Avatar" is a story of metempsychosis; "Jettatura" makes very real the Neapolitan superstition of the evil eye; "The water pavilion" is a graceful little Chinese story.
Fortunio, One of Cleopatra's nights, King Candaules; tr. and ed. by F. C. de Sumichrast rG246f
Jack and Jill, The thousand and second night, Elias Wildmanstadius, Daniel Jovard, The bowl of punch; tr. and ed. by F. C. de Sumichrast.....G246j
"Jack and Jill" is one of Gautier's simplest and prettiest stories; "Elias Wildmanstadius" is a sketch of one of his friends, Celestin Nanteuil; "Daniel Jovard" and "The bowl of punch" are satires on some of the affectations of the time.
Militona, The nightingales, The marchioness's lap-dog, Omphale, a rococo story; tr. and ed. by F. C. de Sumichrast G246m
The quartette, The mummy's foot; tr. and ed. by F. C. de

Sumichrast G246q

"The quartette" is the story of an attempt to rescue Napoleon from St. Helena.

"The most extraordinary representation of English life and manners, which no one can read at the present day without a smile...Not to be taken seriously as an attempt to produce a true historical novel, but merely as a brilliant emanation of the author's imagination." F. C. de Sumichrast.

Spirite, The vampire, Arria Marcella; tr. and ed. by F. C. de Sumichrast rG246s

In "Spirite" (published 1866) the author tried to enlist the fancy of the moment for spiritual manifestations. "Arria Marcella" is a souvenir of Pompeii at the height of its splendor. "The vampire" is a translation of "La morte amoureuse," considered the finest of Gautier's minor tales.

[Tales and poems]; an introduction by F. C. de Sumichrast, the translation by G. B. Ives. (Little French masterpieces.) G246t

"More interesting than the generality of his books inasmuch as his minuteness of delineation is brought to bear on characters somewhat further removed from every-day English experience; and, of course, a novel of which the locale is Ireland during the last three years [1880–1883] is not wanting in lurid tragedy. Mr. Trollope writes as one who knew the Irish both in Ireland and America...His descriptions of character are vivid, and his opinion on the moralities of Irish politics (for he does not conceal it on party grounds) is outspoken and decided...The plot centres in the fortunes of the Jones family and their neighbours in county Galway." Athenæum, 1883.

Hinsdale, Burke Aaron.
How to study and teach history. 1907. (International education series.) 907 H57h
With a bibliography at the beginning of each chapter, and a bibliographical index, p.359–365.
The author was (1888–1900) professor of the science and art of teaching in the University of Michigan.
"Elementary and secondary teachers, whom he has had mainly in mind, will find much in this book to interest and stimulate, even though they are familiar with recent thought upon this subject; his works should prove of great value to scholars in normal and high schools, and college students. He begins with an examination of the nature of history, interweaves the theories of writing and teaching it, and concludes with a practical example of proper method drawn from the history of our own country." Nation, 1894.

Contains bibliographies of every country.
Extracts from contemporaneous and later writers pieced together to produce continuous narratives of the great nations. Such a collection must inevitably contain much that is antiquated as history proper, however interesting to the student of historical literature. Of incontestable value are the forty-odd special essays contributed in the main by scholars of the first distinction in their respective fields. Readers who are fond of discursive historical reading will probably fare on the average quite as well by resorting to the Historians' History as they are likely to if they select books on their own initiative. Condensed from American historical review, 1905.

Ocean voyages

Bullen, Frank Thomas.
Cruise of the Cachalot round the world after sperm whales. 1906. ..... j910.4 B87

"I've never read anything that equals it in its deep-sea wonder and mystery; nor do I think that any book before has so completely covered the whole business of whale-fishing, and at the same time given such real and new sea pictures." Rudyard Kipling.

Collection of voyages. 4v. 1729..... r910.4 D18

v.1. New voyage around the world, by William Dampier.
v.2. Supplement to the Voyage round the world; Two voyages to Campeachy; A discourse of trade-winds, breezes, storms, seasons of the year, tides and currents of the torrid zone throughout the world, with an account of Natal in Africk; its product, negroes, &c., by William Dampier.
v.3. Voyage to New-Holland, &c. in the year 1699, by William Dampier. —A new voyage and description of the Isthmus of America, by Lionel Wafer.
v.4. A voyage round the world; an account of Capt. William Dampier's expedition into the South seas in the ship St. George, with his various adventures and engagements from the west coast of Mexico to East India, by W. Funnell.—Capt. Heeren, Arnold Hermann Ludwig.

Historical researches into the politics, intercourse and trade of the Carthaginians, Ethiopians and Egyptians. 1850.....930 H41

Particularly valuable on account of its fulness, and on account of the little information on the subject to be found elsewhere.

Historical researches into the politics, intercourse and trade of the principal nations of antiquity. 2v. 1854..930 H41h v.1. Asiatic nations: Persians, Phœnicians, Babylonians.

v.2. Asiatic nations: Scythians, Indians.—Appendix: On the cuneiform character and particularly the inscriptions at Persepolis, by G. F. Grotefend.

"The great ability of the author, his skill as a writer, and his thorough researches into the manners and customs of antiquity united with the importance of the subject in giving the history great value. Though great advances in the study of antiquity have been made since Heeren wrote, the importance of these volumes is still considerable." C. K. Adams, 1889.

Manual of ancient history, particularly with regard to the constitutions, the commerce and the colonies of the states of antiquity; with a biographical sketch of the author. 1854.....930 H41m

"Heeren's great merit as an historian was that he regarded the states of antiquity from an altogether fresh point of view. He examined their economic relations, their constitutions, their financial systems, and was thus enabled to throw quite a new light on the development of the old worlds." Encyclopædia Britannica.

Ranke, Leopold von.

Universal history; the oldest historical group of nations and the Greeks; ed. by G. W. Prothero. 1885.....930 R19 v.4. The twentieth to the twenty-sixth dynasties.

v.5. Indices.

Breasted, James Henry.
History of Egypt, from the earliest times to the Persian conquest. 1905.....932 B71
Full of enthusiasm for the subject to which he has devoted his life, he has contrived to look upon Egyptian history not as a succession of widely scattered incidents, but as a regularly evolving whole; and a smooth and easy, if not inspired, style enables him in most cases to convey this impression to his readers. His book is the best so far at the disposal of the general reader. Condensed from Athenæum, 1906.

Brugsch, Heinrich, bey.
True story of the exodus of Israel, with a brief view of the history of monumental Egypt; ed. with an introduction and notes by F. H. Underwood. 1880.....932 B83t
Most of the book is given to a compilation of such portions of Brugsch's "Egypt under the pharaohs" as concern more nearly the biblical narrative, only the last chapter containing the story of the exodus. Treats of the religion, art, social life and moral conditions.

Budge, Ernest Alfred Thompson Wallis.

Harrison, Jane Ellen.
Primitive Athens as described by Thucydides. 1906....913.38 H29p
"Bibliography," p.160–163.
Miss Harrison takes as her text the account given by Thucydides of the ancient city. Her book embodies the latest views of Dr Dörpfeld, who has been for 20 years the highest authority on Athenian topography, Greek architecture, and the art of archæological excavation. Condensed from Nation, 1906.

Hill, George Francis.
Illustrations of school classics. 1903.....r913.38 H55
"Bibliography," p.463–479.
The illustrations described in this book have, with a few exceptions, already appeared in the various volumes of "Elementary classics" published by Macmillan. They are here collected, classified, and briefly described. They cover a fairly wide field in classical archæology.

Keller, Albert Galloway.
Homeric society; a sociological study of the Iliad and Odyssey. 1902.....913.38 K16
Contents: Ethnic environment.—Industrial organisation.—Religious ideas and usages.—Property.—Marriage and the family.—Government, classes, justice, etc.
"References," p.315.
"A thorough piece of work which will be consulted...especially by students of social science and economics. It is an elaborate and technical analysis of the evidence afforded by the poems as to the society of the Homeric age...The author's plan is...to draw his evidence direct from the poems, and, as far as possible, from no other source." Nation, 1902.

Europe

940 History

Bourne, Henry Eldridge.

History of mediæval and modern Europe. 1905.....940 B65

References at the end of each chapter.

"General list of books," p.477–483.

Intended for use as a text-book. Narrates the history of the more important countries together in chronological order instead of giving to each a separate treatment.

Fling, Fred Morrow, & Caldwell, H. W.
Studies in European and American history; an introduction to the source study method in history. 1897.....940 F64
Reprinted from "North-western journal of education."
Suggestions to teachers concerning the use of the source study method of teaching history. For grammar and high school grades.

MacKinnon, James.
History of modern liberty. v.1–2. 1906.....940 M18
v.1. Introduction: Origins; The middle ages.
v.2. The age of the reformation.
"Sources" at the end of each chapter.
In the first two volumes the author reviews the conditions of Europe from the time of the fall of the Western empire to the close of the 16th century. Stress is laid on the constant movements of revolt that form so large a part of the history of the Caucasian race. It approaches the familiar problems of the history of the middle ages and renaissance with vigor, sanity and independence. Condensed from Nation, 1906.

Robinson, James Harvey.
Introduction to the history of western Europe. 1903.....940 R55
List of books, p.689–690.
One-volume history, in which selection, emphasis and effective presentation are the keynotes. Not too condensed to be clear and interesting, it gives an especially good idea of the unity and continuity of western European history from the 4th to the 20th century. Well supplied with maps and bibliographies. It can be recommended to beginners and schools. Compiled from Nation, 1903.
Readings in European history; a collection of extracts from the sources, chosen with the purpose of illustrating the progress of culture in western Europe since the German invasions. 2v. 1904–06.....940 R55r v.1. From the breaking up of the Roman empire to the Protestant revolt.
v.2. From the opening of the Protestant revolt to the present day.
Bibliography at the end of each chapter.

Thierry, Augustin.
Historical essays published under the title of "Dix ans d'études historiques," and Narratives of the Merovingian era; or, Scenes of the sixth century, with an autobiographical preface. 1845.....940 T36
"Dix ans d'études" is a collection of essays on French and English history. "Narratives of the Merovingian era" gives a capital picture of conditions in the sixth century, and all these "Historical essays" unite picturesque description and romantic narrative with perfect fidelity to the sober facts of history.

West, Willis Mason.
Modern history; Europe from Charlemagne to the present time [1903]. 1903. (Allyn and Bacon's series of school histories.) 940 W56
"Classified bibliography," p.617–626.
Exceptionally full for recent history, nearly as much space being allotted to the last 100 years as to the preceding 1,000.

Mediæval Europe

Bibliographies at the beginning of each chapter.
"An excellent text-book on the history of the Middle Ages...adapted to the use of higher schools...The text keeps in close touch throughout with original sources." Nation, 1902.

Freeman, Edward Augustus.

Western Europe in the eighth century & onward; an aftermath. 1904.....940.1 F91w

Title is rather a misnomer, since the book treats neither the whole of western Europe, nor the 8th century exclusively. Two-thirds of it is devoted to the change of dynasty among the Franks during that century and to the reigns of Pippin and Charles Martel. The decline and fall of Teutonic sovereignty at Laon is the subject of the later chapters.

Western Europe in the fifth century; an aftermath. 1904..940.1 F91

Contents: The invasion of Gaul.—A tyrant of the West.—Constantine emperor and Maximus tyrant.—The barbarian invaders.—West-Goths and Burgundians.—Wallia and the settlement of Aquitaine.—Theodoric the West-Goth and Aetius.—Chlodowig the Frank.—Aetius and Boniface.—The second Carausius.

Harding, Samuel Bannister.

Henderson, Ernest Flagg, ed.

Select historical documents of the middle ages. 1903. (Bohn's antiquarian library.).....940.1 H44

Contents: England.—The empire.—The church.—Church and state.

The documents chosen, which are given in translation, cover a period of 900 years in European history, from 496 to 1386. Law, religion, politics and general civilization are among the topics illustrated.

Munro, Dana Carleton, & Whitcomb, Merrick.

Middle ages and modern Europe. 1904.....940.1 M96

"Bibliography," p.613-614.

Sheppard, John George.

Fall of Rome and the rise of the new nationalities; a series of lectures on the connection between ancient and modern history. 1861.....940.2 S54

"One of the best manuals for the use of a student of the Middle Ages. Perhaps its most striking characteristic is in its large dependence on original authorities...It also has the merit of bringing out with great clearness the way in which the new nationalities were evolved out of the confusion resulting from the invasions and the breaking-up of the old empire. The author's religious point of view is the opposite of Gibbon's." Adams's Manual of historical literature.

Crusades

[Bohn, Henry George, ed.]

Chronicles of the crusades; contemporary narratives. 1903. (Bohn's antiquarian library.).....940.4 B59

Contents: Chronicle of Richard of Devizes concerning the deeds of King Richard the First, king of England.—Geoffrey de Vinsauf's chronicle of Richard the First's crusade.—Lord de Joinville's Memoirs of Louis IX, king of France, commonly called Saint Louis.—APPENDIX: Extracts from an Arabian ms., by Al Makrisi, containing the Saracenic account of the crusade under St. Louis.

Contents: Introduction.—Inaugural lecture on the study of history.—Beginning of the modern state.—The New World.—The renaissance.—Luther.—The counter-reformation.—Calvin and Henry VIII.—Philip II, Mary Stuart and Elizabeth.—The Huguenots and the League.—Henry the Fourth and Richelieu.—The Thirty years' war.—The Puritan revolution.—The rise of the Whigs.—The English revolution.—Lewis XIV.—The war of the Spanish succession.—The Hanoverian settlement.—Peter the Great and the rise of Prussia.—Frederic the Great.—The American revolution.—Appendix 1: Letter to contributors to the Cambridge modern history. — Appendix 2: Notes to Inaugural lecture.

Delivered at Cambridge University, where the author was regius professor of modern history, 1895–1901.

"Great lectures as they are, they are still lectures only—knowledge cut up into sections to last forty-five minutes, and to cover a given amount of ground...His message to the world was...the idea of placing history in a more intimate relation with the moral sciences than has ever been done before...History was to him a great code of ethical principles and examples." Athenæum, 1906.

Heeren, Arnold Hermann Ludwig.

Manual of the history of the political system of Europe and its colonies, from its formation at the close of the fifteenth century, to its re-establishment upon the fall of Napoleon. 1846.....940.5 H41

"Written in the midst of the turbulence occasioned in Westphalia by the Napoleonic wars...Its great importance has not been essentially diminished by any subsequent publication...For the study of Europe since the Reformation these volumes are still among the most valuable in our language." C. K. Adams, 1889.

Lindsey, J. S. comp.

Age of the reformation

Raumer, Friedrich Ludwig Georg von.

History of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, illustrated by original documents; tr. fr. the German. 2v. 1835.....940.7 R22

To those already somewhat familiar with the history of this period, the volumes are of much interest and value. They consist of extracts from and abbreviated accounts of important state papers. The papers examined are original documents written by envoys and others, and they abound in curious comments on the events that happened under the writers' observation. Condensed from Adams's Manual of historical literature.

Stubbs, William, bp.

Lectures on European history; ed. by Arthur Hassall. 1904.....940.7 S93

Contents: The emperor Charles V.—The political history of Europe from the resignation of Charles V.—The political history of Europe during the Thirty years' war.—Survey of the reigns of Louis XIII and Philip IV.—The Peace of Westphalia.—Pedigrees.

These lectures deal with the development of continental Europe during the period from Charles V to the Peace of Westphalia.

914 Description and travel

Belloc, Hilaire.

Path to Rome. 1902 .....914 B417

The writer set out from Toul, in Lorraine, on a walking tour to Rome, crossing Switzerland and the Alps, and then turning down into Italy.

"To Mr. Belloc's credit...be it said that he dares to be himself. He is ...in a state of perpetual high spirits...And as his head is stocked with good matter, and as his eye is ever alert, his book is like a jolly day in the country, with a companion who has tossed care to the winds, and is prepared to give you the best of himself and his moods." Academy, 1902.

Coryat, Thomas.

Crudities, hastily gobled up in five moneths travells in France, Savoy, Italy, Rhetia, commonly called the Grisons country, Helvetia alias Switzerland, some parts of high Germany and the Netherlands; newly digested in the hungry aire of Odcombe in the county of Somerset and now dispersed to the nourishment of the travelling members of this kingdome. 2v. 1905.....r914 C83

Reprint of original edition of 1611.

This was the first, and for some time remained the only, handbook of continental travel. Its grotesque collection of commendatory verses contributed by distinguished litterati gave the book a not wholly deserved character as a piece of buffoonery, but Coryat was a keen observer and his narrative supplies a faithful and instructive account of the chief cities of Europe in the 17th century. Condensed from Dictionary of national biography.

Cox, Samuel Sullivan.

Search for winter sunbeams in the Riviera, Corsica, Algiers and Spain. 1870.....914 C85

"Abounds in descriptions—here and there plain, instructive, and full, more often humorous, racy, and seasoned with puns—of things seen and seeable in the interesting and so widely diversified countries washed by the Western Mediterranean...Mr. Cox is a keen and diligent observer." Nation, 1870.

"Account of a very original voyage. The author is an artist, who conceived the idea of building a boat in the Toggenburg, twenty miles from the Lake of Zurich or other navigable water, of having it transported overland to the lake, and of sailing, or drifting, in it down the Limmat and the Rhine, his objective point being Teddington, on the Thames." Nation, 1905.

Moryson (1566–1617?) was an English traveler.

"Moryson is a sober and truthful writer, without imagination or much literary skill. He delights in statistics respecting the mileage of his daily journeys and the varieties in the values of the coins he encountered. His descriptions of the inns in which he lodged, of the costume and the food of the countries visited, render his work invaluable to the social historian." Sidney Lee.

History of the struggle over the land question in Ireland.

Dicey, Albert Venn.

England's case against home rule. 1887 ..... 941.5 D54e

Author believes that "any scheme for Home Rule in Ireland involves dangerous if not fatal innovations on the Constitution of Great Britain."

Why England maintains the union; a popular rendering of "England's case against home rule," prepared by C. E. S. 1887 ..... 941.5 D54

"A rendering rather than an abridgment of the work of which it contains the substance. It reproduces the leading ideas of my argument against Home Rule. It, however, curtails many subsidiary considerations and omits much reasoning of a purely legal character." Preface.

Falkiner, Cæsar Litton.

Studies in Irish history and biography, mainly of the 18th century. 1902 ..... 941.5 F19

Contents: The Grattan parliament and Ulster. — The earl-bishop of Derry.—Lord Clare.—Castlereagh and Ireland in 1798.—Plunket and Roman Catholic emancipation.—Sir Boyle Roche.—Thomas Steele.—The French invasion of Ireland in 1798.

"Authorities," p.343-350.

Irish history and the Irish question. 1905.....941.5 S64i

"Account of the Irish land code," by H. J. McCann, p.227–270.

"History of Ireland from the earliest times, compressed into less than 200 pages...A brilliant and lucid recital of well-known facts...The story is throughout strongly tinged with Mr. Smith's own views, which are markedly anti-Irish and anti-Catholic." Nation, 1906.

[Stafford, Thomas.]

Pacata Hibernia; or, A history of the wars in Ireland during the reign of Queen Elizabeth, especially within the province of Munster under the government of Sir George Carew, and compiled by his direction and appointment; ed. with an introduction and notes by Standish O'Grady. 2v. 1896.....941.5 S77

Stafford (fl. 1633), the reputed author, is conjectured to have been the son of Sir George Carew and to have served under him as captain in the wars in Ireland during Elizabeth's reign. The book is an impartial if not very interesting account of the struggle it records. Condensed from Dictionary of national biography.

Sullivan, William Kirby, and others.

Two centuries of Irish history, 1691–1870, with introduction by James Bryce. 1888.....941.5 S95

Descriptions of the castles and of their historical associations. Fully illustrated.

Bayne, Samuel Gamble.

On an Irish jaunting-car through Donegal and Connemara. 1902.....914.15 B33

"Traversed some of the most interesting and least-visited country in Ireland. The full-page photographs which he collected en route are the most attractive feature of the book, which has no pretension to style. It is, in fact, merely a series of notes on car-drives, hotels and famous points of scenery, written in a genial spirit as a record of a successful holiday." Nation, 1903.

England—Agriculture and technical instruction for Ireland, Department of.

Ireland, industrial and agricultural. 1902.....qr914.15 E64

Comprehensive account of Ireland's economic resources. Gives an analysis of the economic distribution of the population, an account of the climate, flora and fauna, of agricultural and technical education and art instruction, of banking facilities and means of communication. Special articles deal with all the industries. Originally issued as an official handbook in connection with the department's exhibit at the Glasgow international exhibition of 1901.

Bibliography at the end of each chapter.

Norman period

1066—1154

Bateson, Mary.
Mediæval England; English feudal society from the Norman conquest to the middle of the fourteenth century. 1904. (Story of the nations.) 942.02 B31
Places special emphasis on the social history of the period.

Plantagenet period

1154—1399

Baker, Geoffrey.
Galfridi le Baker de Swinbroke, chronicon Angliæ temporibus Edwardi II et Edwardi III; ed. by J. A. Giles. 1847. (Caxton Society. Publications.) r942.03 B17
"The period of our history which it embraces takes in the great battles of Bannockburn, Cressy, and Poitiers and the accounts which are here contained of these celebrated engagements are of the greatest possible interest, as they are evidently of the greatest authenticity, and are undoubtedly derived from the oral testimony of an eye-witness. Preface.

Frazer, N. L.
English history illustrated from original sources; 1307–1399. 2 pts. in 1v. 1901. (English history illustrated from original sources.) 942.03 F89

Bibliographies, pt.1, p.98–105; pt.2, p.116–123.

Niger, Ralph.
Radulfi Nigri chronica; the chronicles of Ralph Niger, ed. by Robert Anstruther. 1851. (Caxton Society. Publications.) r942.03 N33
Niger (fl. 1170) was an English historian and theologian. Neither of his two chronicles contains much notice of English affairs, and what there is, is borrowed from Geoffrey of Monmouth, William of Malmesbury, and Henry of Huntingdon. The second chronicle, however, is of interest for the savage invective against Henry II. Condensed from Dictionary of national biography.

Norgate, Kate.
John Lackland. 1902 ..... 942.03 N43j
"In this excellent monograph on the worst of English kings, Miss Norgate follows Green's defence of John's ability. It is not a whitewashing; but it refutes the common notion of his incapacity, sloth, and cowardice." Academy, 1902.

Ramsay, Sir James Henry.
Angevin empire; or, The three reigns of Henry II, Richard I and John (A. D. 1154–1216). 1903 ..... 942.03 R18
List of authorities, p.516–524.
Fills a considerable portion of the interval between his "Foundations of England" and his "Lancaster and York."

Tout, Thomas Frederick, & Johnstone, Hilda, ed.
State trials of the reign of Edward the First, 1289–1293. 1906. (Camden Society. Publications, 3d ser. v.9.) 942.03 T65
Consists of extracts in Latin from the records of the more important cases, with references to the records in which the others may be found.

Lancaster and York
1400—1485

Durham, F. H.
English history illustrated from original sources; 1399–1485. 2pts. in 1v. 1902. (English history illustrated from original sources.) 942.04 D94
Bibliographies, pt.1, p.128–135; pt.2, p.119–126.
Extracts from contemporary authorities on the history of this period. Designed for use as a text-book.

Giles, John Allen, ed.
La revolte du conte de Warwick contre le roi Edward IV; to which is added a French letter concerning Lady Jane Gray and Queen Mary. 1849. (Caxton Society. Publications.) r942.04 G39 Contains also: Chronicle du siège d'Orléans et de l'établissement de la fête du 8 mai 1429.

Vergil, Polydore.
Three books of Polydore Vergil's English history, comprising the reigns of Henry VI, Edward IV and Richard III; from an early translation preserved among the mss. of the old Royal Library in the British Museum; ed. by Sir Henry Ellis. 1844. (Camden Society. Publications, v.29.) 942.04 V27

Tudor. Elizabethan age
1485—1603

Burke, S. Hubert.
Historical portraits of the Tudor dynasty and the reformation period. 4v. 1880–83. .....942.05 B91
"The chief advantage possessed by the book consists in this—that quotations of a telling kind are brought together from authors whom nobody now reads except for the purpose of writing history." Academy, 1880.

Corbett, Julian Stafford.
Drake and the Tudor navy, with a history of the rise of England as a maritime power. 2v. 1898.....942.05 C81d
A sequel is published with the title "Sucessors of Drake."
Illustrated.
"Written in the light of the most recent [1902] researches in the English and foreign archives, and is especially useful to the student for its clear explanation of contemporary naval and marine terminology. The voyage of circumnavigation is fully treated." Larned's Literature of American history.

Hopkins, Samuel, 1807–87.
The Puritans; or, The church, court and Parliament of England during the reigns of Edward VI and Queen Elizabeth. 3v. 1860–61.....942.05 H78
Bibliography, v.1, p.5–8.

Stuart. Commonwealth
1603—1714

Clarke, Sir William, 1623–66.
Clarke papers; selections; ed. by C. H. Firth. 4v. 1891–1901. (Camden Society. Publications, n. s. v.49, 54, [61]–62.) 942.06 C53
Clarke was secretary to the Council of the Army, 1647–49, and to General Monck, 1651–60. His letters and papers throw valuable light on English history from 1647 to 1659.

Corbett, Julian Stafford.
England in the Mediterranean; a study of the rise and influence of British power within the straits, 1603–1713. 2v. 1904.....942.06 C81
"A brilliant and original book, based on wide researches, but most valuable not so much on account of the new facts it contains, although there are many, as on account of its explanation of well-known ones. Mr. Corbett undertakes to be an interpreter even more than a narrator of events." C. H. Firth, in English historical review, 1904.

Fea, Allan.
Flight of the king; being a full, true and particular account of the miraculous escape of his most sacred majesty King Charles II, after the battle of Worcester. 1897..942.06 F31

McCarthy, Justin.
Reign of Queen Anne. 2v. 1902 .....942.06 M12
"Mr. McCarthy...is superficial in the strictest and most unblamable meaning of the term; he does not desire, nor has he accomplished, more than an agreeable scratching of an agreeable surface...His facts and dates are accurately given, he accepts traditional portraits and reproduces them in the right place and in a wholly faithful manner. But... he has not told us a single thing...that could not be found in ten minutes in a dozen other books." Saturday review, 1902.

Trevelyan, George Macaulay.
England under the Stuarts. 1904.....942.06 T73
"Bibliography," p.527–534.
Combines in a remarkable manner accuracy of research and a philosophic understanding of principles and movements with a power of graphic narrative. His characters are not casual notes to the text, but real personalities, clearly realized and firmly drawn. He has taken a century of English history, and, without overloading his book with detail, has contrived to give us the period in a series of dramatic pictures. Condensed from Spectator, 1904.

Hanoverian period

1714—1837

Adams, Ephraim Douglass.
Influence of Grenville on Pitt's foreign policy, 1787–1798. 1904. (Carnegie Institution of Washington. Publication no.13.).....qr942.07 A21
"Bibliography," p.75–79.
Maintains that Grenville played an important part in formulating English foreign policy during the French revolution.

Martineau, Harriet.
History of England during the thirty years' peace, 1816–1846. 2v. 1849. .....q942.07 M43
v.1. 1815–1830.
v.2. 1830–1846.
"It is a remarkable performance...and written with real power. It generally represents the views of the 'philosophical radicals.'" Dictionary of national biography.

Russell, John, earl.
Recollections and suggestions, 1813–1873. 1875.....942.07 R91
Russell was for many years leader of the Liberal party in England and also prime minister. The volume consists of fragmentary reminiscences of the political events of his time.

Torrens, William Torrens McCullagh.
History of cabinets from the union with Scotland to the acquisition of Canada and Bengal. 2v. 1894.....942.07 T63
The author's intention was evidently to trace throughout the reigns of George I and George II the development of the Cabinet council, but his book is, in fact, a gossiping contribution to the political history of England between 1714 and 1760, with an introductory chapter about the previous quarter of a century. Condensed from Athenæum, 1894.

Nineteenth century. Victorian age

1837—1901

Ashton, John.
Gossip in the first decade of Victoria's reign. 1903.....942.08 A82
Touches on some minor happenings in English history, on social life, etc., from 1837 to 1847.

Beaconsfield, Benjamin Disraeli, earl of.
Lord George Bentinck; a political biography. 1852.....942.08 B34
Bentinck (1802–48) was an English politician and sportsman. He was leader of the protectionist opposition to Sir Robert Peel (1846–47).

Hodder, Edwin.
Life of a century, 1800 to 1900. 1901.....942.08 H66
"Popular compilation, occupied mainly with the history and development of the British Empire during the period which it covers...in the main, accurate, though not quite free from political partisanship." Nation, 1902.

Paul, Herbert Woodfield.
History of modern England [1846–95]. 5v. 1904–06.....942.08 P31
Covers the period between the resignation of Sir Robert Peel and the retirement of Mr Gladstone. It is a lucid and interesting narrative, based upon wide and intimate knowledge.

Walpole, Sir Spencer.
History of England from the conclusion of the great war in 1815 [to 1861]. 6v. 1890–1902.....942.08 W18
"Result of a careful study into the social conditions of the English people ...Though it has not the same elements of popularity which have insured the great success of McCarthy's history of the same period, its merits are of a more solid quality, and its favor with historical readers is likely to be more permanent. It is careful and accurate in its statements, tolerant in its judgments...and, in the main, is free from party prejudice." Adams's Manual of historical literature.
History of twenty-five years. v.1–2. 1904.....942.08 W18h
v.1. 1856–65.
v.2. 1865–70.
"Though the account of general European politics which these two volumes present will to most readers be the part most fresh and attractive, the domestic affairs of England are carefully and intelligently described and discussed." Nation, 1904.

Antiquities

Archæologia; or, Miscellaneous tracts relating to antiquity; published by the Society of Antiquaries of London. v.1–date. 1770–date.....qr913.42 A66
———Index, v.1–50. 1889.

Green, John Richard, & Green, Mrs A. S. A. (Stopford).

Short geography of the British Islands. 1896.....914.2 G82s

Contents: England.—Wales.—Scotland.—Ireland.

Valuable little book, more living and attractive in method of treatment than the ordinary geography. It shows the relations of the British island-group to the European continent, the structure of the country and the elements upon which national life has moulded itself.

Haggard, Henry Rider.

Rural England; an account of agricultural and social researches carried out in 1901 & 1902. 2v. 1902.....914.2 H14

"The land rapidly going out of cultivation, the landlord impoverished or on the verge of ruin, the tenant farmer either insolvent or just holding his own, and the labourer abandoning the country for the town—these are the melancholy features which stand out in the author's account of his systematic investigation into the condition of agricultural England during the years 1901 and 1902...The work embraces twenty-seven English counties, with the addition of Jersey and Guernsey, each of which the author has visited and closely inspected, interviewing all sorts and conditions of persons, from landowner to labourer...Such evidence...supplemented by Mr. Haggard's own comments as a practical farmer of wide experience at home and abroad, forms a record the value of which cannot easily be overrated." Contemporary review, 1903.

Hall, Hubert.

Society in the Elizabethan age. 1901.....914.2 H17

Contents: In the country: The landlord [William Darrell]; The steward; The tenant.—In town: The burgess [George Stoddard]; The merchant [Thomas Gresham]; The host.—At the court: The courtier [William Darrell]; The churchman, [Richard Cox, bishop of Ely]; The official; The lawyer [Sir John Popham].—Appendix: Notes and references to chapters 1–10.—The Darrell papers.

Author's method is to study Elizabethan society as typified by representative persons of various classes,—the landlord, steward, merchant, churchman, etc. In addition to its value as a social and economic study, the book is a contribution to Elizabethan biography.

Harper, Charles George.

Holyhead road; the mail-coach road to Dublin. 2v. 1902...914.2 H28h

v.1. London to Birmingham.
v.2. Birmingham to Holyhead.

Description of the scenes and associations of this famous old coaching road between London and Holyhead, Wales. It coincides for a part of its length with the ancient Watling street of the Romans.

The Ingoldsby country; literary land marks of the "Ingoldsby legends." 1904.....914.2 H28i

Contents: Barham, the author of the "Ingoldsby legends."—Canterbury.—The cathedral; The murder of Becket.—Tappington hall.—Romney marsh.—Old and new Romney and Dymchurch.—Hythe and Folkestone.—From Hythe to Ashford.—The back of beyond.—The coastwise road; Folkestone to Dover and Sandwich.—Sandwich to the Ville of Sarre.—Sarre and Reculver to Canterbury.—The Isle of Sheppey.—Some outlying Ingoldsby landmarks.

Sketches the landmarks of Kent, England, and identifies the villages, churches and manors in any way connected with the "Ingoldsby legends" or their author.

"Mr. Harper's book is the best guide to Kent as a whole, that we have seen." Nation, 1904.

Norwich road; an East Anglian highway. 1901 .....914.2 H28n

The Norwich road, connecting London with Norwich, is one of the old Roman roads. In its length of 112 miles, it passes many historic sites and through districts famed for beauty. Mr Harper comments on the sights and associations of the road, — coaching, inns, country-houses, ancient battlefields, etc.

Home, Gordon Cochrane.

What to see in England; a guide to places of historic interest, natural beauty or literary association. 1903..914.2 H75

London is the starting-point of all the proposed expeditions, beginning with a half-hour's run to Harrow, and lengthening by degrees to trips to the Border. A sketch map shows the 29 more important railway stations from which one may leave the city. Gives useful information about distances, railway fares and points of departure.

Historical, personal and literary associations and enthusiastic appreciation of natural beauties. Many good illustrations.

Mead, Mrs Lucia True (Ames).
Milton's England. 1903.....914.2 M55
"About a third of the book is devoted solely to Milton and the localities, both in and out of London, with which he is associated. The remaining chapters deal with other parts of the Metropolis, such as the Tower, Charterhouse, Ely Place, Whitehall, Lambeth Palace, and... Westminster Abbey." Athenæum, 1903.

Mukasa, Ham.
Uganda's katikiro [Apolo Kagwa] in England, being the official account of his visit to the coronation of Edward VII; tr. and ed. by Ernest Millar. 1904.....914.2 M95
The katikiro, or prime minister, of Uganda was sent to England in 1902 with his secretary, Ham Mukasa, to represent his country at the coronation of King Edward VII. On their return Ham Mukasa wrote an account of what they saw and did in England and what they thought of the English people. The book has a unique interest as showing how one born in the heart of savage Africa was affected by the wonders of civilization.

Palmer, William Thomas.
English lakes; painted by A. H. Cooper, described by W. T. Palmer. 1905.....914.2 P19e
Illustrated in color.

Hawkins]. — The South African war.—The yeoman's daughter.—An English Madame Roland [Eliza Fletcher].—An American in England [George Ticknor].

Timbs, John.

Nooks and corners of English life, past and present. 1867.....914.2 T47n

Sketches illustrative of English manners and customs chiefly during the middle ages.

Tompkins, Herbert Winckworth.

Highways and byways in Hertfordshire. 1902.....914.2 T59

A excellent literary supplement to Baedeker. Touches lightly on village and church architecture, legendary lore, churchyard epitaphs and other matters of antiquarian interest. The name of Charles Lamb is closely associated with this English county.

Tooley, Mrs Sarah A.

Royal palaces and their memories. 1902.....q914.2 T62

Contents: Windsor castle.—St. James's palace.—Hampton Court palace. —Kensington palace.—Buckingham palace.

"Authorities and works consulted," p.327–330.

An account of the famous people and great events connected with the palaces, with many entertaining anecdotes and incidents, rather than an architectural or antiquarian history.

Tozier, Josephine.

Among English inns; the story of a pilgrimage to characteristic spots of rural England. 1904. (Little pilgrimages series.).....914.2 T67

Descriptive guide to attractive haunts of rural England. Selborne, Chagford, Clovelly, Boston and Norwich are among the places visited.

Walters, John Cuming.

In Tennyson land; being a brief account of the home and early surroundings of the poet laureate and an attempt to identify the scenes and trace the influences of Lincolnshire in his works. 1890.....914.2 W19

Ramble about Somersby and its neighborhood, with illustrations of Tennyson's poetical landscape as it comes out in his works. There is little personal matter about the poet.

Ward, Henry Snowden, & Ward, Mrs C. W. (Barnes).

Real Dickens land, with an outline of Dickens's life. 1904.....q914.2 W21r

Identifies and describes the various localities and buildings in England which form the scenes of Dickens's novels.

Willis, Nathaniel Parker.
Famous persons and places. 1854.....914.2 W75
Notes of travel in England, with a few biographical sketches.

Windle, Bertram Coghill Alan.
The Malvern country. 1901.....914.2 W78
Also contains chapters on Worcester, Hereford and Tewkesbury abbey. For the tourist of literary and artistic tastes. It abounds in information and quotations from the old authors. Particularly entertaining is the glimpse of old Malvern when the water-cure was in its prime.
The Wessex of Thomas Hardy. 1902 .....914.2 W78w
With Dorchester as a starting point, Mr Windle tracks the roads, villages, inns and manor-houses that Mr Hardy has made famous in his stories of Wessex. The volume is at the same time a useful guide-book and an attractive commentary on Hardy's novels. Well illustrated.

Winter, William.
English rambles, and other fugitive pieces in prose and verse. 1884.....914.2 W79e
Other pieces: In memory of Longfellow.—Wanderers; [poems].

Wright, Thomas, 1810–77.

Memories of the persons buried or commemorated in Westminster abbey.

Wheatley, Henry Benjamin.
The story of London. 1904. (Mediæval towns.).....942.1 W59
"No vague if highly coloured generalities, but a sound reconstruction of the past fortified by exact references...in all that concerns old buildings Mr. Wheatley speaks of course with ample authority. The lightness of his style enables him further to present much learning in a palatable form." Athenæum, 1904.
Maps and illustrations.

Description

Amicis, Edmondo de.
Ricordi di Londra; seguiti da Una visita ai quartieri poveri di Londra, di L. Simonin. 1901.....914.21 A51

Ashton, John.
The Fleet; its river, prison and marriages. 1888.....914.21 A82
"An entertaining collection of antiquarian material relating to old London." Nation, 1888.

Barton, Rose.
Familiar London; painted by Rose Barton. 1904.....914.21 B28
Colored illustrations, with descriptions, picturing London in all seasons and weathers.

Beavan, Arthur Henry.
Imperial London; with illustrations by Hanslip Fletcher. 1901.....914.21 B35 Too bulky for a tourist's manual, yet the purposes it will serve are mainly those of a guide-book. Deals with all the city's phases—social, official, ecclesiastical, legal, commercial, literary, theatrical, and even gastronomic.

Besant, Sir Walter.

London in the 18th century. 1902.....qr914.21 B461

Contents: Historical notes.—The city and the streets.—Church and chapel.—Government and trade of the city.—Manners and customs.—Society and amusements.—Crime, police, justice, debtors' prisons.

Contains map of London in 1741–45, by John Rocque.

Author's enthusiasm for London was so great that he thought every street should be traversed and every house noted. He was soaked in the lore of the city. The chief value of his book lies in the skill with which he seized upon the spirit of London life in the 18th century. Adapted from the Athenæum, 1903.

London in the time of the Stuarts. 1903.....qr914.21 B46

Contents: Stuart sovereigns.—Religion, government and trade.—The great plague and fire.—Manners and customs.

Another instalment of the author's great work upon London which was left unfinished at his death. Though it gives the impression of a fragment rather than a completed work, it furnishes a record of 17th century London, such as can be found nowhere else. Ogilby and Morgan's map of London, 1677, with a key, is included.

London in the time of the Tudors. 1904.....q914.21 B46lo

Contents: Tudor sovereigns. — Religion.— Elizabethan London. — Government and trade of the city.—Social life.

Gives much information concerning topography. popular life, social usages, trades, costumes, the poor, theatres, etc. not included in any other one work, but is not regarded as serious history. Excellent illustrations, many of them from contemporary prints.

Birch, George Henry.

London on Thames in bygone days. 1903. (Portfolio monographs.).....qr914.21 B48

"It is the riverside aspect of London life which finds place in these pages...The illustrations have been taken from the collection of the late Mr. J. E. Gardner, from the British Museum, and from the Soane Museum. There are several in colour." Athenæum, 1904.

Cook, Mrs Emily Constance.

Highways and byways in London. 1903.....914.21 C77

"A pleasant, chatty book of gossip about London...A large portion of the book is made up of extracts, for the most part happily selected, considerable stress being laid upon the writings of Dickens and Thackeray." Athenæum, 1903.

Gordon, Charles.

Old time Aldwych, Kingsway and neighbourhood. [1904.] 914.21 G65

Account of the new London street from Holborn to the Strand and of the historical associations of its neighborhood.

[Grant, James.]

The great metropolis [London]. 2v. 1837.....r914.21 G78

Contents: London as it is.—Historical stories.—The sights of London.

Norman, Philip.

London, vanished & vanishing; painted & described. [1905.].....914.21 N44

The 75 pictures here reproduced in color, form a special collection in the South Kensington Museum. 60 of them represent buildings which have already disappeared. Mr Norman is both artist and antiquary, and the pictures are accompanied by a chatty text.

Rideing, William Henry.

Thackeray's London; his haunts and the scenes of his novels. 1885.....914.21 R43

Sheppard, Edgar.

Old royal palace of Whitehall. 1902.....914.21 S54

"Authorities to which reference has been made in the compilation of this work," p.390–394.

"Dr. Sheppard practically exhausts his subject. The subsidiary houses of the palace and their residents, deaths and marriages within the precincts, ceremonies, masques, and art-treasures, all are dealt with in turn...By its completeness and by its beautiful illustrations, Dr. Sheppard's work becomes a valuable addition to the specific literature of London." Academy, 1902.

Singleton, Esther, ed.

London, as seen and described by famous writers. 1902..914.21 S61

Contents: Westminster bridge, by Wordsworth.—Greatness of London, by G. W. Steevens.—Greatness of London, by A. J. C. Hare.—Historical associations, by Dickens.—London a nation, by P. G. The historical and legendary records of the abbey and of the persons whose monuments it contains form the groundwork of the narrative. Illustrated in color.

Smith, John Thomas.

Cries of London; exhibiting several itinerant traders of antient and modern times. 1839.....qr914.21 S65

Descriptions, with illustrations engraved by the author, of some old-time London street-venders.

Streets of London, with anecdotes of their more celebrated residents; ed. by Charles Mackay. 1849.....914.21 S65

Stephenson, Henry Thew.

Shakespeare's London. 1905.....914.21 S83

Contents: The Elizabethans.—The early growth of the city.—A general view of London.—Old St. Paul's.—The water front.—The Tower of London.—The main highway.—North of Cheapside.—Military companies.— Holborn and Smithfield.— The Strand.— Southwark.— The theatres.—The taverns and tavern life.

Excellent summary, of great value to lovers of the old city and to students of the Elizabethan period. The chapters on the water front and military companies show in especial degree research into some of the less-known phases of London life at this time. The illustrations are particularly well chosen, many of them from prints or views not accessible to the general reader. Condensed from Nation, 1905.

Thornbury, George Walter.

Haunted London. 1865.....914.21 T39

Its object is to preserve the memory of places which have been trodden or dwelt in by famous people of by-gone periods. Interesting illustrations of localities that no longer exist. Condensed from Athenæum, 1865.

Wales

Bradley, Arthur Granville.
Highways and byways in south Wales. 1903.....914.29 B68
"Mr. Bradley...is a rare gossip, with the keenest scent for a village anecdote or a family tradition. This, in combination with his gift of describing a bit of scenery in a few strong, concise sentences, give the present volume a special claim to attention. It is entirely outside the ruck of ordinary guide-book literature." Outlook (Eng.), 1903.
In the march and borderland of Wales. 1905.....914.29 B68i
History, archæology and local traditions of those counties which mark or "march" the borders of Wales. The field covered includes Herefordshire, portions of Monmouthshire, Shropshire, Montgomeryshire and Glamorganshire.

Interesting combination of history, antiquities, legendary lore and modern anecdote. Useful as a reference book, supplementary to the guide-book.
Book of south Wales. 1905.....914.29 G73b
"Contains much interesting and amusing but often inaccurate and occasionally irrelevant information." Saturday review, 1905.

Thomas, Edward.
Beautiful Wales; painted by Robert Fowler, described by Edward Thomas, with a note on Mr Fowler's landscapes by A. J. Finberg. 1905.....914.29 T37
The colored illustrations which give the book its chief interest and value are with a very few exceptions pictures of scenery in the northern part of Wales.

Germany

History

Bax, Ernest Belfort.
German society at the close of the middle ages. 1894. (Social side of the reformation in Germany, v.1.).....943 B33g Period covered is the last quarter of the 15th century and the first quarter of the 16th. Sketches some of the popular revolutionary movements in Germany and deals with the underlying causes, economic and social, of the general disintegration of the time.

Bradley, Henry.
Story of the Goths, from the earliest times to the end of the Gothic dominion in Spain. 1896. (Story of the nations.).....943 B68
"The first history of the Goths that has appeared in the English language...Those who feel an interest in [their] tragic history...will find Mr. Bradley a trustworthy guide. He has followed Dahn—and he could have followed no better—faithfully, but not slavishly." Spectator, 1889.

Henderson, Ernest Flagg.
Short history of Germany. 2v. 1902.....943 H44s
The same. 2v. in 1. 1906.....943 H44s2
The history prior to the 16th century is so briefly treated that the work is in reality a history of Germany from 1517 to 1871, with an introductory sketch covering the preceding fifteen centuries.
"Mr. Henderson's point of view is Protestant and Prussian...[His] book is certainly the best work in English for the period which he really covers." Nation, 1902.

America's aid to Germany in 1870–71; an abstract from the official correspondence of E. B. Washburne, U. S. ambassador to Paris; the English text with a German translation. 1905.....r943 H45
At the outbreak of the Franco-German war Mr Washburne, the American ambassador at Paris, at the request of the German government assumed the protection of German subjects then living in France. Such portions of his correspondence during that period as relate to the protection of Germans or to international questions raised by the war, are here collected.

Capet and Valois period

987—1589

Pardoe, Julia.
Court and reign of Francis the First, king of France, with a preface by Adolphe Cohn. 3v. 1901 ..... 944.02 P22
First published in 1849.
"The author...was gifted with a facile pen and transferred to her own pages something of the sprightliness she acquired from the reading of the memoirs and vivid chronicles of the age. But as solid history verified by the witness of official documents and not dependent upon the indirect and often inexact information of chroniclers and courtiers, the limitations of her writings are manifest." American historical review, 1903.

Sichel, Edith.
Catherine de' Medici and the French reformation. 1905 .. 944.02 S56
For the traditional murderess and intriguer, Miss Sichel substitutes a living, breathing, unromantic, but most interesting human being. The book is not so much a biography of Catharine as a series of historical studies dealing with her character and influence, and with other leading 16th century figures.

Bourbon period

1589—1789

Champney, Mrs Elizabeth (Williams).
Romance of the Bourbon châteaux. 1903.....944.03 C35
Similar to her "Romance of the feudal châteaux" and "Romance of the renaissance châteaux." Numerous photographs of the picturesque old châteaux about which the stories cluster.

Farmer, James Eugene.
Versailles and the court under Louis XIV. 1905.....944.03 F24
"Beginning with the topography of the palace, which is worked out with great fulness of detail, he proceeds to the King and the personnel of the royal circle, and concludes with an adequate account of the occupations which filled up a normal day." Nation, 1905.
Many portraits and other illustrations.

Funck-Brentano, Frantz.
Cagliostro and company; a sequel to the story of the diamond necklace. 1902.....944.03 F98c
Follows the after-fortunes of some of the people implicated in the famous "Diamond necklace" case, including Marie Antoinette, Cardinal de Rohan, the countess de la Motte and Cagliostro (Giuseppe Balsamo).

List of authorities, v.1, p.379-382.
"I have attempted to give such a sketch of the events preceding the French Revolution as shall enable the reader to approach the more important histories with interest and intelligence." Preface.

Pardoe, Julia.
Louis the Fourteenth, and the court of France in the 17th century. 3v. 1902.....944.03 P22
First published in 1847.
"The endurance of this work is a tribute to the author's command of a style popular in the best sense and worthy of emulation." Nation, 1902.

Perwich, William.
Despatches of William Perwich, English agent in Paris, 1669–1677; preserved in the foreign state papers of the Public record office, London; ed. for the Royal Historical Society by M. B. Curran. 1903. (Camden Society. Publications, 3d ser. v.5.).....944.03 P44
"The special value of the Perwich Papers consists in the light which they throw upon the history of France between the Treaty of Aix-la-Chapelle and that of Nimwegen...The main portion of the letters... is concerned with the designs of France to break up the Triple Alliance and to increase the power of the Great Monarch both on sea and land." Preface.

Sybel, Heinrich von.
History of the French revolution; tr. fr. the third edition of the German work by W. C. Perry. 4v. 1867–69....944.04 S98
"The most judicial of all the histories of this great period. The author had access to masses of material never before explored, and therefore he has been able to throw much new light on several puzzling questions. The most important of these relate to the dealings of other powers with France during the period under examination. A number of important facts are revealed in regard to the character and doings of Lafayette. The author has also discussed briefly, but with great acumen, the different financial expedients that were resorted to at the early period of the Revolution." Adams's Manual of historical literature, 1889.

History of the restoration of the monarchy in France. 4v. 1851–53 ..... 944.06 L17h

"The production of a rhapsodist, brilliant, interesting, and disappointing. After the author's fashion, it portrays the government from 1815 to 1830. Nearly the whole of the first volume is devoted to proving that 'Napoleon's genius was posthumous'...Lamartine's testimony on particular points may be profitably consulted." Adams's Manual of historical literature.

Pepin, Alphonse.

History of the French revolution of 1848; tr. by F. A. Durivage and W. S. Chase. 2v. in 1. 1849 ..... 944.07 L17h

"Though this work partakes strongly of Lamartine's methods, yet it has the advantage of having been written by a man who was himself in the thick of the struggle. The book was prepared in great haste; but as a picture of actual events it has some value." Adams's Manual of historical literature.

Die vergangenheit, gegenwart und zukunft der französischen republik; aus dem französischen von P. Meyer. 1850 ..... 944.07 L17v

Maupas, Charlemagne Émile de.

Story of the coup d'état; freely tr. with notes by A. D. Vandam. 2v. in 1. 1884 ..... 944.07 M49

Author was the last prefect of police under President Louis Napoleon. His work is a tolerably complete apology, from his point of view, for his own and his master's action in the "crime of December," 1851. The work is also interesting as a generous tribute to Napoleon III's merits. Condensed from Athenæum, 1884.

St. John, Percy Bolingbroke.

French revolution in 1848; the Three days of February 1848, with sketches of Lamartine, Guizot, etc. 1848...944.07 S14

Hanotaux, Gabriel.

Contemporary France; tr. by J. C. Tarver. v.1–3. 1903–07. ..... 944.08 H23

v.1. 1870–1873.
v.2. 1873–1875.
v.3. 1874–1877.

"This book belongs to that class of histories whereof the work of Thucydides is a famous example...a narrative written by a contemporary of events which passed in his own time...setting them forth after a lapse of time sufficient to give some perspective. No kind of history is more interesting, none more instructive...M. Hanotaux is a good specimen of...the man of letters who is also a statesman." Nation, 1903.

[Labouchere, Henry.]

Diary of the besieged resident in Paris; reprinted from "the Daily news," with several new letters and preface. 1871 ..... 944.08 L11

Author was kept a prisoner in Paris for five months during the siege of the city by the German armies, 1870–71. The letters convey a civilian's opinions of the siege and of the inner life of the city during its isolation. Their bias, if any, is in favor of the Parisians.

Sarcey, Francisque.

Le siège de Paris; ed. by F. B. Kirkman. [1896.] 944.08 S24

School edition, with notes. Not a political and military history of events but a picturesque account of what the author saw and felt during the siege (1870).

Simon, Jules.

Government of M. Thiers from 8th February 1871 to 24th May 1873. 2v. 1879 ..... 944.08 S59

"Account of that most trying period which immediately followed the fall of Paris. It is written by one who was at once a minister of the government, a scholar, and an acute observer of affairs. As a member of the Cabinet Simon had admission to all the councils of the President and all the sessions of the Assembly...The last chapter of the first volume is devoted to the Commune, and is an excellent account of the rise and fall of that turbulent attempt to control the city. The third chapter of the second volume gives one the best accessible explanations of the fall of the Thiers government." Adams's Manual of historical literature.

Description and travel

Browne, Mary.

Diary of a girl in France in 1821; with an introduction by E. S. Browne; ed. by H. N. Shore. 1905 ..... 914.4 B813

Written by a fourteen year old English girl, who with her family spent four months near Paris. Their experiences, which were not remarkable, are described as they would appear to the average child of that age, but the point of view that anything foreign is inferior makes the book amusing. Illustrated with quaint and spirited drawings by the author.

Hewlett, Maurice Henry.

The road in Tuscany; a commentary. 2v. 1904.....914.5 H49

In his introduction to this leisurely commentary on Tuscan travel Mr Hewlett says, "I have always preferred a road to a church, always a man to a masterpiece, a singer to his song." Numerous illustrations by Joseph Pennell.

"In many ways Mr. Hewlett's book is attractive and delightful, and travellers in Tuscany, especially those who are able to avoid the railroad, will find it a great help...Though it is sometimes used with a certain affectation, we cannot but heartily admire Mr. Hewlett's descriptive power." Spectator, 1905.

Hooker, Mrs Katharine.

Wayfarers in Italy. 1902.....914.5 H77

A brightly written book which avoids the well-beaten paths and concerns itself with the by-ways of city and country, particularly the smaller towns and villages of Lombardy.

Hutton, Edward.

Cities of Umbria; with illustrations in colour by A. Pisa. 1906.....914.5 H977c

Contents: Impressions of the cities of Umbria.—The Umbrian school of painting.—Umbria mystica.

Mr Hutton, who has traveled Umbria afoot, with his knapsack on his back, is a competent and discerning critic, as accurate as he is suggestive. His book is devoted to descriptions of scenery, to painting and to mysticism. Condensed from Nation, 1905.

Italy and the Italians. 1902.....914.5 H977

Consists of disconnected chapters on different Italian cities, on United Italy, the house of Savoy, the writings of Gabriele d'Annunzio, and a few other topics.

In a Tuscan garden. 1902.....914.5 I24

"Narrative of the conversion of an old Tuscan villa and a neglected garden into a charming domain with all the circumstances of English comfort; and its garrulous pages about alterations, furniture, the laying out of gardens, gardeners, and the Tuscan personal equation generally, are both informing and entertaining." Academy, 1902.

Martinengo-Cesaresco, Evelyn (Carrington), contessa.

Lombard studies. 1902.....914.5 M43

"Pleasant, instructive and entertaining reading. Her 'Studies,' differing widely one from the other in subject, are none of them profound, but all of them have a lucidity and directness, a certain happy knack of treating only of essentials." Saturday review, 1903.

Maugham, Henry Neville.

Book of Italian travel, (1580–1900). 1903.....r914.5 M48

Contents: Italy the school of humanism and taste.—Italy and the modern spirit.—Venice and towns of the Adriatic.—The lakes, Milan, and towns to Bologna.—Turin, Genoa, Pisa, and towns to Leghorn.—

Florence, Perugia, and towns to Orvieto.—Rome.—Naples and the bay of Naples.

Symposium of impressions reported by famous travelers, including Montaigne, Evelyn, Addison, Goethe, Shelley, Dickens, Taine, Symonds, James, etc. Through all their appreciations, the common thought seems to have been the one so quaintly expressed by James Howell (1641): "She hath been always accounted the Nurse of Policy, Learning, Musique, Architecture, and Limning, with other perfections which she dispenseth to the rest of Europe."

Montaigne, Michel Eyquem de.

Journal of Montaigne's travels in Italy by way of Switzerland and Germany in 1580 and 1581; tr. and ed. with an introduction and notes by W. G. Waters. 3v. 1903...914.5 M84

Rambling account of travels among the Piedmontese Alps, especially among their churches and monasteries.

Lombardy

Testa, Giovanni Battista.
History of the war of Frederick I against the communes of Lombardy. 1877 ..... 945.2 T32
"Picture of the manner in which Italy was broken up into the petty states of the twelfth century. The work includes in its scope the thirty years extending from 1152 to 1183; but the history of this period is preceded by a preliminary discourse of about one hundred pages, designed to portray the tendency of affairs during the whole of the Middle Ages. The work is unique in its design, and, as a picture of an important struggle, is of much value; indeed, to the special student of Italian history it is indispensable." Adams's Manual of historical literature.

Venice. Verona

Ruskin, John.

St. Mark's rest; the history of Venice. 1885.....729 R89a

Bound with his "Stones of Venice."

The same, Lectures on art, and The elements of perspective. 945.3 R89s

A smaller work written as a sort of supplement to "Stones of Venice," and explaining some changes in Mr Ruskin's opinions since the earlier book. It contains a sketch of the evolution of Venetian art, giving more prominence to the ethical side of Venetian history and illustrating Carpaccio as the most important figure of the transition period.

Thayer, William Roscoe.

Short history of Venice. 1905.....945.3 T34

"Bibliography," p.343–344.

Mr Thayer's account of the growth of the Venetian state supplies little new material, but his description of the life and art of Venice is admirable. His account of Venetian architecture and painting entitles him to the position of an art critic of the first order. Condensed from American historical review, 1905.

Wiel, Mrs Alethea Jane (Lawley).

Story of Verona. 1902. (Mediæval towns.).....945.3 W68s

The first half of the book is devoted to the history of the city, including its literature and art. The second part is of the nature of a guidebook, describing the Verona of to-day.

Description

Brown, Horatio Robert Forbes.

In and around Venice. 1905.....914.53 B78i

Author probably knows more about Venice than any other living Englishman. The variety of topics treated is very wide, including seven papers "In the city," seven "On the lagoon" and nine "In the country." There is a particularly interesting account of the Campanile and its fall and a chapter on the pile foundations of Venice.

The text is the same as that of "Gondola days."

Ferrara

Gardner, Edmund Garratt.

Dukes & poets in Ferrara; a study in the poetry, religion and politics of the fifteenth and early sixteenth centuries. 1904.....945.4 G18

"Bibliography," p.1–8.

Contains a chapter on Boiardo, the earliest of the great Italian epic poets. "Gives for the first time in English an account, detailed, consecutive, and interesting, of the Italian State which ranks after Venice, Florence, Milan, and Naples among the Renaissance republics. Ferrara...had a strongly defined individuality, and it exercised an important, sometimes even a deciding, influence on political combinations in Italy." Nation, 1904.

Noyes, Ella.
Story of Ferrara. 1904. (Mediæval towns.).....945.4 N48
History of the city and a guide to its buildings and art. Contains many illustrations, maps, plans and genealogical tables.

Storia della repubblica di Firenze. 3v. 1888.....945.5 C18

Douglas, Langton.
History of Siena. 1902.....945.5 D75
Volume of about 500 pages. Contains chapters on Sienese art and literature. Numerous illustrations and a map.

Duffy, Bella.
Tuscan republics (Florence, Siena, Pisa and Lucca), with Genoa. 1893. (Story of the nations.).....r945.5 D87
Convenient, but necessarily very condensed, history.

Gardner, Edmund Garratt.
Story of Siena and San Gimignano. 1904. (Mediæval towns.) 945.5 G18s
"Bibliographical appendix," p.366–372.
"Eminently a book to be read on the spot, a most helpful guide, which takes you consecutively through all the streets and churches of Siena and San Gimignano." Nation, 1903.

Heywood, William.
Pictorial chronicle of Siena. 1902.....945.5 H51
"Principal authorities," p.13–14.
Historical chronicle of Siena as derived from the "Tavolette dipinte." These are the decorated covers of the old official records of Siena, which constitute a pictorial chronicle of the city from the 13th to the 16th century. A list of the "Tavolette" now represented in the Sienese archives is appended.

Hyett, Francis Adams.
Florence; her history and art to the fall of the republic. 1903 .....945.5 H99
Bibliography, p.28–31.
"The best single-volume history of Florence in English...pays special attention to constitutional changes." Nation, 1903.

Machiavelli, Niccolò.
[Works]; with an introduction by Henry Cust. 2v. 1905. (Tudor translations; ed. by W. E. Henley, v.39–40.)..945.5 M16w v.1. The art of war; tr. by Peter Whitehorne, 1560.—The prince; tr. by Edward Dacres, 1640.
v.2. The Florentine history; tr. by Thomas Beddingfeld, 1595.
The introduction, an essay of some 40 pages, gives an admirable sketch of Machiavelli's life and a critical analysis of his writings.

Napier, Henry Edward.
Florentine history from the earliest authentic records to the accession of Ferdinand the Third [1815]. 6v. 1846–47.....r945.5 N12
"By no means a great book, but one that has some sterling qualities. Its characteristics are impartiality of judgment, a rough energy of expression, and an honest independence on the part of the author of all other people's opinions. These vigorous characteristics are counteracted by a certain prolixity of style, a constant tendency to digression, and a somewhat defective arrangement." Adams's Manual of historical literature.

Ross, Mrs Janet Ann (Duff-Gordon).
Florentine palaces & their stories. 1905.....945.5 R73
Interest is chiefly historical. Gives the history of the families and events connected with each palace. Here may be read much of the political history of Florence.

Description

Goff, Clarissa.
Florence; some Tuscan cities, painted by R. C. Goff, described by Clarissa Goff. 1905.....914.55 G56
Illustrated in color.

Ross, Mrs Janet Ann (Duff-Gordon).
Old Florence and modern Tuscany. 1904.....914.55 R73
Mrs Ross knows the Tuscan people well, having lived many years in the country outside Florence. Her book contains chapters on the Misericordia, on two Florentine hospitals, on present conditions of land tenure and agriculture in Tuscany, and a particularly interesting chapter on the popular songs of Tuscany.

Sheldon, Anna R. & Newell, M. M.
The Medici balls; seven little journeys in Tuscany. 1904..914.55 S54
Contents: The Mugello.—Prato; a mediæval journey.—Chianti and the Impruneta.—Castruccio Castracane, lord of Lucca.—Pistoja, "City of Cino."—A Sunday among the hills of Brancoli.—Barga and the valley of Garfagnana.
These seven little journeys, with Florence as a starting-point, are described in a chatty, discursive fashion, with some historical reminiscence. The "balls" of the title are those which constitute the Medici coat-of-arms, encountered by the travelers at every turn of their wanderings. Book is fully illustrated.

Whiting, Lilian.
The Florence of Landor. 1905.....914.55 W64
Landor was the pioneer of that Anglo-American colony which has so left its mark on Florence. In this brilliant circle were Leigh Hunt, Lady Blessington, the Brownings, the Trollopes, the Hawthornes, the Storys, the Thackerays, George Eliot and Mr Lewes, Byron and many others who came and went during Landor's 40 years' stay there.

"We have never seen a translation which has more completely caught the spirit of the original...it is hardly too much to say that the English is as good as the Italian." Nation, 1904.

Description

Elliott, Mrs Maud (Howe).
Roma beata; letters from the Eternal city. 1905.....914.56 E52
Familiar narrative of the author's experiences during a six years' residence in Rome. It is written from the standpoint of an enthusiastic lover of Roman ways and people, and incidentally tells a good deal about house-hunting, domestic arrangements, ways of foreign servants, etc. Illustrated.

McCracken, Laura.
Gubbio, past & present. 1905.....914.56 M14
Useful guide for travelers in this part of Perugia. Contains much information not accessible elsewhere in English.

Paget, Violet, (pseud. Vernon Lee).
Spirit of Rome; leaves from a diary. 1906.....914.56 P14
"Though this is not, strictly speaking, a book at all, but merely some scattered leaves from an old diary, it breathes the very essence and spirit of Rome...little is said, but enough to flash the vision before our eyes." Academy, 1905.

Rydberg, Viktor.
Roman days; fr. the Swedish by A. C. Clark, with a sketch of Rydberg by H. A. W. Lindehn. 1887.....914.56 R96
Contents: The Roman emperors in marble.—Antique statues.—Roman traditions of Peter and Paul.—Pencil sketches in Rome.
Historical and artistic studies of ancient and modern Rome. Contains an interesting account of the discovery of the Venus de Milo.

Tuker, M. A. R. & Malleson, Hope.
Rome, painted by Alberto Pisa. 1905.....914.56 T83
Contents: Rome.—Roman building and decoration.—The Roman catacombs. — Roman regions and guilds. — The Roman Campagna. — The Roman ménage.—The Roman people.—Roman princely families.—Roman religion.—The Roman cardinal.—Rome before 1870.—The Roman question.
"To write anything new or significant about Rome is no easy task, so many books have exhausted the subject from every point of view. The present writers skim lightly over the indispensable chapters of its historical aspect; but the reader will find their own personal impressions formed by long years of sojourn in Rome of greater interest, for their experiences seem to have extended through three papacies." Nation, 1905.
Well-chosen colored illustrations.

Naples

Giglioli, Constance H. D. (Stocker), contessa.
Naples in 1799; an account of the revolution of 1799 and of the rise and fall of the Parthenopean republic. 1903..945.7 G38

v.1. Taormina.—Syracuse.—Gastrogiovanni.—Girgenti.
v.2. Palermo.—Excursions from Palermo.
"Mr. Sladen is nothing if not chatty; he is as irrepressibly conversational as an Italian cicerone, and takes one about, shows the sights, and tells the stories like a real guide...But...[his] chatty word-pictures will never hold their own against his superb illustrations. The book is primarily a picture-book." Spectator, 1902.

Description and travel

Bérard, Victor.
The Russian empire and czarism; tr. by G. Fox-Davies and G. O. Pope; with introduction by Frederick Greenwood. 1905. .....914.7 B44
Contents: The land and its history.—Religions and nationalities.—Russianisation.—Czardom.
A French view of Russia, valuable, well informed and free from prejudice. The historical summary of the rise and development of czarism is extremely able, including accounts of the recent strikes, the programmes of the various political parties and imperial rescripts and decrees. Condensed from Nation, 1905.

Drage, Geoffrey.
Russian affairs. 1904.....914.7 D78
Contents: Introduction.—Russian ambitions.—Agriculture: agrarian development, famines.—Industry.—Commerce.—Finance.—Poland, Finland and the Baltic provinces.—Dependencies: northern Asia (Siberia, Manchuria); Central Asia.—Conclusion.—Appendices.

Ganz, Hugo.
Land of riddles (Russia of to-day); tr. and ed. by Herman Rosenthal. 1904.....914.7 G17
Author's plan was to obtain interviews with people who remain nameless but whom he speaks of as a "Russian prince," "a statesman," "a man in very respectable position," etc. In this way he gained some startling information, but its accuracy is uncertain. There are some local descriptions, literary and art criticisms, and the volume closes with the inevitable "visit to Tolstoi."

Gautier, Théophile.
Travels in Russia; tr. and ed. by F. C. de Sumichrast. 2v.
1902 ..... 914.7 G24t
v.1. Winter in Russia.
v.2. Travels in Russia.—A trip to Belgium and Holland.—A day in London.
Reproduces in a remarkable and admirable manner the peculiar aspect of the northern winter, the characteristic traits of the land and the people, which were what interested Gautier. With the "institutions" he was not concerned.

Contents: The country and race.—History and religion.—Descriptions.—Manners and customs.—Art and literature.—Statistics.

Villari, Luigi.

Fire and sword in the Caucasus. 1906.....914.7 V32f

No part of Russia at the present moment is more full of problems of great interest for the student of politics than the Caucasus. During this critical period of its history, the author visited every important centre of political unrest and interviewed revolutionary leaders, the chief of the secret police, consuls, editors and peasants. He outlines the most important revolutionary outbreaks, especially the Baku massacres and the Tartar-Armenian disturbances.

Russia under the great shadow. 1905.....914.7 V32

Traveler's impressions of Russia during the late war with Japan (1904–05). Considers the present condition of Russian industry, the state of the peasantry, the rise of the labor movement, and, in general, the effects of the war on the internal situation.

Finland

De Windt, Harry.

Finland as it is. 1901.....914.71 D51

"I have entered into minute details regarding hotels, trains, steamers, shops, etc., for the convenience of travellers (who will also find a short glossary of Finnish words), and may add that the great charm of Finland lies in the fact that one may explore its wildest districts in comfort, if not in absolute luxury." Author's preface.

Norway

History

Nansen, Fridtjof.
Norway and the union with Sweden. 1905.....948.1 N12
"The purpose of this little book [96 pages] is to give readers abroad, who know little about the early history of the Norwegians, a concise and authentic account of the most important circumstances and events, which, with almost logical consistency, have led up to the present [1905] crisis." Preface.
Contains a supplementary chapter on "The dissolution of the union."

Description and travel

Goodman, Edward John.
Best tour in Norway. 1903.....914.81 G62
Guide-book to western Norway. Follows a route which the author believes the best that can be adopted by those who wish to see as much as possible within the space of a few weeks.

Jungman, Beatrix.
Norway, by Nico Jungman, text by Beatrix Jungman. [1905.] 914.81 J52

Contents: Precarious travel.—Brottem, Aune, Sliper, Gjora, Sundalsoren.—On the fjords.—Minor romantic episodes.—Mainly about saints.—Arts and crafts.—Farm-houses, wedding festivities.—Forestry, reindeer, land tenures.—Fisheries, the Lapps, religion and morals, music.—Legends and literature.
Illustrated in color.

[Putnam, John Bishop.]
A Norwegian ramble among the fjords, fjelds, mountains and glaciers, by one of the ramblers. 1904 ..... 914.81 P99

Contents: The start.—Christiania.—Lesjeværk and Ormeim.—Aandalsnæs and the Romsdal fjord.—Molde to Merok.—The Geiranger fjord.—Merok and the Geiranger road.—Loen and the Nord fjord.—Down the coast.—Bergen and the Hardanger fjord.—Odde.—Odde to Eide.—Voss to Stalheim.—To Gudvangen.—Lauredal and Maristuen.
Pleasant account of a trip through southwestern Norway.

Randall, Lida E.
Little journey to Norway and Sweden; for home and school, intermediate and upper grades; ed. by M. M. George. 1904. (Library of travel.) j914.81 R18

Slingsby, William Cecil.
Norway, the northern playground; sketches of climbing and mountain exploration in Norway between 1872 and 1903. 1904 ..... 914.81 S63

"Perhaps no Englishman is better known in the Alpine districts of Norway than Mr. Slingsby, and this book...records in charming fashion his most notable climbing exploits there." Athenæum, 1904.

Wood, Charles William.
Norwegian by-ways. 1903 ..... 914.81 W85

Contents: Hull to Bergen.—Vik.—The Vöringfos.—In the Hardanger.—Up the Sogne to Vadheim.—Förde.—Skei.—Egge.—Sandene.—The Videdal.—Polfos.—Sörum.—Toftemoen.—Dombaas. — Lesjevaerk. — Stueflaaten.—Naes.—Molde.—Aalesund.—Bergen.—Os.—Solstrand.

"Its peculiar feature is that Mr. Wood reports at length the conversations with his fellow-traveller and the various people they met, giving the book the look of a story rather than a sober record of travel. The method...is so well handled as to give the book a lightness and attraction which surprise one by their novelty." Academy, 1903.

Sweden

Geijer, Erik Gustaf.
History of the Swedes; tr. fr. the Swedish with an introduction and notes by J. H. Turner; from the earliest period to the accession of Charles the Tenth. [1845.] 948.5 G27

Contents: The land and the people.—Government and political life.—The capital.—Public education.—Literature.—Early art and culture.—Modern art.—Public life and morality.—Agriculture, industry and trade.—Rural life.—Beneficent foundations.—Sports and games.

Denmark

Saxo Grammaticus.

The nine books of Danish history; tr. by Oliver Elton; with some considerations on Saxo's sources, historical methods and folk-lore. 2v. 1905. (Norrœna library.) . . 948.9 S27

Viking edition.

Saxo Grammaticus was a celebrated Danish chronicler of the 12th century.

"His sources are partly Danish traditions and old songs...partly the accounts of Icelanders, and, lastly, some few earlier, but scanty, sources, being lists of Danish kings and short chronicles, which furnished him with some reliable chronological dates. He considered traditions as history, and therefore made it his chief business to recount and arrange these...into a connected whole. His work, therefore, is a loosely connected series of biographies of Danish kings and heroes." Encyclopædia Britannica.

Brochner, Jessie.

Danish life in town and country. 1903. (Our European neighbours.) 914.89 B75

"An admirable little book, not in any sense a guide book, but full of information for people who really want to know something of the meaning and actuality of Danish national life." Academy, 1903.

Iceland. Faroe islands

Annandale, Nelson.

The Faroes and Iceland; studies in island life, with an appendix on the Celtic pony by F. H. A. Marshall. 1905 . . 914.91 A61

"List of works consulted," p.231–234.

"Compact work of almost encyclopædic grasp." Outlook (English), 1905.

Has exceptional value and interest as a study of isolated and rather primitive communities. The Faroes are a group of inhabitated islands lying north of Scotland and belonging to Denmark. Book is chiefly concerned with their natural history and ethnology.

Bisiker, William.

Across Iceland, with an appendix by A. W. Hill on the plants collected. 1902 . . . . . 914.91 B49

Account of an expedition made by a semi-scientific party. Author explored and mapped out one of the most beautiful districts of central Iceland, which had never before been surveyed in detail. Contains many photographs giving a good idea of the geological and physico-geographical characteristics.

Mímir; Icelandic institutions with addresses. [v.1.] 1903 . . 914.91 M72

Gives lists of Icelandic societies and institutions, and societies in Denmark relating to Iceland, lists of journalists, literary and professional men, of writers on Iceland in other countries, together with notes on present conditions in Iceland.

Symington, Andrew James.

Pen and pencil sketches of Faröe and Iceland. 1862 . . . . . 914.91 S98

The appendix contains Icelandic stories and fairy tales; Specimens of old Icelandic poetry; Poems on northern subjects; Information for intending tourists; Glossary; Chapter on our Scandinavian ancestors.

"In making the extracts for this little book, an endeavor has been made to preserve a certain continuity, and at the same time to present striking and varied scenes." Introduction.

Young, Alexander.
History of the Netherlands. 1895.....j949.2 Y36h
Treats of the period covered by Motley, but in more compact form. The author has studied documentary sources, and presents new and valuable information. Without elaborating on the inquisition and tyranny of the Spanish government he makes more evident than Motley the faults and excesses of the insurgents, and thus makes clearer the partial failure of the revolution.

Life of Moore, by Horace Walker, p.7–11.

Author was one of the leading spirits in the Alpine club.

"Moore's journal has long been one of the most sought of the rarities of Alpine literature. It was written for the author's own amusement, privately printed for the pleasure of his friends, and is now offered to the public, fifteen years after Moore's death...If there are books that can be described as Alpine classics, Moore's book should stand high, perhaps at the head of the list." Nation, 1902.

Rhodes, Daniel P.
Pleasure-book of Grindelwald. 1903.....914.94 R38
Illustrated Alpine description.
"His theme is the region between the Gross Scheidegg and Mürren... All the pleasant things of Alpine life and leisure enter into his pages. Winter and summer are alike recalled. We may hear echoes of climbing, but Mr. Rhodes does not look upon the Eiger and the Jungfrau as greased poles. Sliding, skating, and skiing have in turn their share of attention." Nation, 1903.

History

For History of ancient Greece, see 938

Oman, Charles William Chadwick.
Story of the Byzantine empire. 1895. (Story of the nations.).....r949.5 O24
"Mr Oman...has been successful in producing a fresh and readable abridgement of a long period of history, yet without omitting any important facts...Skill is shown especially in dealing with the empires, kingdoms, principalities, duchies, and all manner of lordships, which sprang up after the Latin conquest of Constantinople...The illustrations are good." English historical review, 1893.

Pears, Edwin.
Destruction of the Greek empire and the story of the capture of Constantinople by the Turks. 1903.....949.5 P34
List of documents relating to the siege of Constantinople, p.13–14.
"The book falls naturally into three divisions—the first part giving a summary of the history of the empire between 1204–1453, and tracing the progress during the same period of the race that was to supplant it; the second containing the history of the siege itself, told with a graphic force which holds the reader to its tragic close; and the concluding chapters, devoted to a thoughtful survey of the results of the destruction of the empire upon European civilization." Contemporary review, 1903.

"Reprint of his articles on the Balkan situation to the Chicago Record-Herald...distinctly above the ordinary newspaper type, both in accuracy and in ability...The Austrian administration of Bosnia, the political situation in Servia, and at least part of the inside of Miss Stone's case are well brought out." Nation, 1903.

Dodd, Mrs Anna Bowman.

In the palaces of the sultan. 1903 ..... 914.96 D66

Mrs Dodd, in the suite of Gen. Porter, United States ambassador to France, was received by the sultan at his court, dined with him, and was personally conducted through his private domain.

"Mrs. Dodd describes what she saw with much enthusiasm and considerable effusion, but graphically and effectively withal...Unfortunately, however, she has added to the account of her visits to the palaces and other sights of Constantinople, a second section in ten chapters...dealing with the customs, religion, family life, government, and politics of Turkey...these notes and impressions sound like nothing more than a shallow echo of the statements of some Turkish aide-de-camp...The book is beautifully got up and profusely illustrated." Nation, 1903.

Durham, Mary Edith.

Burden of the Balkans. 1905 ..... 914.96 D94

Author traveled in Macedonia, Montenegro and the Albanian provinces of Turkey in Europe. She came into intimate contact with the little known races of these countries and her book throws some light on the problems of the near East.

Carl, Katharine Augusta.

With the empress dowager. 1905.....915.1 C19

Appeared in the "Century magazine," v.70–71, Oct.–Dec. 1905.

"Author spent several months in different palaces while painting four portraits of the Empress dowager. This is the first detailed account of Chinese court life." A. L. A. booklist, 1905.

Denby, Charles.

China and her people; being the observations, reminiscences and conclusions of an American diplomat. 2v. 1906.....915.1 D42

Author was for 13 years (1885–98) minister to Pekin, during which time he held the unbroken confidence of the Chinese authorities. His book is not a mere traveler's tale. It is rather the leisurely reflections, with delightful comment, spiced by wit and wisdom, of a man who saw into causes, and read human nature searchingly, but with sympathy. Condensed from Nation, 1906.

[Dickinson, Goldsworthy Lowes.]

Letters from a Chinese official; an eastern view of western civilization. 1903.....915.1 D55

Also known under the title "Letters of John Chinaman."

These letters, purporting to be written by a Chinese official, bring out forcibly the contrast between eastern and western ideals. They also constitute a serious arraignment of the English government in its dealings with China.

Doolittle, Justus.

Social life of the Chinese, with some account of their religious, governmental, educational and business customs and opinions, with special but not exclusive reference to Fuhchau. 2v. 1867.....915.1 D73

Our boys in China; the story of two young Americans, wrecked in the China sea, with their strange adventures in China. 1883.....j915.1 F92 Geil, William Edgar.

Yankee on the Yangtze; a narrative of a journey from Shanghai through the central kingdom to Burma. 1904..915.1 G28

"With its hundred full-page pictures and continuously spirited narrative, this book gives probably the best contemporaneous account of the common people's daily life in China." Nation, 1904.

George, Marian M. ed.

Little journey to China [and Japan], for intermediate and upper grades. 1900. (Library of travel.).....j915.1 G31

Giles, Herbert Allen.

China and the Chinese. 1902.....915.1 G39

Contents: The Chinese language.—A Chinese library.—Democratic China.—China and ancient Greece.—Taoism.—Some Chinese manners and customs.

Lectures delivered March 1902 at Columbia University, New York, to inaugurate the foundation of a professorship of Chinese.

Author is the foremost living English scholar in Chinese (1902).

Guetzlaff, Carl Friedrich August.

Journal of three voyages along the coast of China in 1831, 1832 & 1833, with notices of Siam, Corea and the Loo-Choo islands; to which is prefixed an introductory essay on the policy, religion, etc. of China by W. Ellis. 1834.....915.1 G95

Author was for many years a missionary in the East.

Hardy, Edward John.

John Chinaman at home; sketches of men, manners and things in China. 1905.....915.1 H26

May be strongly recommended to the general reader as an interesting view of Chinese characteristics. Mr Hardy has the gift of seeing the funny side of things as well as the power of keen observation. The last chapter entitled "As the Chinese see us" is particularly suggestive.

Jack, Robert Logan.

Back blocks of China; a narrative of experiences among the Chinese, Sifans, Lolos, Tibetans, Shans and Kachins between Shanghai and the Irrawadi. 1904.....915.1 J12

Travel in western China, the experiences of a party of British travelers who, at the outbreak of the Boxer rebellion of 1900, were compelled to leave China by the back door.

Katscher, Leopold.

Bilder aus dem chinesischen leben, mit besondrer rücksicht auf sitten und gebräuche. 1881.....915.1 K13

Little, Mrs Alicia (Bewicke).

Land of the blue gown. 1902.....915.1 L743l

An intimate picture of Chinese life previous to the Boxer rebellion of 1900. One of the most interesting chapters gives a detailed account of country life on a farmstead in the far interior, where the author spent the summer of 1898.

Round about my Peking garden. 1905.....915.1 L743r

Collection of sketches of north China, somewhat loosely held together but written with rare appreciation and intimate knowledge of Chinese life and character. Mrs Little has lived in China for 20 years.

Maron, Hermann.

Japan und China; reiseskizzen, entworfen während der preussischen expedition nach Ost-Asien. 2v. in 1. 1863..915.1 M39

Morse, Edward Sylvester.

Glimpses of China and Chinese homes. 1902.....915.1 M92

"Most of this material appeared first in a series of articles in the American architect under the title, 'Journal sketches in China.'" Preface.

Interiors of Chinese houses, the streets of Chinese villages and what is to be seen in them, Chinese theatres and Buddhist temples, a soldier's drill-room and many other institutions of the country are sketched with minute fidelity.

Nichols, Francis Henry.

Through hidden Shensi. 1902.....915.1 N31

Account of a journey in the autumn of 1901, from Pekin to Sian, the capital of the province of Shensi. The route lay through the heart of the Boxers' country and across the two oldest provinces of China. It is a story of untraveled roads over which few white men have ventured.

Parker, Edward Harper.

John Chinaman, and a few others. 1902 .....915.1 P23

"Perhaps the best picture extant of the actual Chinaman...Under sixteen chapters, with many pictorial illustrations and a thousand modern instances, this realist brings before us in action every sort and condition of Chinese man. As he has, literally, seen them all, he tells of births, marriages, and deaths, of the Chinese innocents abroad, of kings, popes, premiers, and philosophers, of missionary and other 'rows', of piracies and murders, and of ways that are dark and tricks that are vain." Nation, 1902.

Townley, Lady Susan.

My Chinese note book. [1904.].....915.1 T66

Contents: The early history of China.—China in the middle ages.—China under the Manchus.—The reign of Kwang-Hsü.—The worship of heaven and the "Three religions."—Confucianism.—Taoism.—Buddhism.—The Chinese language.—Concerning the classics.—How China is governed.—First acquaintances.—Shanghai.—Up the Yangtse river.—In the gorges and rapids.—Peking.—The dragon throne.—Court ladies.—Imperial mausolea.

First part is an historical résumé, with a sketch of the three religions of China. Last part is descriptive of the China of to-day, including a lively account of the author's interview with the empress dowager and the Manchu princesses of the Court of Pekin.

Weale, B. L. Putnam.

Manchu and Muscovite; letters from Manchuria written during the autumn of 1903, with an historical sketch entitled "Prologue to the crisis." 1904.....915.1 W35

"The book to be read by those who wish to understand the true position of Russia in Manchuria at the moment of the outbreak of the Russo-Japanese war...Writing with an authority that cannot be doubted, and supporting his conclusions by an exhaustive array of carefully-investigated facts, Mr. Weale formulates one long indictment of the Russian in Manchuria." Contemporary review, 1904.

Formosa

Davidson, James Wheeler.

Island of Formosa, past and present; history, people, resources and commercial prospects. 1903.....q915.12 D29

By the present (1903) United States consul at Formosa.
Crammed with information and excellently illustrated.

Tibet

Candler, Edmund.

Unveiling of Lhasa. 1905.....915.15 C17

Author accompanied the expedition of 1904 as correspondent of the London Daily mail.

Illustrated.

"There is in his pages a breezy personal element, which lends the charm of reality to all he sees and does. His descriptions are brief and his summing up of the results of the mission clear and forcible." Nation, 1905.

Crosby, Oscar Terry.

Tibet and Turkestan; a journey through old lands and a study of new conditions. 1905.....915.15 C89

Experiences in Chinese Turkestan and in the Aksai Chin, or White desert, in the northwest corner of Tibet. Describes the social, religious and political conditions in the regions traversed.

Hedin, Sven.

Adventures in Tibet. 1904.....915.15 H39a

"Popular account of his last and greatest journey of exploration. It is popular in every sense, all scientific matter being omitted, and the style being light, not to say jaunty, while full prominence is given to all the adventurous and picturesque details of the march." Spectator, 1904.

Central Asia and Tibet towards the holy city of Lassa.
2v. 1903.....915.15 H39
Record of a second journey of exploration through eastern Turkestan and northern Tibet. He did not reach Lhasa, but did important work in the exploration of the Tarim river and in the discovery of the lost town of Lôu-lan.

Landon, Perceval.
Opening of Tibet; an account of Lhasa and the country and people of central Tibet and of the progress of the mission sent there by the English government in the year 1903–4; introduction by Colonel Younghusband.
1905. .....q915.15 L227
Also published with the title "Lhasa."
Author was special correspondent of the London "Times" with the Tibet expedition and his book contains the full history of the advance to and occupation of Lhasa. Fully and admirably illustrated.

Sarat Chandra Dás.
Journey to Lhasa and central Tibet; ed. by W. W. Rockhill. 1902. (Royal Geographical Society.).....915.15 S24
By a Bengalese explorer in the employ of the Indian government, who has had unusual facilities for travel and research in Tibet.

Waddell, Laurence Austine.
Lhasa and its mysteries, with a record of the expedition of 1903–1904. 1905.....915.15 W11
Author was a member of the expedition and well prepared for his work by exceptional knowledge of the Tibetan people, language and religion, and his descriptions of the country, scenery, buildings, customs and religious rites are fresh, valuable and interesting. Over 200 illustrations and maps.

Korea

Allen, Horace Newton.
Korea; fact and fancy; being a republication of two books entitled "Korean tales," and "A chronological index."
1904.....915.19 A42
Contents: Introductory; the country, people and government.—Descriptive; sights in and about the capital.—The rabbit and other legends; stories of birds and animals.—The enchanted wine jug; or, Why the cat and dog are enemies.—Ching Yuh and Kyain Oo; the trials of two heavenly lovers.—Hyung Bo and Nahl Bo; or, The swallow-king's rewards.—Chun Yang; the faithful dancing-girl wife.—Sim Chung; the dutiful daughter.—Hong Kil Tong; or, The adventures of an abused boy.—Chronological index.
"Some recent books published on or about Korea," p.269–271.

Hamilton, Angus.
Korea. 1904.....915.19 H19
By an English newspaper correspondent who has been many years in the Far East. Valuable both for its description of the country and its conditions, and for its study of political affairs. Introduction gives a bird's-eye view of the state of affairs between Japan and Russia in January 1904.

Underwood, Mrs Lillias (Horton).
Fifteen years among the top-knots; or, Life in Korea.
1904.....915.19 U25
Author, a medical missionary under the Presbyterian board, records her personal experiences among the poorest natives as well as in the royal palace, where she was the queen's physician.

Whigham, Henry James.
Manchuria and Korea. 1904.....915.19 W69
"A volume which events have rendered out of date. The author, for example, states that 'the inevitable war...is destined to end in smoke, since the Japanese have already lost their great opportunity'...The whole doctrine of the book is that Russia's position at Port Arthur and at Dalny is sound and lasting." Athenæum, 1904.

Japan

History

Asakawa, Kan-Ichi.
Russo-Japanese conflict; its causes and issues, with an introduction by F. W. Williams. 1904.....952 A79
Remarkable for both its brevity and its restraint. In less than 400 pages he gives an account not only of the economic conditions which underlie the quarrel but of the diplomatic negotiations which preceded and the national tendencies which caused the conflict. The book is so dispassionately written that the nationality of the author is hardly apparent. Condensed from Nation, 1905.

Barry, Richard Hayes.
Port Arthur; a monster heroism. 1905.....952 B27
"The sum of his observation as a correspondent during a considerable part of the siege...Not strictly a well-written book, this is nevertheless full of the vitality of the field, and the impression that it gives of a record made on the spot is heightened by the numerous illustrations from the author's own camera." Nation, 1905.

Fukuda, Tokuzo.
Die gesellschaftliche und wirtschaftliche entwickelung in Japan. 1900. (Münchener volkswirtschaftliche studien, v.42.).....952 F97
Study of the social and economic evolution of Japan to the close of the 19th century.

Hare, James H. and others, comp.
Photographic record of the Russo-Japanese war, with an account of the battle of the Sea of Japan by Capt. A. T. Mahan. 1905.....qr952 H26

Hildreth, Richard.
Japan as it was and is. 1855.....952 H54
"Though written in 1855, has no superior as a summary of European relations with Japan up to the Perry era." Nation, 1905.

Lawrence, Thomas Joseph.
War and neutrality in the Far East. 1904.....952 L42
Traces clearly and impartially the causes which led to the Russo-Japanese war (1904–05) and discusses the questions of martial and international law which arose during the war.

London, Times.
War in the Far East, 1904–1905, by the military correspondent of the Times; with numerous maps and plans by Percy Fisher. 1905.....952 L82
"Critical estimate of the detailed operations of the war...He who wishes to learn the science of modern war must read this book...The maps are all that could be desired." Dial, 1906.

McCaul, Ethel Rosalie Ferrier.
Under the care of the Japanese war office. 1904.....952 M12
Description, by an Englishwoman, of her tour of inspection of the work of the Japanese Red-cross Society in Manchuria. Illustrations from photographs.

McKenzie, Frederick Arthur.
From Tokyo to Tiflis; uncensored letters from the war. 1905.....952 M18
Clear and vivid narrative by the correspondent of the London "Daily mail," covering his experiences from January 1904 to April 1905. Illustrated.

Morris, Charles.
Historical tales, the romance of reality; Japan and China. 1898.....j952 M915

Murdoch, James, & Yamagata, Isoh.
History of Japan during the century of early foreign intercourse (1542–1651). 1903.....qr952 M97
Elaborate work based on original research and careful examination of documents. Many maps, some showing the feudal divisions of the empire.

Okakura, Kakasu.
Awakening of Japan. 1905.....952 O22
Author answers with authority and intense patriotism the question now uppermost in the minds of western observers: What is the secret of Japan's ability to enter thus suddenly, as a first-class power, into the company of nations? He shows clearly that the accomplishments of the new Japan are the natural outcome of her history and traditions.

Palmer, Frederick.
With Kuroki in Manchuria. 1904.....952 P19
Narrative of the campaign of the Japanese first army in the war with Russia (1904), to the end of the battle of Liao-yang. Illustrated with photographs taken on the spot.

Story, Douglas.
The campaign with Kuropatkin. 1904.....952 S88
Impressions of a war correspondent, not a military history. Attitude is pro-Russian.

Villiers, Frederic.
Port Arthur, three months with the besiegers; a diurnal of occurrents. 1905.....952 V33
An English war correspondent's story of three months with the Japanese army before Port Arthur. Unfortunately the author left the army before the fall of the fortress. Book is fully illustrated.

Description and travel

Arnold, Sir Edwin.
Japonica. 1892.....q915.2 A75j
Three articles on Japan originally contributed to "Scribner's magazine." They are descriptive of the country, the people and their ways of thinking.

Browne, George Waldo.
Japan; the place and its people, with an introduction by Kogoro Takahira. 1904.....q915.2 B78
"Chiefly valuable for its 300 attractive half-tone pictures and colored plates." Nation, 1904.

Brownell, Clarence Ludlow.
Heart of Japan; glimpses of life and nature far from the travellers' track in the Land of the rising sun. 1902....915.2 B81
"For five years he dwelt in the interior of Japan...sometimes teaching English in the State schools, sometimes idling, always living as the natives live...There is no consecutive tale. You open the book at any chapter and you find yourself at once in the swim...There are character sketches, anecdotes, fragments of mythology. One of the gayest chapters is a casual excursus on the Japanese language." Academy, 1902.

Clement, Ernest Wilson.

Handbook of modern Japan. 1903.....915.2 C56

Bibliography at the end of each chapter.

"A thesaurus of information concerning modern Japan...It would be difficult to name an important theme left unnoticed in this handy volume. History, industry, modern politics, manners and customs, the new woman, literature, language, æsthetics, religions, Christian missions,—are all discussed." Dial, 1904.

Fraser, Mrs Hugh.

Letters from Japan; a record of modern life in the Island empire. 1904.....915.2 F881

New edition of "A diplomat's wife in Japan."

Not at all ephemeral tourist "letters." Author was the wife of the British envoy to Japan, and her capacity and opportunities for seeing were great and unusual. She was in Tokio and places within a hundred miles of it, where she follows the interest of the moment, and with her adventures and experiences gives many of the old legends and fairy tales. Illustrated.

"The ablest scholar in Japanese Confucianism that America has yet produced, has here given us impressions of man and nature in the Archipelago...Dr. Knox has sought to know the inner, rather than the outer man of Nippon, and his charming pages are concerned with mind rather than matter." Nation, 1904.
Also published with the title "Imperial Japan."

Murray, John, pub.
Handbook for travellers in Japan; comp. by B. H. Chamberlain and W. B. Mason. 1894.....915.2 M97

Nitobe, Inazo Ota.
Bushido, the soul of Japan; an exposition of Japanese thought; with an introduction by W. E. Griffis. 1905..915.2 N36
"Bushido" is the Japanese feudal equivalent of chivalry. It embodies the maxims of educational training brought to bear on the samurai, or warrior class of Japan.

Okakura-Yoshisaburo.
The Japanese spirit; with an introduction by George Meredith. 1905.....915.2 O22
Lectures delivered at the University of London. Author traces briefly the principal elements which he considers to have contributed to the formation of Japanese character, doing especial justice to the influence of Buddhism and Shintoism.

Scherer, James Augustin Brown.
Japan to-day, [1904]. 1904.....915.2 S32
Contents: The cynosure.—Sunrise-land.—Views awheel.—Glimpses of home life.—The awful Japanese language.—Sermons garnished with smiles.—Life in the south.—The people of the north.—Japanese traits.—An opener of gates [G. F. Verbeck].—The gates of Asia; or, The larger meaning of the war.
"Dr. Scherer writes of the Island Empire with fresh spirit, keen insight, and clear outlook. He lived in southern Japan five years...So far from believing in the Cinderella theory of the rise of modern Japan to greatness, Dr. Scherer throws overboard the fairy tales of the tourist. He devotes a chapter to Verbeck, the engineer, scholar, and missionary." W. E. Griffis, in the Dial, 1904.

Young Japan; the story of the Japanese people and especially of their educational development. 1905....915.2 S32y

"Companion to the author's 'Japan To-day'...It is perhaps the best general view of the long education of the Japanese." Nation, 1905.

Singleton, Esther, ed.

Japan as seen and described by famous writers. 1904.....915.2 S61

Contents: The country and the race.—History and religion.—Places and monuments.—Manners and customs.—Arts and crafts.—Modern Japan.

"The illustrations are numerous and excellent, reproduced from well-known photographs, and the selections are for the most part proportionate and in good taste." Nation, 1904.

Sladen, Douglas Brooke Wheelton.

Queer things about Japan. 1903.....915.2 S63

"Does not set out to criticise the Japanese seriously, but to describe the humours of Japanese life, as they presented themselves to him some years ago when he made his home in Dai Nippon, Great Japan... Some essential phases, indeed, of Japanese life the writer leaves untouched...but so far as he does deal with life in the Land of the Rising Sun he does so picturesquely and plain spokenly." Academy, 1903.

Numerous illustrations from Hokusai, the Japanese artist.

Sladen, Douglas Brooke Wheelton, & Lorimer, N. O.

More queer things about Japan. 1904.....915.2 S63m

Contents: Japan from a woman's point of view, by Norma Lorimer.—A Japanese history of Napoleon, with lives of Peter the Great, Alexander the Great and Aristotle, and notes on France and Greece, written by a Japanese in the first half of the nineteenth century and translated by Yoshio Markino.—The original letters of the English pilot, William Adams, written from Japan between A. D. 1611 and 1617, reprinted by special permission from the papers of the Hakluyt Society.—Japan from a man's point of view, by Douglas Sladen.—APPENDIX: The Yoshiwara from within.

Contains two features of unusual interest, the first a Japanese history of Napoleon written in the first half of the 19th century. Though full of amusing inaccuracies, it has value as showing that Japan took some interest in European affairs even before Commodore Perry's time. The other is a reprint of the letters written from Japan by Will Adams, the Kentish pilot cast away on the Japanese coast during Queen Elizabeth's reign.

Stead, Alfred, ed.

Japan by the Japanese; a survey by its highest authorities. 1904.....915.2 S79

Arabia

History

Gilman, Arthur.
Story of the Saracens to the fall of Bagdad. 1896. (Story of the nations.) r953 G42
Bibliography, p.451–469.
"He has told his story brightly and sympathetically. The pity is that he has done what everyone has done before—he has dwelt at unnecessary length upon the life of the prophet Mohammed, and left himself no space for those remarkable characters, revolutions and civilizations which marked the later course of the history of Islam." Athenæum, 1888.

Description and travel

[Bartlett, William Henry.]
Forty days in the desert on the track of the Israelites; or, A journey from Cairo, by Wady Feiran, to Mount Sinai and Petra qr915.3 B27

Burton, Sir Richard Francis.
Land of Midian (revisited). 2v. 1879 ..... 915.3 B95l
Midian is that part of the Arabian desert which lies to the east of the northern portion of the Red sea. The khedive of Egypt sent Captain Burton there with engineers and miners at his command to seek for traces of the ancient mines and precious metals. This book is a record of travel and exploration.
Reisen nach Medina und Mekka und in das Somaliland nach Härrär in Ost-Afrika; bearbeitet von Karl Andree. 1861 ..... 915.3 B95r

Fogg, William Perry.
Arabistan; or, The land of "the Arabian nights;" travels through Egypt, Arabia and Persia to Bagdad, with an introduction by Bayard Taylor. 1875 ..... 915.3 F68
"The chief fault of the book, which is really an entertaining as well as an instructive one, is the carelessness displayed by the author in making authoritative statements...without proper investigation." Athenæum, 1876.

Hadji Khan, & Sparroy, Wilfrid.
With the pilgrims to Mecca; the great pilgrimage of A. H. 1319; A. D. 1902; with an introduction by A. Vambéry. 1905 ..... 915.3 H12
No work from the pen of a Muslim writer has yet appeared in any European language containing such a true picture of the great pilgrimage and the remarkable rites and mysteries connected with it. Several chapters are devoted to a description of the bazaars and social life.

Hogarth, David George.
Penetration of Arabia; a record of the development of western knowledge concerning the Arabian peninsula. 1904. (Story of exploration.) 915.3 H68
Bibliography at the end of each chapter.
Popular account, written not from personal experience in exploration, but from the records of other travelers. Illustrated.

Lane, Edward William.
Arabian society in the middle ages; studies from the Thousand and one nights; ed. by Stanley Lane-Poole. 1883.....915.3 L23

Palgrave, William Gifford.
Personal narrative of a year's journey through central and eastern Arabia, 1862–63. 1868.....915.3 P18
"An adventurous journey to ascertain how far missionary enterprise was possible among pure Arabs...[the author] also accepted a mission from Napoleon III, for the purpose of reporting on the attitude of the Arabs towards France. The result of this journey he embodied in one of the most fascinating of modern books of travel." Dictionary of national biography.

India

History

Davids, Thomas William Rhys.
Buddhist India. 1903. (Story of the nations.).....954 D29
"Based largely upon data hitherto published only in monographic form ...The village, social grades, economic conditions, and religion, each receive a chapter in which the available facts are clearly and simply set forth. While offering nothing new to the specialist, the general reader will find this book a good guide to the understanding of the social condition of ancient India." Nation, 1903.

Frazer, Robert Watson.
British India. 1897. (Story of the nations.).....r954 F89
"He is familiar with India, he has made Indian languages his special study, and he unites with a comprehensive grasp of Indian history a romantic appreciation of British expansion...His book is of absorbing interest, and comes very near to being a perfect short history...We are compelled to regret the blemishes which mar the tout ensemble of the picture. Mr. Frazer appears to have taken his canvas, outlined his views upon it, and then to have used his brush with a certain recklessness which has resulted in blobs of colour belonging to one part being precipitated to another." Saturday review, 1897.

Hopkins, Edward Washburn.
India old and new. 1902. (Yale bicentennial publications.).....954 H78
Contents: Memorial address in honor of Professor Salisbury.—The Rig Veda. — The early lyric poetry of India. — Sanskrit epic poetry. — A study of gods.—Christ in India.—Ancient and modern Hindu guilds. —Land-tenure in India.—The cause and cure of famine.—The plague. —New India.

The durbar, by Mortimer Menpes; text by Dorothy Menpes. 1903.....915.4 M62
Description of the celebration in India of the accession of King Edward VII to the British throne. There are 100 illustrations in color.
"The durbar revived the ancient artistic splendor of India which, under Anglo-Saxon influence, is rapidly declining. The spectacle was a blaze of glory which dazzled the world, and the only possible way to depict it was in color. Mr. Menpes had unique opportunities for sketching on the spot, and his mastery of color and detail enabled him to snatch some vivid impressions of the historic scene."

Newcombe, A. C.

Village, town and jungle life in India. 1905.....915.4 N26

Author has had an experience of 28 years in India. The book is a plain, straightforward and fair narrative of British life in India and the conditions of British rule. Condensed from Spectator, 1905.

Prinsep, Valentine Cameron.

Imperial India; an artist's journal, illustrated by numerous sketches taken at the courts of the principal chiefs in India. 1879.....915.4 P95

Prinsep received a commission from the Indian government to paint a picture of the Delhi durbar for the queen. In this way he came in contact with many native rulers and had unusual and interesting experiences.

Sawtell, Arthur.

Actual India; an outline for the general reader. 1904.....915.4 S27

Contents: Geographical.—How India is governed.—How India is defended.—India's foreign politics.—The cost.—"The prosperity" problem.—Industrial development.—English influence.

"Gives just the information that is needed to make clear the methods of British rule, and the fundamental policies that shape the measures of the Indian Government...Not merely a compendium of facts, for the author is avowedly an admirer of the British system in India...but he avoids partisanship." American Geographical Society bulletin, 1905.

Scidmore, Eliza Ruhamah.

Winter India. 1903.....915.4 S41

Travel in India from Madras and Calcutta up to the Khyber Pass and back to Bombay, the regular Indian round. Useful to travelers.

Steel, Mrs Flora Annie.

India, by Mortimer Menpes, text by F. A. Steel. [1905.]..915.4 S813

Mrs Steel's sketch of the country, people, religion, arts and crafts, buildings, etc. is excellent. The colored illustrations, which are undoubtedly clever, vary considerably in merit and in suitability for reproduction by the method employed. Condensed from Athenæum, 1906.

Workman, William Hunter, & Workman, Mrs Fanny (Bullock).

Through town and jungle; fourteen thousand miles a-wheel among the temples and people of the Indian plain. 1904.....q915.4 W89

Although the trip was undertaken for the purpose of visiting the artistic and architectural remains of India, the studious results do not make up the greater part of the book. The incidents and excitements of the journey and the manners and customs of the people form an interesting portion of the narrative.

Persia

Durand, Ella Rebe (Sandys), lady.

Autumn tour in western Persia. 1902.....915.5 D93

"Nothing more than a sketch of an autumn tour in Western Persia... But the reader who does not want politics or commerce will find plenty to interest him in this graphic account of the difficulties of travel in the...country, and we know of no recent book in which the marvelous contrasts of temperature and climate, of scenery and vegetation, in Persia are brought more vividly before the imagination." Spectator, 1902.

Fraser, John Foster.
The real Siberia, with an account of a dash through Manchuria. 1902 ..... 915.7 F88
"A serious attempt to combat the prevalent erroneous conception of Siberia as a barren prison land...If it does not convey the whole truth; if it pictures an ideal rather than the real Siberia it will do much to impart a fuller knowledge of Russian aims and Russian character...The many illustrations are excellent." Saturday review, 1902.

Howard, Benjamin Douglas.
Prisoners of Russia; a personal study of convict life in Sakhalin and Siberia. 1902 ..... 915.7 H84
Sketch of the author, by O. O. Howard, p.5–19.
"Dr. Howard's long familiarity with prison problems in other countries ...rendered him eminently qualified to pronounce with authority on the merits and demerits of the Russian exile system, which is seen in its worst representatives at Sakhalin, to which this work is mainly devoted." Nation, 1902.

Shoemaker, Michael Myers.
Great Siberian railway from St. Petersburg to Pekin. 1903. ..... 915.7 S55

Asiatic Russia. 2v. 1902 ..... 915.7 W93
v.1. Physical geography.—Russian occupation.
v.2. Russian occupation (continued).—Political divisions.—Social, economic and political conditions.—Natural history.
Bibliography, v.2, p.631–637.
"An excellent succinct account of the geography, history, and general conditions of Asiatic Russia at the present time. Although as a geologist he devotes some little space to scientific topics that will not greatly interest most of his readers, history and politics are not neglected. His description of the exploration and conquest of Siberia is particularly good, and his tone throughout is moderate and sensible." Nation, 1902.

Barbary States. Tunis

Poole, Stanley Lane-.
Story of the Barbary corsairs. 1896. (Story of the nations.) 961 P79
"Mr. Poole has made the most of his materials, and given us a very entertaining volume. There is not much intrinsic importance in the story he has to tell, but the presence of the Corsairs at the siege of Malta and at Lepanto enables him to add to its interest and substance by his well-written descriptions of those striking and memorable events." Spectator, 1890.

Butler, Alfred Joshua.
Arab conquest of Egypt, and the last thirty years of the Roman dominion. 1902.....962 B97
"Chief authorities and editions," p.29–34.
"A work infinitely more comprehensive than anything that has before been attempted...Mr. Butler has accumulated practically all there is to know on the subject and his notes and appendices teem with valuable data." London Times literary supplement, 1903.

Dicey, Edward.
Story of the khedivate. 1902.....962 D54
"A strictly political history; it traces the successive stages in the gradual process which converted Egypt from a practically independent Oriental state into a thinly veiled dependency of Great Britain." Athenæum, 1902.

Poole, Stanley Lane-.
Story of Cairo. 1902. (Mediæval towns.) 962 P79
"Authorities," p.10-12.
"As an authority on the art, architecture, and history of mediaeval Egypt, he [Mr Lane-Poole] has no English speaking rival. And the book which he has produced is as charming as it is thorough." Nation, 1902.

Description and travel

Curtis, William Eleroy.
Egypt, Burma and British Malaysia. 1905..... .....916.2 C935
Written in the easy, sketchy style of a newspaper correspondent.

Dunning, Harry Westbrook.
To-day on the Nile. 1905.....916.2 D92
Historical and descriptive guide-book to modern Egypt. Popular but scholarly.

Goltz, Bogumil.
Ein kleinstädter in Aegypten; reise. 1853.....916.2 G59

Gordon, Lucie (Austin), lady Duff-.
Letters from Egypt; revised edition with memoir by her daughter, Janet Ross, new introduction by George Meredith. 1902.....916.2 G65
"Describes with wonderful vividness the Egypt of the sixties...Not for the mass of entertaining information, nor for the succession of vivid descriptions, however, will Lady Gordon's letters be most prized. Their deepest charm lies in the fact that they reveal one of the most fascinating of modern women, one who was almost the best specimen of the highest type of Anglo-Saxon womanhood—highly cultivated, tender, strong, fearless; always ready to protect the weak from social or political tyranny; hating pretence; mixing as a matter of course with the best that London could offer or with the humble fellaheen at Luxor; radiantly beautiful; both witty and humorous; and of perfect courage." Nation, 1902.

Johnston, Sir Harry Hamilton.
The Nile quest; a record of the exploration of the Nile and its basin. 1903.....916.2 J36
"Bibliography of works referred to or consulted in the compilation of this book," p.322-327.
Author is personally familiar with the region and the later expeditions. He begins with very early times and gives the result of the latest expeditions. The account is popular in style and will be interesting to young people as well as older readers.

Kelly, R. Talbot.
Egypt; painted and described. 1903.....916.2 K17
"The most beautiful book on modern Egypt that we have ever seen... Not only a fascinating gallery of seventy-five pictures reproduced in colours...it is also a description of Egypt from the point of view of a painter who has lived much in the land and loves it, and has dwelt among the people in out-of-way parts and made friends of them." Spectator, 1903.

Klunzinger, Carl Benjamin.
Upper Egypt; its people and its products; a descriptive account of the manners, customs, superstitions and occupations of the people of the Nile valley, the desert and the Red sea coast, with sketches of the natural history and geology, with a prefatory notice by Georg Schweinfurth. 1878.....916.2 K33
For much of the time from 1863 to 1875 the author lived at a little town on the Red sea as quarantine doctor for the Egyptian government, and had exceptional opportunities for studying the people and the region.

McCoan, James Carlile.
Egypt as it is. 1877.....916.2 M13
"The author's information has been gained chiefly during a long residence in Egypt; but his own observations have been supplemented by constant reference to the numerous works of recent French writers... The value of the book consists in its descriptions of Egypt's present material and administrative condition." C. K. Adams.

Mühlbach, Louise, (pseud of Frau Clara (Müller) Mundt).
Reisebriefe aus Aegypten. 2v. in 1. 1871.....916.2 M95

Oliphant, Laurence.
Land of Khemi; up and down the middle Nile. 1882.....916.2 O23
Mr Oliphant visited many places which are off the beaten track of the tourist. He describes at some length the Fayûm, a province of Egypt southwest of Cairo.

Peel, Sidney.
Binding of the Nile and the new Soudan. 1904.....916.2 P36
First half of the book describes the engineering works carried out for the regulation of the Nile. Second half is devoted to the new Sudan, its history, education, trade and commerce.

Morocco

Amicis, Edmondo de.
Marocco [in Italian]. 1902.....916.4 A51m

Bensusan, Samuel Levy.
Morocco; painted by A. S. Forrest, described by S. L. Bensusan. 1904.....916.4 B44
In many respects the most interesting book on Morocco that has been published for many years. Devoted principally to descriptions of scenery. The illustrations can hardly be praised too highly. Condensed from Spectator, 1904.

Dawson, Alec John.
Things seen in Morocco; a bundle of jottings, notes, impressions, tales and tributes. 1904.....916.4 D33
"Special insight, rather than special knowledge, makes these sketches valuable: things are seen vividly, and set down just as they were seen...Notwithstanding their unpretentious style, the political essays dealing with the situation in Morocco during the last few years deserve careful study." Athenæum, 1904.

Grove, Agnes (Fox), lady.
Seventy-one days camping in Morocco. 1902.....916.4 G94
A sprightly account of a brief trip, with sidelights upon Lady Grove's views on many subjects. Rather egotistical, but entertaining.

Macnab, Frances, (pseud. of Agnes Fraser).
Ride in Morocco among believers and traders. 1902.....916.4 M21
"A cool and careful survey of the present state of the country, the character and life of the people, the conditions of trade, and the political situation." Spectator, 1902.

Meakin, Budgett.
Life in Morocco and glimpses beyond. 1905.....916.4 M55l
Though the author has already written three weighty tomes upon Morocco, he yet finds much unknown to the tourist. Perhaps this is the best of his works upon the Moors and their land. The most interesting chapters are those on domestic life, which he knows well in all its aspects. Condensed from Saturday review, 1906.
The Moors; a comprehensive description. 1902.....916.4 M55m
The concluding section of Mr Meakin's trilogy. Vol.1, entitled "The Moorish empire," deals mainly with the government and politics of Morocco, from the earliest times to the present day. Vol.2, "The land of the Moors," deals at length with the physical features of the country, its flora and fauna, its ports, cities, rivers, mineral resources, etc. Vol.3, "The Moors," is concerned with the people of the country, ethnologically, socially and morally. The author is (1902) a leading authority on the subject.

South Africa

History

Colquhoun, Archibald Ross.
The Africander land. 1906.....968 C72a
The most helpful of recent books on South Africa. Discusses those questions which are the permanent ingredients in South African policy.

The value of the book lies in its combination of sincerity and optimism. Condensed from Spectator, 1906.

Foote, Andrew Hull.

Africa and the American flag. 1862.....968 F74

"Lieut. Foote commanded the U. S. brig Perry, 1850–51, on the coast of Africa, with orders to break up the slave trade carried on in vessels flying the American flag...Of value is the sketch of the foundation and early history of Liberia. The last half of the book is practically a copy of the log of the ship during the cruise to capture slavers. The narrative is clear, concise, and includes many thrilling incidents." Larned's Literature of American history.

Müller, Ernest Bruce Iwan-.

Lord Milner and South Africa. 1902.....968 M95

Lord Milner was (1897–1905) high commissioner for South Africa. The book is a valuable and reliable summary of South African history and of the administration of Lord Milner, of whom the author writes as a personal friend and political admirer.

Peel, Sidney.

Trooper 8008, I. Y. 1901.....968 P36

Straightforward account of the author's company of yeomanry in the Boer war. The Imperial Yeomanry are a corps without precedent in modern military history, for never before had so large a force of mounted riflemen, who were practically none of them professional soldiers, been placed in the field by any European army.

Selous, Frederick Courteney.

Sunshine and storm in Rhodesia; a narrative of events in Matabeleland, both before and during the recent native insurrection, up to the date of the disbandment of the Bulawayo field force. 1896.....968 S46

Personal experiences in the Matabele rebellion of 1896 against the government of the British South Africa company.

Readable and accurate outline history of South African colonization.

Wet, Christiaan Rudolf de.

Three years' war. 1902.....968 W57

"Story of the Boer-British struggle of 1899–1902...There is no discussion of the previous South African affairs which led up to the outbreak of hostilities. The weight of the story is derived chiefly from the character and achievements of the author, who, at an early period of the military operations, was advanced from the ranks...to the leadership of the army." Nation, 1903.

Gibson, James Young.

Story of the Zulus. 1903.....968.3 G37

History of this South African nation during two centuries.

Description and travel

Baines, Thomas.

Author (1794–1851) was an English pioneer missionary.

Kidd, Dudley.
The essential Kafir. 1904.....916.8 K24
"Bibliography," p.417–428.
"Intended to serve as a warm-blooded character-sketch of the South African natives, in which everything that is of broad human interest takes precedence...The word Kafir is used in its broadest sense, so as to include all the dark-skinned tribes of South Africa." Preface.
Admirably illustrated.

Mackenzie, John.
Ten years north of the Orange river; a story of everyday life and work among the South African tribes from 1859 to 1869. 1871 .....r916.8 M18

Martin, Minnie.
Basutoland; its legends and customs. 1903.....916.8 M428
Written from the experience of a ten years' residence in Basutoland. Gives a sketch of Basuto history and customs and narrates some of its popular legends.

Peters, Carl.
Eldorado of the ancients. 1902.....916.8 P45
Account of the author's search for gold fields in the lower Zambesi region of South Africa. He believes that this region was the Ophir of the ancients.

Roskoschny, Hermann.
Europas kolonien; Süd-Afrika bis zum Sambesi und Kap Frio; nach den neuesten quellen geschildert. 1886....q916.8 R73

Selous, Frederick Courteney.
Travel and adventure in south-east Africa; the narrative of eleven years spent on the Zambesi and its tributaries, with an account of the colonisation of Mashunaland and the progress of the gold industry in that country. 1893..916.8 S46
From 1882 to 1887 the author was engaged in collecting specimens of the fauna of the region, and he tells many lion stories and tales of hunting adventures. Later he was in the employ of the British South Africa company and acted as guide in the pioneer expedition to Mashonaland.

Madagascar

Ellis, William, 1794–1872.
Three visits to Madagascar during the years 1853, 1854, 1856; including a journey to the capital, with notices of the natural history of the country and of the present civilization of the people. 1859.....916.9 E53
As secretary of the London Missionary Society Ellis made several trips to Madagascar.
"In 1852 the affairs of Madagascar had reached such a crisis that Ellis was requested by the directors of the society to visit the island, in order to ascertain and improve the condition of the Christians. When he arrived in 1853 he was not allowed to proceed to the capital. He retired for a time to Mauritius; visited Madagascar a second time, and was again refused access to the capital. Before he arrived in England communications reached him indicating that a change had come over the authorities, and conveying their invitation to him to visit them." Dictionary of national biography.

[Warburton, George Drought.]
Conquest of Canada. 2v. 1850 ..... 971 W21
"First complete English study on this important period. It is an admirable piece of work, and, despite the scanty resources then available, still holds honourable position with the studies of Parkman, Kingsford and Casgrain." Larned's Literature of American history.

Description and travel

Baedeker, Karl, comp.
Dominion of Canada, with Newfoundland and an excursion to Alaska. 1907 ..... 917.1 B14a Bouchette, Joseph.

British dominions in North America; or, A topographical and statistical description of the provinces of lower and upper Canada, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, the islands of Newfoundland, Prince Edward and Cape Breton, including considerations on land-granting and emigration; to which are annexed statistical tables and tables of distances, &c. 2v. 1832.....qr917.1 B65

"Full of valuable detail, statistical and geographical, the maps and plates are excellent. Bouchette (1774–1841) was Surveyor-General; he came of a family holding various offices under government and was a strong upholder of imperial rule—traces of this throughout his works gave offence at the time, but apart from this defect all his work is authoritative and valuable." Larned's Literature of American history.

Bouchette, Joseph, comp.

Topographical dictionary of the province of lower Canada. 1832 .....qr917.1 B65t

"This work is more categorical and methodical than the first bearing the same title [issued in 1815], and greatly exceeds it in scope and statistical information, but on the other hand it is entirely lacking in the descriptive interest of the first." Larned's Literature of American history.

Bradley, Arthur Granville.

Canada in the twentieth century. 1903.....917.1 B68

By an Englishman who has lived in Canada. Furnishes valuable information in regard to social and agricultural conditions and points out the inducements which Canada offers to English emigrants.

Canada—Geographic board.

Report (5th–6th), containing all decisions to June 30, 1904–06. 1904–06.....r917.1 C167

Being supplement to the annual report of the Department of marine and fisheries.

Fountain, Paul.

Great North-west and the Great lake region of North America. 1904.....917.1 F83

Like his two former works, written primarily for the naturalist and the sportsman, but less exclusively devoted to natural history than they. Includes material regarding the Hudson Bay Company, the Indians, and some frank criticisms of the "Yankee."

Fraser, John Foster.

Canada as it is. 1905.....917.1 F88

Concise popular account of Canada, her resources and her policy, written by an English journalist. Many illustrations from photographs.

Grant, George Monro, ed.

Easternmost ridge of the continent. 1899 .....q917.1 G78e

Contents: New Brunswick, by C. G. D. Roberts. — Nova Scotia, by R. Murray and Mrs A. Simpson.—Prince Edward Island, by R. Murray. —The lower St. Lawrence and the Saguenay, by J. G. A. Creighton.—Lumbering, by Principal Grant and A. Fleming.

Our picturesque northern neighbor. 1899 .....q917.1 G78

Contents: Toronto and vicinity, by G. M. Adam.—From Toronto westward, by J. H. Hunter.—From Toronto to Lake Huron, by A. Kemp and Principal Grant. — Manitoba, by Principal Grant. — Red river to Hudson's bay, by Robert Bell.—The Mennonites, by J. B. McLaren.—Winnipeg to Rocky mountains, British Columbia, by Principal Grant.

Picturesque spots of the North. 1899 .....q917.1 G78p

Contents: Georgian bay and the Muskoka lakes, by G. M. Adam.—The upper lakes, by G. A. Mackenzie.—Central Ontario, by J. H. Hunter. —Eastern Ontario, by Principal Grant and A. M. Machar.— Niagara district, by Louise Murray.

Harmon, Daniel Williams.

Journal of voyages and travels in the interior of North America, between the 47th and 58th degrees of n. lat., extending from Montreal nearly to the Pacific, a distance of about 5,000 miles; including an account of the principal occurrences during a residence of nineteen years in different parts of the country, with introduction and map. 1903.....r917.1 H27

Beginning in 1800, Harmon spent 19 years in the service of the Northwest Fur Company, eight of these being passed between the Rocky mountains and the Pacific ocean. He lived much with the Indians, contributes many valuable ethnographical studies, much geographical information and many interesting details about the company.

Head, Sir George.

Forest scenes and incidents in the wilds of North America; a diary of a winter's route from Halifax to the Canadas, and during four months' residence in the woods on the borders of Lakes Huron and Simcoe. 1838.....r917.1 H38

Heriot, George.

Travels through the Canadas. 1807.....qr917.1 H47

"The author's position as Deputy Postmaster-General for Canada in 1805–6 gave him exceptional opportunities for personal observations of the topographical features, economic conditions and social life of Lower Canada and of the new settlements on the north shore of the St. Lawrence and Great Lakes. Of the interior of the country he knows nothing. The illustrations are specially valuable. The nine chapters on the Indians are compiled from second and third rate authorities." Larned's Literature of American history.

Lumsden, James.

Through Canada in harvest time; a study of life and labour in the golden West. 1903.....917.1 L97

Author was one of a group of journalists who, at the invitation of the Canadian government, made a tour of the country. He describes the present (1903) state of the Canadian West, its industries and resources and notes the advantages it offers to the English emigrant. Gives numerous agricultural statistics.

[Warburton, George Drought.]

Hochelaga; or, England in the New World; ed. by Eliot Warburton. 2v. in 1. 1846.....r917.1 W21

"One of the best of the many works on American travel published in England during the third, fourth and fifth decades of the nineteenth century...Maj. Warburton was a shrewd observer, and describes scenery and manners, and reports conversations and public opinion with a pleasant spice." Larned's Literature of American history.

Whates, H. R.

Canada, the new nation; a book for the settler, the emigrant and the politician. 1906.....917.1 W59

"He went to Canada as a steerage passenger, posed as an emigrant, and made actual trial of the difficulties which confront the settler...The result is a book which is partly a record of travel, partly a most practical guide to the intending settler, and partly a careful and sympathetic study of Canadian political thought. Mr. Whates writes with grace and distinction, he has keen powers of observation, and the tolerant, humorous outlook of the true traveller." Spectator, 1906.

British Columbia

Manning, William Ray.

Nootka sound controversy. 1905.....r971.1 M33

"Bibliography," p.472–478.

Dissertation submitted to the faculty of the graduate school of the University of Chicago in candidacy for the degree of doctor of philosophy.

British Columbia—Provincial information bureau.

Year book of British Columbia and manual of provincial information, 1897, 1903. 1897–1903.....r917.11 B75

Year book for 1897 contains a chapter on the Canadian Yukon.

Outram, James.

In the heart of the Canadian Rockies. 1905.....917.11 O32

Stutfield, Hugh Edward Millington, & Collie, J. N.

Climbs & exploration in the Canadian Rockies. 1903....917.11 S93

This attractive volume is more than a record of mountain climbing. It gives the reader a very good idea of the fine scenery and physical features of the Great Lone Land.

Northwest territory

Ballantyne, Robert Michael.

Hudson bay; or, Everyday life in the wilds of North America during six years' residence in the territories of the Hon. Hudson Bay Company. 1902.....917.12 B21

Biographical sketch of the author, p.9–15.

"Among the considerable number of writers who have served that Company, none have produced a more complete, interesting and evidently faithful narration of the various phases of a fur trader's life among the Indians, than Mr. Ballantyne." Field's Indian bibliography.

Hanbury, David T.

Sport and travel in the northland of Canada. 1904.....917.12 H23

Describes experiences in the region between the northern part of Hudson bay and Great Bear and Great Slave lakes, 1901–02. For part of the route Mr Hanbury was the first explorer and he makes some interesting discoveries. There is a most favorable account of the Eskimo whom he thinks much superior to the Indian. Many illustrations from the author's photographs.

Quebec. Montreal

History

Bosworth, Newton.

Hochelaga depicta; the early history and present state of the city and island of Montreal. 1901. (Facsimile reprints of early Canadian books, no.1.).....r971.4 B64

Reprint of edition of 1839.

"The historical chapters are of little value, as the author failed to consult those archives of which the Abbé Faillon afterwards made such admirable use, but the sketch of the rebellions of 1837-8, though very brief, has the value of a contemporary narrative. The descriptive portions of the book are written with great exactitude, the illustrations are excellent for the day and there are two good maps." Larned's Literature of American history.

Doughty, Arthur George, & Dionne, N. E.

Quebec under two flags; a brief history of the city from its foundation until the present time [1903]. 1903.....971.4 D75

Best existing handbook on Quebec. Describes its ancient prestige and its modern attractions and supplies much valuable local information to the tourist. Admirably illustrated. Adapted from Nation, 1904.

Doughty, Arthur George, & Parmelee, G. W.

Siege of Quebec and the battle of the Plains of Abraham. 6v. 1901.....r971.4 D75

Life of Wolfe, v.1, p.1–128; life of Montcalm, v.1, p.129–264.

Bibliography of the siege of Quebec, v.6, p.153–313.

Valuable and exhaustive work. v.1 contains a life of Wolfe and of Montcalm; v.2–3, an account of the siege of Quebec and the battle of the Plains; v.4, letters of Bourgainville, extracts from dispatches of the Russian ambassadors in London and Paris to Catherine II, journal of Foligné, journal of Joannès, other letters and journals; v.5, a miscellaneous collection of letters, journals and documents; v.6, the original correspondence of Gen. Wolfe, the Galway papers, extracts from Mrs Stopford Sackville's papers, and a full annotated bibliography of the siege.

Parker, Sir Gilbert, & Bryan, C. G.
Old Quebec, the fortress of New France. 1903.....971.4 P23
"The city, not the province, so far as the two can be detached, is the subject of this charming work...[which] will be read for the charm and truth of its story, not as a study on current politics and future problems." Academy, 1903.

Diaz del Castillo, Bernal.
Memoirs written by himself, containing a true and full account of the discovery and conquest of Mexico and New Spain; tr. by J. I. Lockhart. 2v. 1844.....972 D53
Diaz was a soldier under Cortés and actively engaged throughout his campaign.
"Bernal Diaz, the untutored child of nature, is a most true and literal copyist of nature...He is among chroniclers what De Foe is among novelists. He introduces us into the heart of the camp...All the picturesque scenes and romantic incidents of the campaign are reflected in his pages as in a mirror." Prescott's Conquest of Mexico.

Hale, Susan.
Story of Mexico. 1894. (Story of the nations.).....r972 H16
"Readable volume, written in a style of entertaining familiarity, and with a thoughtless disregard for exact accuracy in the statements of facts." Larned's Literature of American history.

History of the United States [to 1902]. 1903.....973 A21

"References" at the close of each chapter.

Its principal objects, as set forth in the preface, are: first, to present fully and fairly the Southern point of view; second, to treat the Revolutionary war impartially and with due regard for British contentions; third, to emphasize the importance of the West in the development of the United States.

"Intended to meet the requirements of the high-school course suggested by the Committee of Seven...The style is clear and the paragraphs short, so the book is likely to prove eminently usable in recitation." American historical review, 1903.

Barnes, (A.S.) & Co. pub.

Popular history of the United States of America [to 1904, by J. D. Steel and Mrs Esther Baker Steel]. 2v. 1904...j973 B25

"Intended to provide a more detailed treatment of the history of the United States...than can be given in the ordinary school or college compendium...Cannot be recommended as entirely satisfactory. The first part of the work treating of settlement and colonial life is better than the long chapters on the wars and later political administrations. Particularly in the last part of the book there is not sufficient generalization, and topics are treated indiscriminately without due regard to their importance or perspective...Many illustrations, but many of them are badly executed." Larned's Literature of American history.

The history of America in the later part of the pioneer period, 1810–40, centres about the roads and canals which were to that day what our railways are to us to-day. This series of monographs treats of the evolution of these highways of war, immigration and commerce, and of the part they played in the development of the nation.

The same. Book 2. (In New York Historical Society. Collections, 1868, v.1, p.1–176.).....qr974.7 N261 v.1

"Not strictly a book of annals, but a history of the English-American colonies prior to 1689. For his time Chalmers made good use of the materials in the British Public Record Office. He is an authority of the first importance on points of colonial public law. He is not sympathetic toward the Puritans or toward other early defenders of colonial independence. Still his temper is judicial, his knowledge—considering the time when he wrote—was adequate, his judgment sober. His style is clear, but without ornament. He cites authorities for all important statements." Larned's Literature of American history.

Three chapters of Book II of the work as planned by Chalmers are printed in the Collections of the New York Historical Society. They contain the history of the colonies from the Revolution of 1689 to the establishment of the Board of Trade in 1696.

Border wars of New England, commonly called King William's and Queen Anne's wars. 1897.....j973.2 D78b

"Samuel G. Drake had collected a mass of materials for the history of these two...wars...but he did not live to arrange them for publication. These materials and others his son has used in the preparation of this volume, and that with a beauty of style and arrangement to which the father could scarcely lay claim. The book is an original contribution to the history of the intercolonial wars, and has, at the same time, the popular charm which belongs to all the writings of this author. The views expressed concerning the essential conditions and issues of the struggle are believed to be sound." Larned's Literature of American history.

Hennepin, Louis.

New discovery of a vast country in America; reprinted from the second London issue of 1698, with facsimiles of original title-pages, maps and illustrations and the addition of introduction, notes and index by R. G. Thwaites. 2v. 1903.....r973.2 H44

"Bibliographical data," by V. H. Paltsits, v.1, p.45–64.

"Relation of an exploration of the Illinois River and upper Mississippi by Hennepin, who accompanied La Salle as almoner on his expedition in the discovery of the Mississippi. Captured by the Sioux, and carried up beyond the Falls of St. Anthony which he named, Hennepin experienced the adventures which form one of the most interesting, as it is one of the most important relations of French pioneers in America. Unfortunately, Hennepin, after the death of La Salle, republished his narrative, changing it so as to contain an exploration of the mouth of the Mississippi, before ascending to its source, thus claiming the glory of La Salle's achievements." Larned's Literature of American history.

v.6. Exploration des affluents du Mississippi et découverte des Montagnes Rocheuses (1679–1754).

"A valuable collection of original memoirs and documents." C. K. Adams, 1888.

Result of more than 30 years of research on the part of M. Margry, director of the Archives of the Marine and Colonies in Paris, his object being to throw light on the achievements of the French explorers of North America, especially La Salle. v.1–3 are devoted to La Salle, and his enterprises, and include some important letters by La Salle. The narrative of La Salle's companion, Henri Joutel, (in v.3) also deserves special mention. v.4–6 contain accounts of the attempts of other French explorers to continue the enterprises of La Salle, notably the discoveries of d'Iberville (in v.4). v.5 includes accounts of the chain of posts established by the French between the St. Lawrence river and the Gulf of Mexico, especially that at Detroit. v.6 contains much interesting material relating to discoveries west of the Mississippi river.

The American revolution. v.3. 1907.....973.3 T73

v.3. Saratoga and Brandywine.—Valley Forge.—England and France at war.

In attempting to write a sequel to his early history of Charles James Fox Mr Trevelyan found the story of Fox from 1774 to 1782 so inextricably interwoven with that of the American revolution that he was finally led into writing this history.

"With Fox as a central figure, the story of the American Revolution is told with freshness, no small knowledge, and in a spirit of generous sympathy with all that was best in the Revolution...Here and there are brilliant sketches of men and manners, and terse epigrammatic sayings recalling pages, and these by no means the least effective, of the author's illustrious uncle." The Times (London), 1899.

Olive branch; or, Faults on both sides, Federal and Democratic; a serious appeal on the necessity of mutual forgiveness and harmony. 1815.....r973.5 C19

"A review of the history of the United States with the object of showing both Federalists and Republicans their faults and errors, and so drawing the parties together for the salvation of the Union, which seemed to be on the verge of dissolution. It contains some valuable original documents; impartially scourges both parties, and bitterly attacks the Hartford Convention. Carey was a conscientious, industrious, narrow-minded man, who wrote with care, but was too near the subjects he discusses to be either fair or accurate. As literature the book is worthless." Larned's Literature of American history.

Coggeshall, George.

History of the American privateers and letters-of-marque during our war with England in the years of 1812, '13 and '14, interspersed with several naval battles between American and British ships-of-war. 1861.....r973.5 C66

Cruikshank, Ernest Alexander, ed.

Documentary history of the campaign on the Niagara frontier, 1812–14. v.7. 1905. (Lundy's Lane Historical Society. Publications.).....r973.5 C897

"The dispatches and reports of each side are arranged chronologically, and the student is able to follow closely the course of events, the changing intentions of either side, the fears and hopes which alternately depressed and stimulated the British and the American forces. The secrets of the respective generals are laid bare, and the deficiencies of the two armies revealed." Wrong & Langton's Historical publications relating to Canada.

"Invaluable for a study of that portion of the war." Larned's Literature of American history.

For v.1–6 see preceding catalogue.

Giddings, Joshua Reed, (pseud. Pacificus).

Exiles of Florida; or, The crimes committed by our government against the maroons who fled from South Carolina and other slave states, seeking protection under Spanish laws. 1858.....r973.5 G37

"The 'exiles' are the fugitive Indian and negro slaves who fled from the Carolinas and Georgia to Spanish protection in the Floridas. In this connection the author treats of the Seminole Indian wars, the troubles between the Seminoles and Creeks, and the final flight of the remnant of the 'exiles' to Mexico. The author, being an ardent anti-slavery agitator, writes from that view-point." Larned's Literature of American history.

Johnson, Rossiter.

History of the War of 1812–'15. 1882.....j973.5 J36

"Description of the land and naval battles, with chapters on the causes of the war, and the Hartford convention...The style is easy and the book readable, but shows no evidence of investigation or new matter." Larned's Literature of American history.

Latour, Arsène Lacarrière.

Historical memoir of the war in West Florida and Louisiana in 1814–15, with an atlas; tr. [fr. the French] by H. P. Nugent. 1816.....r973.5 L35

"A succinct and graphic account of the campaign that culminated in the battle of New Orleans." Larned's Literature of American history.

"Latour [who was Gen. Jackson's chief engineer] is the only trustworthy contemporary American historian of this war, and even he at times absurdly exaggerates the British forces and loss." Roosevelt's Naval war of 1812.

McAfee, Robert Breckinridge.

History of the late war in the western country; account of the transactions in that quarter from the commencement of hostilities at Tippecanoe to the termination of the contest at New Orleans on the return of peace. 1816 ..... r973.5 M11

"The author of this now scarce work sought and obtained a large amount of information, regarding the Indian wars of the western frontier, from the actors engaged in them. His narrative, therefore, contains much material, which later histories either do not possess, or only copy from his pages." Field's Indian bibliography.

Mahan, Capt. Alfred Thayer.

Sea power in its relations to the War of 1812. 2v. 1905...973.5 M25

One of the most scholarly of recent American histories. It gives a large proportion of its space to the determining causes of the war, going back to 1651 for its origin. Condensed from Nation, 1906.

Perkins, Samuel.

History of the political and military events of the late war between the United States and Great Britain. 1825..r973.5 P43

"One of the best histories of the War of 1812. It narrates with sufficient fulness the land and naval operations; brings out clearly the points of controversy which led to the war, the national questions involved and the effect on party spirit and the character of the people. Although like all American histories of its period, it is strongly partisan, it takes due recognition of the claims of both parties to the conflict, and obviously aims to present the truth with judicial impartiality." Larned's Literature of American history.

Richardson, John, 1796-1852.

Richardson's War of 1812, with notes and a life of the author by A. C. Casselman. 1902 .....973.5 R41

Introduction contains a bibliography of Major Richardson's writings.

"The author served during the campaigns in the vicinity of Detroit, which he undertakes to describe as a volunteer attached to the 41st Regiment, depending on his recollections, with the help of a few official documents. The narrative is generally fluent and vivid, but in many instances inaccurate in detail and intemperate in judgment. It abounds, however, in local color and deserves attention as the statement of an eye-witness." Larned's Literature of American history.

Smith, Zachariah Frederick.

Battle of New Orleans; including the previous engagements between the Americans and the British, the Indians and the Spanish, which led to the final conflict on the 8th of January 1815. 1904. (Filson Club. Publications.) qr973.5 S66

"Authorities consulted," p.3–5.

Sprague, John Titcomb.

Origin, progress and conclusion of the Florida war. 1848...r973.5 S76

"The story of the wonderful contests of a savage tribe of less than four thousand, of all ages, in 1822, and less than one thousand in 1845, with the disciplined forces of the United States, for nearly a quarter of a century, is here told with all the minutest relations." Larned's Literature of American history.

Young, Bennett Henderson.

Battle of the Thames, in which Kentuckians defeated the British, French and Indians, October 5, 1813, with a list of the officers and privates who won the victory. 1903. (Filson club. Publications.).....qr973.5 Y36

Mexican war

Furber, George C.
Twelve months volunteer; or, Journal of a private in the Tennessee regiment of cavalry in the campaign in Mexico, 1846–7; including a complete history of the war with Mexico. 1850.....r973.6 F98

[Giddings, Luther.]
Sketches of the campaign in northern Mexico in eighteen hundred forty-six and seven. 1853.....r973.6 G37

Hughes, John T.
Doniphan's expedition; containing an account of the conquest of New Mexico, General Kearney's overland expedition to California, Doniphan's campaign against the Navajos, his unparalleled march upon Chihuahua and Durango and the operations of General Price at Santa Fé; with a sketch of the life of Col. Doniphan. 1847.....r973.6 H89

"Conscientious portrayal of the events attending the expedition of the 'Army of the West' during the Mexican War of 1846–7, including the conquest of New Mexico, the treaty with the Navaho Indians, and Doniphan's remarkable invasion and capture of Chihuahua and his triumphant march through Durango and Coahuila with less than 1000 men...There is much of historical value in the book not found elsewhere, and it contains in addition a fairly good account of the country traversed at a time when the outer world knew little of it." Larned's Literature of American history.

Kendall, George Wilkins.
War between the United States and Mexico illustrated, embracing pictorial drawings of all the principal conflicts by Carl Nebel, with a description of each battle by G. W. Kendall. 1851.....qr973.6 K17

Ladd, Horatio Oliver.
History of the War with Mexico. 1883.....j973.6 L13

"Ought to be welcomed by a great many persons who have wished a compendious account...The illustrations are for the most part of the usual kind—fancy pictures—but good of their kind." Nation, 1883.

Ripley, Roswell Sabin.
War with Mexico. 2v. 1849.....r973.6 R48

"The best military history of the war...As might be expected in a book by a professonal soldier, it deals fully with strategic operations, and, except for a certain tendency to underrate the work of the navy, it is a highly satisfactory book." J. R. Soley in Winsor's Narrative and critical history of America.

Civil war

General history

Civil war stories; comp. from official records, Union and Confederate. 1903.....973.7 B41

Contents: In the beginning.—In the South in 1861.—The negro in the war.—Enforcement of the draft.—Loyal east Tennessee.—Prisoners of war.—Political prisoners.—Clement L. Vallandigham.—Four tragedies.—A chapter of sundries.—Letter from the pope.—Peace negotiations.—Surrender of Lee and Johnston.—A month of anxiety.—Consternation at Washington.—Friendships and animosities.—Prison days of Jefferson Davis.

"Thin volume...in which are condensed, with his own shrewd and judicious comments, a few of the phases of tragedy and comedy revealed by the Records." Nation, 1903.

Gurowski, Adam G. count de.

Diary, 1861–65. v.1, 3. 1862–66.....r973.7 G97

v.1. March 4–Nov. 12, 1862.

v.3. 1863–'64–'65.

By an intelligent and profoundly interested observer of public affairs in his adopted country. His book is marred by the intensity of his personal feeling and a bitter hostility toward Gen. McClellan. Condensed from North American review, 1863.

Hart, Albert Bushnell, comp.

Romance of the Civil war. 1903. (Source-readers in American history, no.4.).....j973.7 H31

Heusinger, Otto.

Amerikanische kriegsbilder; aufzeichnungen aus den jahren 1861–1865. 1869.....973.7 H49

Confederate soldier in the Civil war, 1861–1865. 1897...qr973.7 L47

Lee, Guy Carleton.

True history of the Civil war. 1903.....973.7 L52

The field covered is extensive, including the origins of sectional division from the landing at Jamestown, the slavery controversy, the Civil war, and the reconstruction period. Decidedly partizan in tone, its purpose apparently being to subject to steadily searching criticism the motives and actions of the Northern side in the whole slavery contest. Condensed from American historical review, 1904.

[Lester, Charles Edwards.]

Light and dark of the Rebellion. 1863.....r973.7 L65

Not a continuous narrative, but slight sketches of incidents connected with the war.

McClure, Alexander Kelly.

Abraham Lincoln and men of war-times; personal recollections of war and politics during the Lincoln administration. 1892.....973.7 M137

Contains a chapter on the "Pennsylvania reserve corps."

"This book professes to be...a collection of personal reminiscences about the Civil War and its leading actors. Examined more carefully, however, it becomes self-evident that its author has gleaned from other publications nearly every item of general interest or value. This encyclopædic flavor is so strong that it will lead discriminating students to save time and labor by going directly to original sources, some of which are indicated in the preface, instead of accepting made-over statements and views." Larned's Literature of American history.

Reed, John Calvin.

The brothers' war. 1905.....973.7 R28

"He...works and writes as a part of the energetic new South...His main thesis is that economic interest, not principle or derivation, made two distinct and antagonistic peoples in the United States... Mr. Reed discusses different periods and influences in the evolution of the conflict." Nation, 1906.

Smith, Goldwin.

Civil war in America; an address read at the last meeting of the Manchester Union and Emancipation Society. 1866.....r973.7 S648

"It is something more than this title would seem to indicate; it really is a brief account of the people of the free states, of the spirit of their political system, of their social theories and practice, by a philosophic student of history, his defence of all these against the attacks commonly made on them by the friends of absolutism and aristocracy, and his exposition of their virtues and defects. The literary merits of the work are such as by themselves make it worthy the perusal of most readers and the study of most writers." Nation, 1866.

Tenney, William Jewett.
Military and naval history of the Rebellion in the United States, with biographical sketches of deceased officers. 1865. .....q973.7 T29
"Painstaking and very full history of the Civil War, covering not only the principal battles by land and sea, but also important skirmishes... besides describing with diagrams the hospital and ambulance service and elucidating the manner of organizing and equipping troops, methods of fortification, treatment of prisoners, and political and civil affairs incidental to the war. The biographical sketches cover officers of both armies who died between May 24, 1861, and June 23, 1865... The narrative is, however, colorless and has the aridity of an encyclopædia." Larned's Literature of American history.

Werner, Edgar Albert, comp.
Historical sketch of the War of the rebellion from 1861 to 1865. 1890. .....973.7 W53
"Compendium of the campaigns, engagements, losses, proclamations, etc., making up a skeleton of the official history of the war. In the same manner the reconstruction of the Union is given." Larned's Literature of American history.

Political history. Principles involved

Brackenridge, Henry Marie.
A speech delivered in the presidential campaign of 1864; Sixty years in the North and twenty years in the South. 1865. Pittsburgh.....r973.7 B67

Congdon, Charles Taber.
Tribune essays; leading articles contributed to the New York tribune from 1857 to 1863; with an introduction by Horace Greeley. 1869.....973.7 C74
Editorial leaders, satirical in character, on slavery and Civil war issues.

Giddings, Joshua Reed, (pseud. Pacificus).
History of the Rebellion; its authors and causes. 1864...r973.7 G37
History of the antislavery struggle in Congress. Author was an abolitionist and a member of Congress from 1838 to 1859.

Harris, Alexander.
Review of the political conflict in America from the commencement of the anti-slavery agitation to the close of Southern reconstruction; comprising also a résumé of the career of Thaddeus Stevens; a survey of the struggle of parties which destroyed the republic and virtually monarchized its government. 1876.....973.7 H291
Describes Thaddeus Stevens as "the leading revolutionist of the American Congress" and "the unconcealed contemner of law and of the Federal Constitution."

Motley, John Lothrop.
Causes of the American civil war; a letter to the London Times. 1861.....r973.7 M941
Statement of the principles involved in the war.

South Carolina—Convention of 1852.
Journal, with the resolution and ordinance. 1852.....r973.7 S726j

Stanton, Robert Livingstone.

The church and the Rebellion; a consideration of the rebellion against the government of the United States, and the agency of the church, North and South, in relation thereto. 1864.....r973.7 S79

Stephens, Alexander Hamilton.

Constitutional view of the late war between the states. 2v. 1868–70. .....973.7 S83

"These volumes by one of the ablest as well as one of the most conspicuous champions of the South, might very properly have been called a history of the doctrines of nullification and secession. But they are not simply a history, they are an argument...There has probably been no abler presentation of the argument of the South." C. K. Adams.

Reviewers reviewed; a supplement to the "War between the states," etc., with an appendix in review of "Reconstruction," so called, by Linton Stephens and C. J. Jenkins. 1872.....r973.7 S83r

"Further defence of the positions taken in the Constitutional view of the late war between the states. It is largely composed of articles written for the newspapers in answer to criticisms...Does not add much to the force of the author's main argument." Larned's Literature of American history.

Stokes, William A. & Cowan, Edgar.

Speeches delivered at the Union convention, Westmoreland county, Pa., September 1861. 1861. Pittsburgh.....r973.7 S87

Weeden, William Babcock.

War government, federal and state, in Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania and Indiana, 1861–1865. 1906.....973.7 W42

Laborious study of the "interplay" of federal and state authority during the war. Incidentally, it contains a narrative of the war, and discussions of the parts played in it by Lincoln, Stanton, war governors and "copperheads," with sketches of Andrew, Morton, Seymour and other leading men. Condensed from Nation, 1906.

Diplomatic history

Weed, Thurlow.

Letters from Europe, 1861–'62.....r973.7 W42

Weed (1797–1882) was an American journalist and politician. In 1861 he was sent to Europe by President Lincoln to use his influence with foreign governments to abstain from intervention on behalf of the Confederacy. His "Letters from Europe" relate to this mission.

Naval history

Bulloch, Capt. James D.

Secret service of the Confederate States in Europe; or, How the Confederate cruisers were equipped. 2v. 1883.....973.7 B87

"Easily first in authority upon its subject. Captain Bullock was the naval representative of the Confederacy in Europe and its authoritative agent in building and fitting out the Alabama and other cruisers." Larned's Literature of American history.

Special campaigns and battles

Barnard, John Gross.

Peninsular campaign and its antecedents, as developed by the report of Maj.-Gen. Geo. B. McClellan, and other published documents. 1864.....r973.7 B25p

"Gen. Barnard...was Chief Engineer of the Army of the Potomac during the campaign here discussed, and Gen. McClellan became alienated from him by reason of differences of opinion as to the conduct of the army operations. Gen. Barnard thus became involved in the discussion of the campaign, and later presented his view of it, reviewing McClellan's report. His acknowledged ability, his standing in the army, and his intimate personal knowledge of the events he deals with, combine to make his book an important original contribution to the war history." Larned's Literature of American history.

Dodge, William Sumner.

History of the old second division, Army of the Cumberland; commanders, M'Cook, Sill and Johnson. 1864..r973.7 D67

Fitch, John, of Illinois.

Personal narratives

Aughey, John Hill.
The iron furnace; or, Slavery and secession. 1863.....r973.7 A91

Avary, Myrta Lockett, ed.
Virginia girl in the Civil war, 1861–1865; a record of the actual experiences of the wife of a Confederate officer. 1903.....973.7 A94
"Some dramatic experiences of the girlish wife of a Confederate cavalry officer, mostly in and around Richmond...The volume is a readable contribution to war history, and, moreover, is in an entirely 'reconstructed' temper." Nation, 1903.

Benton, Charles E.
As seen from the ranks; a boy in the Civil war. 1902.....973.7 B44
Author belonged to a regiment band in the Civil war, and he describes the particulars of a soldier's life in camp and on the march.

Chesnut, Mrs Mary Boykin (Miller).
A diary from Dixie; ed. by I. D. Martin and M. L. Avary. 1905.....973.7 C42
Picture of the social life of the South during the war.

Eggleston, George Cary.
A rebel's recollections. 1897.....973.7 E35
"Has helped...readers to understand that those opposed to the Union in the late war were as sincere as its friends, and were moved by a patriotism which differed only from ours in being mistaken." Atlantic monthly, 1875.

Gordon, John Brown.
Reminiscences of the Civil war. 1903.....973.7 G65
Author was a Confederate general, and his reminiscences, which include history, anecdote and critical comment, cover the entire period of the war. They are singularly free from bitterness or partisanship.

Goss, Warren Lee.
Recollections of a private; a story of the Army of the Potomac. 1890.....j973.7 G69r
"The book is interesting as showing what a man experiences as he develops from a recruit to a veteran under the pressure of active service, and is of value in bringing to view the public opinion of the camp concerning the directing forces, intelligent and otherwise, of campaigns ...It is a good book for the average reader, boy or man." Nation, 1890.

Haupt, Herman.
Reminiscences, giving hitherto unpublished official orders, personal narratives of important military operations and interviews with President Lincoln and others; with notes and a personal sketch by F. A. Flower. 1901...q973.7 H35
Biography, by F. A. Flower, p.13-40.

Principally a record of the experiences of the author, who was captain in an Indiana regiment.

Hunter, Alexander.
Johnny Reb and Billy Yank. 1905.....973.7 H94
"Exceedingly well-written and good-tempered account of experiences in the Confederate ranks during the whole of the Civil war." Nation, 1905.

M'Bride, R. E.

In the ranks from the Wilderness to Appomattox Court-house; the war, as seen and experienced by a private soldier in the Army of the Potomac. 1881.....973.7 M12

Porter, Admiral David Dixon.

Incidents and anecdotes of the Civil war. 1885.....973.7 P835

"Nobody in the navy saw more of the Civil war than Admiral Porter, and few equalled him in 'spinning yarns.' He has made a most racy and entertaining book, full of the spirit and the incidents of the time, and of the local color of passing events. Like most purely personal recollections unchecked by careful comparison with contemporaneous records, it must be used for historical purposes with caution." Larned's Literature of American history.

Riddle, Albert Gallatin.

Recollections of war times; reminiscences of men and events in Washington, 1860-1865. 1895 .....973.7 R43

"Author was a member of Congress from 1861 to 1863 and was almost continuously in Washington thereafter. He writes from a Republican standpoint of the war measures, early reconstruction, the election of 1864, and of Lincoln's death. The retreat from the first battle of Bull Run is graphically described. The personal comments and gossip about contemporaries give the work a peculiar value. In the appendix are addresses on Stanton and on John Brown." Larned's Literature of American history.

Stewart, A. M.

Camp, march and battle-field; or, Three years and a half with the Army of the Potomac. 1865.....973.7 S84

The same.....r973.7 S84

Author was chaplain of the 13th regiment of Pennsylvania volunteers in the Civil war.

Stiles, Robert.

Four years under Marse Robert [Robert E. Lee]. 1903..973.7 S856

Experiences of a Confederate soldier in the Army of Northern Virginia from 1861 to 1865.

Taylor, Richard.

Destruction and reconstruction; personal experiences of the late war. 1879.....973.7 T257

"Military recollections of a lieutenant-general in the Confederate army, especially in the Louisiana campaign of 1863 and 1864...The last few chapters are valuable to a student of the reconstruction period." Larned's Literature of American history.

Wilkeson, Frank.

Recollections of a private soldier in the Army of the Potomac. 1887.....973.7 W72

"The grim, sordid prose of war as seen by a man in the ranks. An effective picture of the daily life of the Army of the Potomac in Grant's campaign of 1864, representing rather more of the shadows than the brighter aspects of camp and field, and somewhat bitter in its comments upon general officers. The writer's account of the 'bounty jumpers,' and of the other dregs of the army, is authentic, and his explanation of the demoralization of the Union troops towards the end of the siege of Petersburg accords with many of the observations of other witnesses." Larned's Literature of American history.

Wise, John Sergeant.

End of an era. 1899.....973.7 W81

The "era" is that of slavery in the United States and the "end" was the Civil war. Mr Wise, as a boy of 17, participated in the Confederate campaign of May 1864, and was in Johnston's army at its capitulation. Describes life on the Virginia plantations before the war.

"Mr. Wise has the born gift of narration...and...the annals of the great rebellion are enriched by such a book...The temper and spirit of it all could not be bettered." Nation, 1899.

Wright, Mrs Louise (Wigfall).
A Southern girl in '61; the war-time memories of a Confederate senator's daughter. 1905.....973.7 W93
Reminiscences of the social side of secession times. Author's father was the first U. S. senator from Texas, afterwards a Confederate senator, and during the earlier part of the war was in close sympathy with President Davis.

Later nineteenth century. Reconstruction

Andrews, Elisha Benjamin.
United States in our own time; a history from reconstruction to expansion [1870–1903]; an extension of "The history of the last quarter century." 1903.....973.8 A56u
"Author has sought to seize upon the more striking events which lend themselves more readily to description, by both pen and pencil...It is something like teaching by the stereopticon, with the slightest thread of lecture to connect the views...The book, as a whole, will aid the young to understand the wonderful growth of the country since the great Civil war. It will help the middle-aged to recall with profit the connection and meaning of all that has passed under their own eye. It may even serve the systematic historian in fixing his own scale of treatment." Nation, 1896.

Avary, Myrta Lockett.
Dixie after the war; an exposition of social conditions existing in the South during the twelve years succeeding the fall of Richmond. 1906.....973.8 A94
Shows what Southern people were doing, thinking and saying after the war. The author is a Southerner and she writes in a lively, anecdotal style. Her sources of information are her own experiences, journals and letters of friends, contemporary newspapers and public documents.

Cox, Samuel Sullivan.
Three decades of federal legislation, 1855 to 1885; personal and historical memories of events preceding, during and since the American civil war. 1885.....r973.8 C85
"Cox was a war Democrat, and his book has the merits and the defects of a history written by an acute politician who took part in many of the events narrated. The last decade is very inadequately discussed; the value of the book is principally in that portion devoted to the events of the reconstruction period. It is written in a controversial spirit and colored throughout by the writer's political sympathies; is rambling and discursive, and clothed in rough and choppy English." Larned's Literature of American history.

McCarthy, Charles Hallan.
Lincoln's plan of reconstruction. 1901 .....973.8 M12
Contents: Tennessee.— Louisiana.— Arkansas.— Virginia.— Anti-slavery legislation.—Theories and plans of reconstruction.—Rise of the congressional plan.—An attempt to compromise.—The electoral vote of Louisiana.—Senate debate on Louisiana.—Incidents of reconstruction. —Culmination of the presidential plan.

Pollard, Edward Albert.
Lost cause regained. 1868.....r973.8 P76
Contents: Review of the late war.—Reconstruction.—The negro question.—The true hope of the South.—Duty of the whole country.
"Brought out by the 14th and 15th amendments to the Constitution. It treats of reconstruction and the negro problem, seeing the only hope for the South in the maintenance of white supremacy. In a much more optimistic tone than the author's Lost cause...to which it is a kind of supplement. Valuable as a southern view of a phase of reconstruction." Larned's Literature of American history.

West Virginia University documents relating to reconstruction; ed. by W. L. Fleming. no.1–date. 1904–date...r973.8 W56
For contents see contents book, v.3, p.409; kept at the reference desk.

Hawley, Zerah.

Journal of a tour through Connecticut, Massachusetts, New-York, the north part of Pennsylvania and Ohio; including a year's residence in that part of Ohio styled New Connecticut, or Western Reserve. 1822.....917.3 H36

"About the only merit this book possesses is, that it is very short... The misrepresentations with which every page abounds, are outrageously absurd and improbable. The author's object was evidently to stop the tide of emigration, which was annually increasing the population and resources of Ohio." Thomson's Bibliography of Ohio.

Hesse-Wartegg, Ernst von.

Nord-Amerika; seine städte und naturwunder, sein land und seine leute. 1880.....917.3 H48

Dwight, Timothy, 1752–1817.

Travels in New-England and New-York. 4v. 1821–22..1917.4 D979

"Accounts of seven journeys in New England and of six in New York made in the years 1796–1815. President Dwight was a careful and intelligent observer of the people and their customs, as well as of the scenery and the phenomena of nature. The narratives of these journeys were composed from notes taken at the time, and present a complete and trustworthy picture of New England and New York one hundred years ago. In the fourth volume President Dwight reviews in detail the learning, morals, and religion of New England and the characteristics of the people. As a whole, Dwight's Travels ranks among the most valuable of its class of historical sources." Larned's Literature of American history.

Bayley, William H. & Jones, O. O.
History of the Marine Society of Newburyport, Massachusetts, from its incorporation in 1772 to the year 1906, together with a complete roster and narrative of important events in the lives of its members. 1906....qr974.4 B33

Bradford, Alden.
History of Massachusetts for two hundred years, from the year 1620 to 1820. 1835.....r974.4 B681
"For the period of the Revolution it contains the substance of the author's larger works, though with the omission of much of the purely political history. The outline of the earlier history of the colony and province, and the later history of the state, is clearly and effectively presented." Larned's Literature of American history.

Burt, Henry Martyn.
First century of the history of Springfield [Mass.]; the official records from 1636 to 1736; with an historical review and biographical mention of the founders. 2v. 1898–99.....r974.4 B94

Corey, Deloraine Pendre.
History of Malden, Massachusetts, 1633–1785. 1899.....qr974.4 C81

Dexter, Henry Martyn, & Dexter, Morton.
England and Holland of the Pilgrims. 1905.....974.4 D52
Contents: The England of our fathers.—The Protestantism of our fathers.—The birthplace of the Pilgrim church.—The Pilgrims themselves and how the conflict developed them.—The Pilgrims in Amsterdam.—The Pilgrims in Leyden.
Not a picture of the England and Holland of the Pilgrims, but a selection of elements which, by documentary proof only, are known to have affected the Separatists' lives and their church movement. Contains valuable data, references and genealogical lists. Condensed from the Dial, 1905.

Essex Institute, Salem, Mass.
Historical collections; [quarterly], Jan. 1904–date. v.40–date. 1904–date.....r974.4 E84

Ford, Andrew Elmer.
History of the origin of the town of Clinton, Massachusetts, 1653–1865. 1896.....r974.4 F76

Holland, Josiah Gilbert.
History of western Massachusetts; the counties of Hampden, Hampshire, Franklin and Berkshire. 2v. 1855..r974.4 H72
"Valuable local history...Its subject is the history of that part of Massachusetts which lies west of Worcester County. It consists of three parts, 1, an outline of the history of the region; 2, essays on the geology, agriculture and leading interests of the region; 3, a history of the towns of western Massachusetts. The third part occupies all of the second volume...In the first part the settlement of Springfield, Northampton and Hadley, the Indian wars, and Shay's Rebellion are treated with special fulness." Larned's Literature of American history.

Hudson, Alfred Sereno.
History of Concord, Massachusetts. v.1. 1904.....r974.4 H88
v.1. Colonial Concord.

Hutchinson, Thomas.
History of the colony and province of Massachusets-Bay, from the first settlement in 1628 until the year 1750. 2v. 1764–67.....r974.4 H97
v.1. 1628–1691.
v.2. 1691–1750.
"A work of high importance as the first connected history of Massachusetts from its foundation to the beginning of the Revolution... The shortcomings are grave...The style is quite unrelieved by any picturesqueness...Making every deduction, however, it is a work of great value. Hutchinson had access to many documents which have since perished." Larned's Literature of American history.

Judd, Sylvester, 1789-1860.
History of Hadley, including the early history of Hatfield, South Hadley, Amherst and Granby, Massachusetts; with an introduction by George Sheldon, also Family genealogies by L. M. Boltwood. 1905.....r974.4 J49

Morton, Nathaniel.
New England's memorial, also Governor Bradford's History of Plymouth colony, portions of Prince's Chronology, Governor Bradford's Dialogue, Gov. Winslow's Visits to Massasoit, with numerous marginal notes and an appendix, containing numerous articles relating to the labors, principles and character of the Puritans and Pilgrims. 1855.....r974.4 M92
"This purports to be a history of New Plymouth from its settlement to 1669, with some account of the fortunes of the Leyden Separatists in Europe. The writer was for a long time Secretary of Plymouth Colony, and hence had a good opportunity to give original information. But the larger part of the book is, as Morton admitted in his preface, an outline of Bradford's History, to which he had access in manuscript. Some additional information was obtained from Winslow's writings. The only part of the book which has even any literary merit is that which has come from these sources. The rest possesses neither literary nor historical value." Larned's Literature of American history.

Northend, William Dummer.
The Bay colony; a civil, religious and social history of the Massachusetts colony and its settlements from the landing at Cape Ann in 1624 to the death of Governor Winthrop in 1650. 1896.....974.4 N45
"This is a well-written epitome of the story which has been told so many times in the larger histories. The introduction treats of Plymouth colony and the work antecedent to the foundation of Massachusetts Bay...Of necessity, the story is founded on Winthrop's journal, and copious extracts are drawn from that masterly piece of history...The book is interesting and agreeable, as much detail encumbering the larger histories is stripped off or avoided. It ends rather precipitately, with the death of Winthrop." American historical review, 1897.

Smith, Joseph Edward Adams.
History of Pittsfield, Berkshire county, Massachusetts. 2v. 1869–76.....qr974.4 S65
v.1. 1734–1800.
v.2. 1800–1876.

Stearns, Ezra S.
History of Ashburnham, Massachusetts from the grant of Dorcester, Canada to the present time, 1734–1886; with a genealogical register of Ashburnham families. 1887. .....r974.4 S79

Wilson, Daniel Munro.
Where American independence began; Quincy, its famous group of patriots, their deeds, homes and descendants. 1902 .....974.4 W76
Historical sketches, not a continuous history, of the city of Quincy, Mass. Contains accounts of its notable families, including the Quincys, Adamses and Hancocks.

Description and travel

Horsford, Eben Norton.
John Cabot's landfall in 1497, and the site of Norumbega; a letter to Chief-justice Daly. 1886.....qr917.44 H81
Submits three conclusions: that John Cabot preceded Columbus in the discovery of America, that the site of his landing place was Salem Neck, and that the location of Norumbega was on the Charles river between Riverside and Waltham.

Mallary, Raymond DeWitt.
Lenox and the Berkshire highlands. 1902.....917.44 M29
Essays and addresses, some of which have been read before literary and historical societies. They set forth the charms of Lenox, Massachusetts, and its neighborhood. There is a chapter on "Lenox in literature" and on Catharine Maria Sedgwick.

Gilman, Arthur.
Story of Boston. 1902.....j974.46 G42
"Political history of the colony and Province of Massachusetts Bay, rather than that of its principal town...With the siege of Boston Mr. Gilman's 'story' practically closes, for he has barely touched upon the history of the...last hundred years [19th century]...It is written in an easy, flowing style, which at times has a quaint and Scriptural flavor that lends itself very agreeably to an account of the doings of men in the seventeenth century...The author is unusually accurate." Nation, 1890.

Howe, Mark Antony De Wolfe.
Boston; the place and the people. 1903.....974.46 H85
"He has set forth most clearly and freshly its individuality, that which differentiates it from other New World cities...The larger part of his book...is devoted to the nineteenth century, the three main topics being the Unitarian controversy, the men who made Boston for a time the literary centre of the country, and the anti-slavery propoganda... The main facts in the recent history of the city are briefly given, and the author closes with an appreciative glance at present conditions." Nation, 1903.

New York

History

Bayard, Nicholas.
Narrative of an attempt made by the French of Canada upon the Mohaque's country; reproduced in facsimile from the first edition printed by William Bradford, 1693; with an introductory note by A. R. Hasse. 1903..qr974.7 B33
Original title-page reads "Journal of the late actions of the French at Canada, with the manner of their being repuls'd by His Excellency, Benjamin Fletcher, Their Majesties governour of New-York; impartially related by Coll. Nicholas Reyard and Lieutenant Coll. Charles Lodowick, who attended His Excellency during the whole expedition."
Major Ingoldesby at Albany, expecting an attack by the French, sent a message on Feb. 14, 1693, to Gov. Fletcher asking for immediate aid from New York. The account of the way in which this aid was rendered constitutes what is commonly known as Bayard's Journal. The facsimile of this unique book is made from photographic reproductions of the original edition in the Public record office, London.

"The writers have made practically no use of the municipal records, but have confined themselves to accessible printed authorities and to the newspapers. The work is not in any true sense a municipal history, while it throws little new light on the relations between New York city and the state or the nation. It can be best used as a cyclopedia wherein one can find a large amount of miscellaneous information concerning the city, the state, and some periods even of national history." Larned's Literature of American history.

[Smith, William, 1727–1803.]

Examination of the Connecticut claim to lands in Pennsylvania; with an appendix containing extracts from original papers. 1774 ..... r974.8 S66e

The royal charter of Connecticut and Penn's charter overlapped, so that a large strip of territory in the present state of Pennsylvania was claimed by both states. The dispute was finally settled by act of Congress in favor of Pennsylvania. Smith's work is an examination of the conflicting claims, upholding Pennsylvania's right to the disputed territory.

Buckingham, James Silk.
The slave states of America. 2v. [1842.].....917.5 B85
"The author, an ex-member of the British Parliament, travelled through the southern states in 1839, and...took copious and valuable notes on the manners of the people, the products of the states, and on the fauna, flora, and antiquities. A violent prohibitionist and abolitionist, he delivers many sermons in his book on the evils of drinking and slave-holding...Meeting the best people of the South, he was able to obtain valuable information on the slavery question, but his prejudices were so strong as often to affect his judgment...The work is too long for the modern reader, but well written and very entertaining." Larned's Literature of American history.

Study of life among poor whites and negroes in the Southern states east of the Mississippi valley.

Kennaway, Sir John Henry.
On Sherman's track; or, The South after the war. 1867..917.5 K18
"Mr. Kennaway is an Oxford man and a practising barrister, who spent a hundred and twenty-eight days of 1865 in making a hasty tour of the Southern States. His work is, upon the whole...uncommonly sensible, manly and gentlemanly...We think its author has tried, and tried successfully, to be impartial as between the South and North, and between the North and England...It is difficult to find fault with him, whether he is discussing President Johnson and his policy; Mr. Seward, the Alabama, and the Fenian raid; the treatment of prisoners of war in rebel and Federal military prisons, or the causes of the Rebellion and the attitude of the English government throughout the war." Nation, 1867.

Intelligent and temperate discussion, from the Southern viewpoint.

Olmsted, Frederick Law.

Journey in the back country. 1861.....r917.5 O23jo

Observations of life in the South, with special regard to the question of slavery.

"Mr. Olmsted is no ordinary traveller for amusement or adventure... Looking at Slavery merely as an economist, with no political or moral prepossessions to mislead his judgment, he went to study for himself its workings and results as a form of labor...No more important contributions to contemporary American history have been made than in this volume and the two that preceded it. We know of no book that offers a parallel to them, except Arthur Young's 'Travels in France'...He finds himself compelled to give his verdict against Slavery, whether it be considered morally, politically, or economically." James Russell Lowell, in Atlantic monthly, 1860.

Alsop, George.
Character of the province of Maryland, with introduction and notes by N. D. Mereness. 1902.....r917.52 A46
Reprinted from the original edition of 1666.
Alsop was an Englishman who came to Maryland in 1659 and worked there for four years as an indentured servant.
"Of the few descriptions of Maryland written in the seventeenth century, this is decidedly the most pretentious. Its primeval savor, the peculiarity of its style, and its unique account of the mighty Susquehannas, together with its portrayal of the early white settlers...make it an enduring attraction to the curious reader." Introduction.

Burk, John Daly.
History of Virginia from its first settlement. 4v. 1804–16 .....r975.5 B91 v.4 was written by Skelton Jones and L. H. Girardin.
v.1–3 cover the history of Virginia to 1776. v.4 covers the period of the Revolutionary war and brings the history down to 1781.
"Burk wrote in a highly rhetorical style, moralized not a little, and, therefore, consumed much space in the effort to convey a little information. But he had access to records, some of which are now lost, and valuable appendices are to be found in his volumes. These by the modern reader will often be found more useful than the text...The treatment of the period of the Commonwealth is fair. A full and not unfair account of Bacon's Rebellion is given, but the reader will need to correct and supplement it by the use of later books." Larned's Literature of American history.

"Valuable as a collection of material of miscellaneous sort, brought together without criticism save as to the reliability of the source whence it came. It is the work of an antiquarian, to whom facts of all sorts seem worth preserving. In parts it would not be uninteresting to the general reader; to the student of the period it is indispensable." Larned's Literature of American history.

"Traces the history of the colony and state in a rapid sketch, with chapters on the press, literary institutions, internal improvements, resources and public officers...The author had better opportunities than any previous writer, as he worked from official documents and made extracts from the British records. He was industrious and faithful, but his work is 'a jumble of ill-digested material,' is partisan in character, and, because of a fatal carelessness which marks all that he does, any statement he may make, unsupported by other evidence, is of little authority." Larned's Literature of American history.

"Thoroughgoing and independent examination, based upon materials still largely unused, of the...mechanism of the provincial government, the manner in which some of its more important functions were performed, and finally the friction between local and imperial policies which developed under the provincial system and became one of the chief causes of the American Revolution." American historical review, 1904.

Georgia

Avery, Isaac Wheeler.

History of the state of Georgia from 1850 to 1881, embracing the three important epochs: the decade before the war of 1861–5; the war; the period of reconstruction, with portraits of the leading public men of this era. 1881.....qr975.8 A95

"This book is in reality a life of Joseph E. Brown, the war Governor of Georgia whose 'public career for a quarter of a century has been the history of his state.' It embraces the period of transition from the old 'to the new South...The decided influence of Georgia upon questions like slavery, secession, and reconstruction is carefully traced and duly emphasized. The style is florid, colloquial and fulsome, with no reference to authorities. The appendix has a list of Georgia officers in the Civil War." Larned's Literature of American history.

Irving, Theodore.

Conquest of Florida by Hernando de Soto. 1851.....975.9 I28

"This work presents the early history of the country called Florida to the end of De Soto's invasion. It has generally been regarded as the standard work on this period. The author, a nephew of Washington Irving, studied in Spain the original authorities, De Vega, Biedma, etc., on which the early history of Florida should be based. His work...is for the most part accurate; but the author, in tracing the route of De Vaca, unfortunately had to use the first edition of Buckingham Smith's work, which was corrected by Smith himself in 1871." Larned's Literature of American history.

Conquest of the old Northwest and its settlement by Americans. 1901.....j977 B19c
The old Northwest is that section of the United States lying west of the Alleghanies and bounded by the Mississippi, the Ohio and the Great Lakes. This volume, supplementing Baldwin's "Discovery of the old Northwest" (j977 B19), covers a period of one hundred years, closing with Black Hawk's war in 1832.

Butterfield, Consul Willshire.

History of George Rogers Clark's conquest of the Illinois and the Wabash towns, 1778 and 1779. 1904.....977 B98h

Binder's title reads "George Rogers Clark's conquest of the Northwest."

Object was the destruction of the sources of the supplies that enabled the Indians to carry on the devastation of the frontier. Based on documents in British archives and kindred sources, as well as on American accounts.

Read before the Pennsylvania Historical Society, June 9, 1856.

Drake, Samuel Adams.

Making of the Ohio valley states, 1660–1837. 1903.....j977 D78

Popular history presenting the familiar tales of pioneer life, and also giving clearly and concisely other matter which is not found in the ordinary history. Excellent illustrations of life in early days.

"By reference to authority, by supplementary foot-note, by illustration from local environment Mr. Drake has stamped his narrative with the certificate of truthfulness." Dial, 1894.

Hart, Adolphus M.

History of the valley of the Mississippi. 1853.....r977 H31

Kinzie, Mrs Juliette Augusta (Magill).

Wau-bun; the early day in the Northwest; ed. with notes and introduction by E. K. Gordon. 1901 .....977 K27

"Descriptive of a journey to the Indian agency at Fort Winnebago (Wisconsin), life among the Indians and French half-breeds, and a journey to Chicago in 1831, with details of the appearance of Chicago at that time. It contains the best account of the 'Chicago (Indian) massacre' of 1812, as related by survivors. Because writings on these points are so few, this book becomes of some historic value, although it is burdened with a mass of trifling domestic details." Larned's Literature of American history.

"A large portion of this volume is devoted to descriptions of scenes in Indian history...as well as incidents, illustrative of the character of the aboriginal tribes which passed under his own observation. All of the last four chapters...are occupied with descriptions of ceremonies and incidents he witnessed, attending the treaty with the Ottawas, Pottawatomies, and Chippewas...Chapter XIX contains an analysis of the languages of the tribes present at the treaty, a vocabulary, and several songs, with their translations." Sabin's Bibliotheca Americana.

Shea, John Gilmary, ed.
Early voyages up and down the Mississippi. 1861.....r917.7 S53
Contents: Cavelier's account of La Salle's voyage to the mouth of the Mississippi, his landing in Texas and march to the Mississippi.—Voyage down the Mississippi in 1699, by Montigny, St. Cosmé, Davion and Thaumur de la Source.—Le Sueur's voyage up the Mississippi in 1699–1700.—Gravier's voyage down and up the Mississippi in 1700.—Guignas's voyage up the Mississippi.—Appendix, Letter of La Salle from Texas.
The narratives here collected form a sequel to the work by the same author on the explorations under Marquette and La Salle, and refer chiefly to the permanent French occupation of the lower Mississippi.

Thwaites, Reuben Gold.
Down historic waterways; six hundred miles of canoeing upon Illinois and Wisconsin rivers. 1902.....917.7 T43h2
First edition published under the title "Historic waterways."
"Composed of accounts or descriptions of three summer vacation tours on the [Rock, Fox and Wisconsin] rivers...made by canoe. To keen enjoyment of this sort of an outing, the author adds a faculty for observation and a wealth of local historical information that helps to make him what he is in his own field, easily the first historical specialist of the time. The accounts are written in a clear pleasant style that combines qualities of the diary, the personal letter, natural description, and historical narrative." Larned's Literature of American history.

Illinois

Brown, Henry.
History of Illinois from its first discovery and settlement to the present time [1844]. 1844.....r977.3 B78
"Commencing with the discovery of Columbus, and rambling through the early Spanish, French, and English settlements in North America, it is long before our author gets down to Illinois history; and when he does, it is a discursive, often incoherent and flippant, and frequently inaccurate narrative, without perspective or sense of proportion. The book is valueless, save as a curious example of one type of early western histories." Larned's Literature of American history.

Prichard, Hesketh Vernon Hesketh-.

Through the heart of Patagonia. 1902.....q918.2 P94

In 1898 the startling announcement was made of the existence in Patagonia of living representatives of Mylodon, a gigantic but presumably extinct ground sloth. Mr Prichard was sent to Patagonia by the London "Daily express" to procure, if possible, a living specimen. He crossed the country from north to south, but failed in his principal object, as was to be expected. He has, however, given an interesting account of his journey and a true picture of life on the Patagonian plains. Illustrated from photographs and drawings by Mr J. G. Millais. The drawings are exaggerations and do not give a correct idea of the region. A valuable appendix gives a history of the literature relating to the giant ground sloth.

Créqui, Renée-Caroline de Froulay, marquise de.

French noblesse of the XVIII century; tr. by Mrs Colquhoun Grant from Les souvenirs de la marquise de Créquy, 1834. 1904 ..... 920 C878

The authenticity of the original work from which these translations are made is very doubtful, but apart from any question of genuineness the "Souvenirs" represent a mass of contemporary tradition, reminiscence, anecdote and gossip gathered around the name of a famous leader of society.

Davis, Mrs Rebecca (Harding).

Davis, Reuben.

Recollections of Mississippi and Mississippians. 1889....920 D322

"The work of a Mississippi 'fire-eater,' who was prominent in state politics for many years before the Civil War and member of Congress from 1857 to 1861; primarily of value for the social and political history of Mississippi, secondarily for national history, especially during Davis's congressional career; evidently written from memory, however, and hence not always trustworthy. The author has little method, but a dispassionate temper, sound judgment and entertaining style." Larned's Literature of American history.

McDonald, John.

Biographical sketches of Gen. Nathaniel Massie, Gen. Duncan McArthur, Capt. William Wells and Gen. Simon Kenton, who were early settlers in the western country. 1838 .....r920 M14

"Of all these men, Mr. McDonald was a contemporary; a young adventurer under Massie, an intimate of McArthur, an acquaintance of Wells, and a companion of Kenton. He was an actor in many of the scenes which he describes; and the incidents detailed in his volume, which he did not witness himself, were communicated to him by the actors soon after they had taken place. He is thus original authority, and the fullest reliance may be placed in his statements." Thomson's Bibliography of Ohio.

Warwick, Frances Evelyn (Maynard), countess of.

Warwick castle and its earls, from Saxon times to the present day. 2v. 1903 ..... 920 W26

The history of the castle is bound up indissolubly with the history of England. The legends of Guy of Warwick and Godiva, the deeds of the Beauchamps, Nevilles and Dudleys, and the important annals of the house of Rich and the house of Greville centre in this historic spot. Lady Warwick's book wears the guise of erudition without being very profound and it is marked by sprightliness and more than an ordinary share of individuality. Adapted from Nation, 1903.

"Author was a young Ohio Democrat who...served in the national army in the great conflict, chiefly on the staff of Gen. Schenck. Afterward he was known as a witty, slashing journalist, 'on his own hand.' He had a large acquaintance with men in public life, and hit them off in a brilliant way, often with amusing shrewdness, never with judicial estimate...When he indulges in hero-worship, his devotion has no bounds. When he dislikes, he is equally without measure. In either case he is entertaining, and for those who form their judgments on wider reading, his 'hits' often help to give life to the sketch of a character." Larned's Literature of American history.

92 Individual biography

Critical biographies of artists will be found in class 700, Fine arts

A'Beckett, Gilbert Abbott.

A'Beckett, Arthur William. The à Becketts of "Punch;" memories of father and sons. 1903.....92 A138a

Greater part of the book deals with the life of the author's father, Gilbert Abbott à Beckett (1811–56), who was a friend of Thackeray and Dickens and on the original staff of "Punch." There are many pleasant anecdotes of famous men of letters and journalists.

Acton, John Emerich Edward Dalberg, baron.

Letters to Mary, daughter of W. E. Gladstone; ed. with an introductory memoir by Herbert Paul. 1904.....92 A188

A miracle of learning in philosophy, economics, theology and above all in history, Lord Acton (1834–1902) was also interested in the world of his day. In these letters to a valued and familiar correspondent he freely discusses a wide range of subjects.

Adam, Mme Juliette (Lamber).

My literary life. 1904.....92 A194m

Continuation of her "Romance of my childhood and youth."

Romance of my childhood and youth. 1902..... 92 A194

Account of the somewhat stormy youth of the former editor of the Paris "Nouvelle revue." It is brought down only to the beginning of her literary work.

Adams, John, 1735–1826, & Adams, Mrs Abigail (Smith).

Familiar letters of John Adams and his wife, Abigail Adams, during the Revolution, with a memoir of Mrs Adams by C. F. Adams. 1875.....92 A214

"The letters of such a pair during the American Revolution naturally possess the utmost interest. The face of the time—the public trials, failures, triumphs—appears as in a perfect mirror." Larned's Literature of American history.

Adams, John Quincy.

Life in a New England town, 1787, 1788; diary of John Quincy Adams while a student in the office of Theophilus Parsons at Newburyport. 1903.....92 A2142

Reprinted from the Proceedings of the Massachusetts Historical Society. Title is misleading, the chronicle being almost entirely devoid of local color. Its interest is personal and it leaves a very real impression of John Quincy Adams, the man.

Seward, William Henry. Life and public services of John Quincy Adams; with the eulogy delivered before the legislature of New York by W. H. Seward. 1849....r92 A2142s

"This biography was undertaken, but not completed by Seward...Still the political views and the reverent attitude towards Adams everywhere maintained are characteristic of Seward himself. As a political biography the matter is reasonably full; but the treatment is not graphic. Appended to the Life is Seward's striking Address on John Quincy Adams before the legislature of New York." Larned's Literature of American history.

Adams, William, 1745–1805.

Turner, William, F. S. S. ed. William Adams, an old English potter, with some account of his family and their productions. 1904.....92 A219t

Describes the work and illustrates the art of William Adams (1745–1805), founder of the Greengates factory, the favorite pupil of Josiah Wedgwood, and the maker of jasper ware second only to that of his famous master.

Ainger, Alfred.

Sichel, Edith. Life and letters of Alfred Ainger. 1906....92 A295s

Canon Ainger (1837–1904) was an English clergyman, for many years reader and afterwards master of the Temple church. He was distinguished for the charm of his personality and for his wit. The biography derives its chief interest from the letters, especially those to and from Du Maurier, who was Ainger's closest friend.

Alberoni, Giulio, cardinal.

Moore, George. Lives of Cardinal Alberoni, the duke of Ripperda and marquis of Pombal, three distinguished political adventurers of the last century, exhibiting a view of the kingdoms of Spain and Portugal during a considerable portion of that period. 1814.....192 A332m

Cardinal Alberoni (1664–1752) was an Italian prelate, minister of Philip V of Spain; the duke of Ripperda (1680–1737), a political adventurer, friend of Alberoni; the marquis of Pombal (1699–1782), a Portuguese statesman.

Alcott, Amos Bronson.

Sanborn, Franklin Benjamin, & Harris, W.T. A. Bronson Alcott; his life and philosophy. 2v. 1893.....92 A3552s

Alcott (1799–1888) was an American philosopher and educator, one of the founders of the school of transcendentalists in New England. These two volumes give an adequate idea of Alcott and his associates and of the curious intellectual movement with which he was identified.

Alfieri, Vittorio, conte.

Vita, scritta da esso. 1903.....92 A387v

Alfred the Great, king of England.

Asser, John, bp. Life of King Alfred, together with the Annals of Saint Neots erroneously ascribed to Asser; ed. with introduction and commentary by W. H. Stevenson. 1904.....92 A392as

Asser (d. 909?) was a learned English bishop, tutor to King Alfred.

"Asser's 'Life of Ælfred'...consists of (1) a chronicle of English history between 849 and 887, largely drawn from an early version of the Anglo-Saxon Chronicle, and (2) a personal and original narrative of Ælfred's career down to 887." Dictionary of national biography.

In Mr Stevenson's edition of the work we have modern historical scholarship at its height. With a vigorous hand he has repelled the attack on its authenticity, has presented every minute detail that bears on this problem, on the history of a period peculiarly barren of other records, and on the text of this peerless chronicle. Condensed from Contemporary review, 1906.

Plummer, Charles. Life and times of Alfred the Great; the Ford lectures for 1901. 1902.....92 A392pl

Appendix contains a sermon preached the Sunday after the death of Queen Victoria.

"Full of interest for the general reader, and a valuable monograph for the historical scholar. In two hundred pages it tells us everything that is known about Alfred the Great, with abundant references to previous discussions of debatable matters, and acute comments on all points of controversy." Nation, 1902.

Alighieri, Dante. See Dante Alighieri.

Alma-Tadema, Sir Laurence. See Artists, v.1, p.767.

Almond, Hely Hutchinson.

Mackenzie, Robert Jameson. Almond of Loretto; being the life and a selection from the letters of Hely Hutchinson Almond. 1906.....92 A452m

Almond (1832–1902) was for 40 years headmaster of Loretto, a famous school for boys at Musselburgh, Scotland. He laid special emphasis on the physical training of boys. The author, an old Loretto boy, claims for him a place in education beside Arnold and Thring.

Anderson, Alexander.

Burr, Frederic Martin. Life and works of Alexander Anderson, the first American wood engraver. 1893....qr92 A545b

Short sketch of his life (1775–1870) illustrated with his engravings, among the best known of which are the cuts from Webster's "Spelling book" and for Bewick's "Quadrupeds." Appendix contains extracts from his diary, 1795–98.

Anderson, Col. James.

Official souvenir program of the exercises attending the unveiling of the monument erected to the memory of Col. James Anderson by Andrew Carnegie, Allegheny city, Pa., June 15, 1904. [1904.].....92 A5470

Anderson, Mary, afterward Mme de Navarro.

Farrar, John Martindale. Mary Anderson; the story of her life and professional career. 1884.....q92 A548f

American actress (b. 1859). She retired from the stage in 1889. The following year she married Antonio de Navarro and since that time has made England her home. Sketch is written by a warm admirer.

Anderson, Thomas Jefferson.

Anderson, James House, ed. Life and letters of Thomas J. Anderson and wife, including a few letters from children and others, mostly written during the Civil war; a history. 1904.....r92 A551a

Anderson (1801–71) was an early settler and prominent citizen of Marion, Ohio. The letters here contained are of family interest chiefly, but they possess some historical interest as well.

André, Maj. John.

Sargent, Winthrop. Life and career of Major John André; ed. by William Abbatt. 1902.....92 A555s

Poems, ballads and dramas relating to André, p.535–536.

"The best biography of 'the unfortunate André,' written in the later spirit of regret which most Americans feel for his execution. The justice of the sentence is widely reviewed and various commentators quoted. The style of treatment is florid and the view-point extreme in André's favor. The appendix contains some information concerning the later life of Benedict Arnold." Edwin E. Sparks.

Andrea della Robbia. See Artists, v.1, p.740.

Andrew, John Albion.

Pearson, Henry Greenleaf. Life of John A. Andrew, governor of Massachusetts, 1861–1865. 2v. 1904.....92 A5622p

Admirably written life of the "great war governor," a whole-souled patriot and a sturdy and uncompromising lover of righteousness. His biography confirms the verdict returned by his friend, the late Martin Brimmer. "No man believed in the people more, or truckled to them less." Adapted from the Nation, 1904.

Angelo, Michael. See Michael Angelo.

Anna Amalia, duchess of Saxe-Weimar-Eisenach.

Gerard, Frances A. A grand duchess; the life of Anna Amalia, duchess of Saxe-Weimar-Eisenach, and the classical circle of Weimar. 2v. 1902.....92 A6132g

"List of authorities consulted," v.2, p.575–576.

"A peculiar lot," wrote Goethe, rather audaciously, "fell to thee, O Weimar, small and great like Bethlehem in Judæa." The rapid rise of the little city from obscurity to prominence was due to the gathering together there of a small circle of remarkable people, which included Goethe, Herder, Wieland, Angelica Kauffmann and Madame de Staël, with the duchess Anna Amalia as the centre of the circle.

Anna Maria of Orleans, queen of Victor Amadeus II.

Vitelleschi, Amy Augusta Frederica Annabella Cochrane-Baillie, marchesa. Romance of Savoy; Victor Amadeus II and his Stuart bride. 2v. 1905.....92 V3112v

At no point during its earlier history are the annals of the house of Savoy more interesting than during the reign of Victor Amadeus II (1684–1732), when through his astuteness, the duchy became a kingdom. Perhaps half the book is devoted to social, domestic and ceremonial matters, court life being described in detail. The book leaves a distinct impression of the king's character, of the long-suffering Queen Anna, and of the little world in which they lived. Condensed from Nation, 1905.

Arblay, Mme Frances (Burney) d'.

Dobson, Austin. Fanny Burney (Madame d'Arblay). 1903. (English men of letters.).....92 A665d

Mr Dobson has such a minute knowledge of the 18th century that he is able to give a most life-like picture of Miss Burney and her friends, with discriminating criticism of her literary work.

Hill, Constance. Juniper hall; a rendezvous of certain illustrious personages during the French revolution, including Alexandre d'Arblay and Fanny Burney. 1904..92 A665h Juniper hall is an interesting old house in Surrey, England, which was selected as a place of refuge by a group of French fugitives, after the fall of Louis XVI in 1792. Among the group was Alexandre d'Arblay, who afterward became the husband of Fanny Burney. The house serves as a centre for a pleasantly gossiping book about Miss Burney, her relations with the refugees, and her early married life.

Contents: Notice biographique [de Mademoiselle d'Aumale, par le comte d'Haussonville].—Mémoire sur Madame de Maintenon.—Lettres de Mademoiselle d'Aumale.

"Mademoiselle d'Aumale was private secretary to Madame de Maintenon in the last years of her life...She has played the part of Boswell with rare skill, and has preserved a host of details about the daily life of her patroness in the palace of Louis XIV and in her retreat at Saint-Cyr after the king's death." London quarterly review, 1902.

Austen, Jane.

Letters; ed. with an introduction and critical remarks by Edward, lord Brabourne. 2v. 1884.....92 A933l

These letters of the English novelist (1775–1817) are most of them written to her sister Cassandra. They chronicle the trivial details of every-day life and contain no new facts.

Hill, Constance. Jane Austen, her homes and her friends. 1902. .....92 A933h

Basis of the book was a pilgrimage made by the author through the localities in which Jane Austen's life was spent, the homes at Steventon and Chawton and the more temporary resting-places, many of them the scenes of her stories, in London, Bath, Southampton, Lyme Regis, and the lodgings at Winchester in which she died.

Leigh, James Edward Austen-. Memoir of Jane Austen, to which is added "Lady Susan" and fragments of two other unfinished tales by Miss Austen. 1906.....92 A933le

The unfinished stories were left by the author without names. Mr Leigh has called one "The Watsons" for the sake of having a title by which to designate it.

Memoir of Joseph Badger, containing an autobiography and selections from his private journal and correspondence. 1851.....r92 B145

Joseph Badger (1757–1846) was for many years a missionary in Ohio. His autobiography is a contribution to the history of the early settlement of the Western reserve.

Bain, Alexander.

Autobiography. 1904.....92 B165

"List of Professor Bain's writings," p.425–435.

The qualities that won for Alexander Bain so distinguished a place among the philosophers of the 19th century are not those which make a great autobiographer. His "Autobiography" contains little that will appeal to the general reader. It is the professor, and never the man that stands before us. There is little of human interest. Condensed from Contemporary review, 1904.

Banks, Elizabeth L.

Autobiography of a "newspaper girl." 1902.....92 B227

"In spite of their frank egotism, these memoirs...are a straightforward record of battles fought and successes won...The future historian of nineteenth-century journalism will obtain more light from the story of Miss Banks's career than from many more pretentious volumes, especially through the contrasts it presents between the pursuit of this profession in London and New York." Nation, 1902.

Bannister, John.

Adolphus, John. Memoirs of John Bannister, comedian.

2v. 1839.....r92 B228a

Bannister (1760–1836) was an English comedian. The stage can point to few men of more solid virtue or unblemished character. His acting obtained the high praise of the acutest judges. Condensed from Dictionary of national biography.

2v. 1870.....92 B238b

Barham (1788–1845) owes his honorable rank among English humorists to his having done one thing supremely well. No English author, with the exception of Hood, has produced such a body of excellent rhymed mirth as Barham. The principal authority for his biography is this life by his son. A book abounding in excellent stories, excellently told. Condensed from Dictionary of national biography.

Barker, Jacob.

Incidents in the life of Jacob Barker of New Orleans, Louisiana; with historical facts, his financial transactions with the government and his course on important political questions from 1800 to 1855. 1855....92 B243

"A curious and interesting collection of incidents and documents illustrative of the financial and political career of a man of much note in his day. Published to further a claim against the Government, for money loaned during the War of 1812; and from material of the claimant's own furnishing; the volume represents but a fragmentary value. The second volume, promised in the Introduction, which would have dealt with the more interesting period of Mr. Barker's life, and political and financial experiences in New Orleans before and during the Civil War, has never been published." Larned's Literature of American history.

Beaconsfield, Benjamin Disraeli, earl of.

These letters are the merest notes, giving the news of the moment, literary, social or political. They cover the opening of Disraeli's London career both as an author and a politician. They are frankly egotistical, largely a record of the parties he attended and the compliments paid to his speeches.

Meynell, Wilfrid. Benjamin Disraeli; an unconventional biography. 2v. 1903.....92 B342m

"Little more than a collection of Disraeli's sayings and doings gathered from all quarters...to each of which Meynell, as a sympathetic observer, appends a more or less relevant and informing commentary. Entertaining the book unquestionably is; hardly one of its 590 pages fails to throw some little side-light upon the man who above all others remains the political sphinx of the Victorian era. But the result is at best a kaleidoscope, a mass of bright colors forming no ordered picture and leaving no clear conception of the man and his work for England." Outlook (Eng.), 1903.

"As painfully interesting a book as the library of Autobiography contains ...the story of a man's life, told by himself with such an agony of self-exaltation that it is impossible to withhold pity, akin though that be to contempt. There is no want of vivacity in the narrative—but a prevailing want of veracity, such as must always distinguish works professedly written for effect." Edinburgh review, 1871.

Bessemer, Sir Henry.

Sir Henry Bessemer, F. R. S.; an autobiography, with a concluding chapter [by his son]. 1905.....q92 B467

Contents: Early days.—The reward of invention.—Compressing plumbago dust, casting type, type-composing machine, etc.—Utrecht velvet.—The manufacture of bronze powder.—Improvements in sugar manufacture.—A holiday in Germany.—Improvements in glass manufacture.—The exhibition of 1851.—Early gunnery experiments.—The genesis of the Bessemer process.—The Bessemer process.—Bessemer steel and Colonel Eardley Wilmot.—The Bessemer process and the War office.—Bessemer steel; the Armstrong controversy.—Bessemer steel guns.—Cast steel for shipbuilding.—Manganese in steel-making.—Ebbw Vale.—The Bessemer saloon steam-ship.

Left unfinished at the author's death, the book gives an account of his life, or rather his inventions, up to the episode of the Bessemer saloon steamer in 1872. A chapter by his son outlines the remainder of his life. Much space is given to the controversies arising from the Bessemer steel process.

Betterton, Thomas.

Lowe, Robert W. Thomas Betterton. 1891. (Eminent actors.) 92 B468l

This biography of an English actor and dramatist (1635–1710) is as much a history of the English stage during the restoration as a life of the leading actor of the time. It describes admirably the conditions of the theatre in which the comedies of Congreve, Wycherley, Farquhar and Vanbrugh, and Dryden's dramas were produced.

Bewick, William.

Life and letters; ed. by Thomas Landseer. 2v. 1871 ..... 92 B4693

Bewick (1795–1866) was an English portrait and historical painter. The book contains many anecdotes concerning the well-known men of his time—Haydon, Wordsworth, Hazlitt and Scott—with whom Bewick was on terms of friendly intimacy.

Binney, Horace.

Binney, Charles Chauncey. Life of Horace Binney, with selections from his letters. 1903 ..... 92 B485b

Mr Binney died in 1875 at the age of ninety-five. He had long held in Philadelphia the place of an historic figure, and represented to an unusual degree the dignity, scholarship and high tradition of the legal calling. His portrait, drawn up in this volume by his grandson, is preëminently the portrait of a gentleman, and the impression it leaves is that of a type which our civilization should be loath to leave behind. Condensed from Atlantic monthly, 1904.

Blowitz, Henri Georges Stephane Adolphe Opper de.

Memoirs of M. de Blowitz. 1903 ..... 92 B567

Some of the chapters appeared in "Harper's magazine" and the "Saturday evening post."

Author was for 30 years Paris correspondent of the London "Times." He was no mere collector of news, but a clear exponent of the opinions and motives of public men and political parties. Some of his longer dispatches in critical periods will be valuable sources of information for the future historian.

"Of his chief journalistic coups—his interview with Alfonso XII., his intervention at the time of the scare of 1875, and his capture of the text of the Berlin treaty—M. de Blowitz writes with a mixture of complacency, naïveté, and gusto which is most entertaining." Spectator, 1903.

Autobiographical recollections of Sir John Bowring; with a brief memoir by L. B. Bowring. 1877.....92 B664

"List of the principal writings of Sir John Bowring," p.[403].

Sir John Bowring (1792-1872) was an English politician and author, first editor of the "Westminster review." His recollections consist chiefly of notes of travel and sketches or anecdotes of public men.

Boyle, Mary Louisa.

Mary Boyle, her book; ed. by Sir Courtenay Boyle. 1902..92 B671

Mary Boyle (1810-90) belonged to an illustrious English family and was a well-known figure in London society. Her journal affords pleasant, if superficial, impressions of many interesting people, — men of affairs, actors, poets and novelists.

Boyle, Richard, earl of Cork.

Townshend, Dorothea. Life and letters of the great earl of Cork. 1904.....q92 B6712t

Richard Boyle (1566-1643) from a position of scrivener's clerk raised himself to be earl of Cork, lord high treasurer of Ireland, and privy councillor of both England and Ireland. He is most of all to be remembered for the success of his attempts to stimulate Irish industries.

Bracciolini, Poggio. See Poggio Bracciolini, Giovanni Francesco.

Brahms, Johannes.

Erb, J. Lawrence. Brahms. 1905. (Master musicians.)..92 B6882e

"Complete list of Brahms's works," p.149–172.

"Bibliography," p.173–175.

"Contains within less than two hundred pages an excellent résumé of the important facts in the composer's career, the genesis of his works, and critical opinions for and against them." Nation, 1906.

May, Florence. Life of Johannes Brahms. 2v. 1905..92 B6882m

Bibliography, v.2, p.293–302.

Gains much in interest from the fact that the writer was a pupil of Brahms.

Brampton, Sir Henry Hawkins, baron.

Reminiscences; ed. by Richard Harris. 2v. 1904.....92 B6942

Baron Brampton (b. 1817) had the reputation of being the sharpest criminal lawyer of his time and afterwards the severest judge on the criminal bench. These garrulous reminiscences are full of anecdotes and also contain valuable reflections on criminal law.

Breitmann, Hans, pseud. See Leland, Charles Godfrey.

Brewster, William, 1560–1644.

Steele, Ashbel. Chief of the Pilgrims; or, The life and time of William Brewster, ruling elder of the Pilgrim company that founded New Plymouth, the parent colony of New England, in 1620. 1857.....92 B739s

"This life of Elder Brewster was authorized by the Brewster family... Mr. Steele had exceptional advantages in the way of obtaining information and his account is unbiased and fairly complete. The facts regarding Brewster's life are nowhere better given. The treatment is very subjective, the narrative being freely interspersed with personal comment." Larned's Literature of American history.

Bridgman, Laura.

Elliott, Mrs Maude (Howe), & Hall, Mrs F. M. (Howe). Laura Bridgman; Dr Howe's famous pupil and what he taught her. 1903.....92 B745e

"Bibliography of Laura Bridgman and the blind deaf-mutes of her time," p.383–384.

Sympathetic account, by two of Dr Howe's daughters, of his blind deaf-mute pupil and the methods used in her education. The book affords a sufficient biography of both pupil and teacher.

Britton, John.

Auto-biography. 2v. 1849–50.....qr92 B756

Contains also: Memoirs of the life, writings and character of Henry Hatcher, by John Britton.—Descriptive account of [Britton's] literary works, by T. E. Jones.—Biographical, topographical, critical and miscellaneous essays.

"A chronological list of the literary works of John Britton," v.2, p.185–192.

Britton (1771–1857) was an English antiquarian and topographer.

Edgar, Lady Matilda. General Brock. 1904. (Makers of Canada.).....92 B761e

Sir Isaac Brock (1769–1812) was an English general, commander-in-chief of the forces in Canada during the War of 1812. He was killed in the battle of Kingston.

Brookfield, Mrs Jane Octavia (Elton).

Brookfield, Charles, & Brookfield, Frances. Mrs Brookfield and her circle. 2v. 1905.....92 B7722b

Mrs Brookfield's drawing-room was the rallying-ground for a set of notables including the Carlyles, Tennyson, Thackeray, Fitzgerald, Spedding, Monckton Milnes, Lord Lyttleton and others. The memoirs, composed chiefly of Mr and Mrs Brookfield's correspondence and a diary kept by the former, is a storehouse of anecdotes of Victorian times.

Brooks, Phillips, bp.

Lawrence, William, bp. Phillips Brooks; a study. 1903...92 B774l

Address delivered in Trinity Church, Boston, on the tenth anniversary of Phillips Brooks's death. It defines his theological position, his attitude toward the intellectual and religious movements of the 19th century, and his relations to the church.

Brown, Charles Brockden.

Dunlap, William. Life of Charles Brockden Brown, together with selections from the rarest of his printed works, from his letters and from his manuscripts before unpublished. 2v. in 1. 1815.....r92 B784d

Brown (1771–1810) was a novelist, the first American to adopt literature as a profession. Contains a few of Brown's letters and some extracts from his journal. The selections include "Memoirs of Carwin the biloquist" and "Memoirs of Stephen Calvert" and two fragments which Dunlap calls "Sketches of a history of Carsol" and "Sketches of a history of the Currils and Ormes."

Brown, Ford Madox. See Artists, v.1, p.767.

Brown, George, 1818–80.

Lewis, John. George Brown. 1906. (Makers of Canada.) 92 B787l

Brown was a Canadian politician, editor of the "Globe," a leading Canadian paper. He contributed largely to the work of confederation in Canada.

Brown, John, of Ossawatomie.

Hugo, Victor. John Brown; [English and French text]. 1902.....r92 B791h

An eloquent letter, addressed to the American people, pleading for the pardon of John Brown, then condemned to death.

Redpath, James. Public life of Capt. John Brown, with an auto-biography of his childhood and youth. 1860....92 B791r

"Written by a newspaper reporter, for many years an Abolitionist, and one in touch with the friends of Brown. The work is affectionately if not skilfully done. Many original papers are used. The details of Brown's Kansas campaign, Virginia insurrection and execution are fully told. Sanborn derived much of his material from this work." Larned's Literature of American history.

Brown, John, M. D.

Brown, John Taylor. Dr John Brown; a biography and a criticism; ed. with a short sketch of the biographer by W. B. Dunlop. 1903.....92 B7912b

Appreciative sketch of the author of "Rab and his friends."

Brown, Moses.

Maclay, Edwin Stanton. Moses Brown, captain U. S. N. 1904 .....92 B7932m

Moses Brown (1742–1804) during the Revolutionary war commanded some of the largest privateers of New England and was engaged in several battles.

Brown, Samuel Robbins.

Griffis, William Elliot. Maker of the new Orient; Samuel Robbins Brown, pioneer educator in China, America and Japan; the story of his life and work. 1902.....92 B796g

Samuel R. Brown (1810–80) was a missionary to China and later to Japan. His great work was a translation of the Bible into Japanese.

Brown, Spencer Kellogg.

Smith, George Gardner, ed. Spencer Kellogg Brown; his life in Kansas and his death as a spy, 1842–1863, as disclosed in his diary. 1903.....92 B796 2s

Brown was associated with John Brown in his abolition work. Later, during the Civil war, he fought in the Northern army, was captured by the rebels and hung as a spy. His letters and journals illustrate the early history of Kansas and the first half of the Civil war.

Browne, Sir Thomas.

Gosse, Edmund William. Sir Thomas Browne. 1905. (English men of letters.).....92 B815g

Excellent short study of the famous physician and writer, and of his place in English literature.

Browning, Robert.

Chesterton, Gilbert Keith. Robert Browning. 1903. (English men of letters.).....92 B819c

"Mr. Chesterton belongs to a generation of readers younger than any of those who were familiar with Browning's presence—and...is to be welcomed as bringing to his task the freshness and the different perspective of youth. He brings also a remarkable degree of instinctive sympathy and congeniality of mind with the writer who is his subject...qualities somewhat akin to Browning's own...an unpruned fertility of healthy and manly thinking, and a readiness to express his meaning in any rough-and-ready phrase that comes to hand." London Times literary supplement, 1903.

Dowden, Edward. Robert Browning. 1904. (Temple biographies.) 92 B819d

"Simple, clear, sufficient. The student of Browning will still have to go for details to Mrs. Orr, Mr. Sharp, Mr. Gosse...and the Browning Letters; but for the purposes of the general reader Dr. Dowden does all that is necessary and does it most pleasantly as well as accurately." Academy, 1904.

Brummell, George Bryan, called Beau.

Jesse, William. Life of George Brummell, esq., commonly called Beau Brummell. 1893.....92 B834j

Brummell (1778–1840) was an English society leader, famous for his social aplomb, readiness of repartee and fastidious neatness in dress. He was acknowledged absolute monarch of the mode, having for his subject in this domain his friend, the prince of Wales, afterward George IV.

Bruno, Giordano.

Berti, Domenico. Giordano Bruno da Nola; sua vita e sua dottrina. 1889.....92 B836be

Bibliografia delle opere edite ed inedite di Giordano Bruno, p.473–484.

Brinton, Daniel Garrison. Giordano Bruno, philosopher and martyr; two addresses. 1890.....92 B836b

Contents: Giordano Bruno; his life and his philosophy, by D. G. Brinton.—Bruno's thought; its sources, character and value, by Thomas Davidson.

Frith, I. Life of Giordano Bruno, the Nolan; revised by Moriz Carriere. 1887. (English and foreign philosophical library.).....92 B836f

Alphabetical list of authorities, p.379–388.

This biography of the great Italian philosopher is inspired by enthusiasm for its subject and is a useful and interesting exposition of his character and his philosophy, but throws little light on his times or on the great intellectual movement of which he was the product.

McIntyre, James Lewis. Giordano Bruno. 1903.....92 B836m

Bibliography, p.13–16.

"Narrative of the career of a 'knight-errant of philosophy' in the early dawn of modern speculation. A sketch is also given, for the most part in Bruno's own words, of the problems which chiefly interested him, and of the solutions he offered to his amazed and scandalized contemporaries." Spectator, 1903.

Bryant, William Cullen.

Bradley, William Aspenwall. William Cullen Bryant. 1905. (English men of letters.).....92 B842br

Deals with Bryant not only as a poet and man of letters but also as a man of affairs and a figure in the politics of his time.

Buckingham, George Villiers, duke of, 1627–87.

Burghclere, Winifred (Molyneux), lady. George Villiers, second duke of Buckingham, 1628–1687; a study in the history of the restoration. 1903.....92 B854b

"Buckingham is not merely a picturesque and prominent personage in Restoration England, he offers to the student a series of puzzling problems in politics and psychology and a tempting canvas for a delineation of the atmosphere and social life of the Court from 1660 onwards...Her [Lady Burghclere's] volume...contains much that is both interesting and valuable...and she has supplied essentially new material for clearing up and estimating some of the obscurer phases in Buckingham's kaleidoscopic career...Eminently readable." Saturday review, 1904.

Buffalo Bill. See Cody, William Frederick.

"Chronological list of Bunyan's works," v.2, p.237–238.

Accurate, comprehensive and readable biography of Bunyan, by one of his successors in the ministry of Bedford church, who had access to many manuscript sources.

Philip, Robert. Life, times and characteristics of John Bunyan; with an introduction by S. D. Phelps. 1867...92 B885p Contains facsimiles of all the original woodcuts of "Pilgrim's progress," with the verse under each, placed together in the order in which they first appeared.

Buonaparte, Napoleon. See Napoleon I, emperor of the French.

Buonarroti, Michael Angelo. See Michael Angelo.

Burke, Edmund.

Prior, Sir James. Life of Edmund Burke. 1872.....92 B916p

"This, the first biography [of Burke] of any real value, still remains, on the whole, the best." Dictionary of national biography, 1886.

Burne-Jones, Sir Edward.

Burne-Jones, Georgiana (Macdonald), lady. Memorials of Edward Burne-Jones. 2v. 1904.....92 B929bu

"Here is Burne-Jones set before us as he is known to his intimates, more completely revealed, of course, than would be possible to any other biographer. Of criticism there is little or none; that is left to the critics...But the facts of his life are set out in welcome fulness—his conversations and his letters, his travels and his sojournings, his efforts, disappointments, and triumphs." Academy, 1904.

Admirably illustrated.

Burnett, Peter Hardeman.

Recollections and opinions of an old pioneer. 1880.....92 B935

Burnett (1807–95) was an American lawyer and pioneer settler. In 1843 he emigrated to Oregon, and in 1848 the gold excitement attracted him to California, of which state he became governor in 1850.

"Specially valuable in connection with the early political and constitutional history of the Pacific coast." Appletons' cyclopedia of American biography.

Burney, Frances. See Arblay, Mme Frances (Burney) d'.

Burns, Robert.

Lockhart, John Gibson. Life of Robert Burns. 1892.....92 B939l

"Gives more insight, we think, into the true character of Burns than any prior biography...The spirit of the work is throughout candid, tolerant, and anxiously conciliating." Thomas Carlyle, in Edinburgh review, 1828.

"An admirable picture on a small canvas." Chambers's Cyclopædia of English literature, 1904.

Burnside, Ambrose Everett.

Poore, Benjamin Perley. Life and public services of Ambrose E. Burnside, soldier, citizen, statesman; with an introduction by H. B. Anthony. 1882.....q92 B941p

"Mr. Poore was...intimate with Burnside during the general's senatorship from 1875 to his death...The book is...warmly appreciative in tone. It is based on competent research in original materials." Larned's Literature of American history.

Bushnell, Horace.

Life and letters of Horace Bushnell. 1880.....92 B964

Horace Bushnell (1802–76) was a Congregationalist clergyman and theologian.

Butler, William.

[Butler, Clementina.] William Butler, the founder of two missions of the Methodist Episcopal church. 1902.....92 B979b

Rev. William Butler (1818–99) was a missionary of the Methodist church to India and Mexico.

Byron, George Gordon Noel, lord.

Confessions of Lord Byron; a collection of his private opinions of men and of matters, taken from the new and enlarged edition of his letters and journals, arranged by W. A. L. Bettany. 1905.....92 B998co

Contains but few references to his private life.

Hunt, Leigh. Lord Byron and some of his contemporaries; with recollections of [Hunt's] life and of his visit to Italy. 2v. 1828.....r92 B998h

Moore, Shelley and Keats are among the contemporaries mentioned. The tone of the remarks in regard to Byron is not kindly and Hunt himself later regretted the publication of the book.

Jeaffreson, John Cordy. The real Lord Byron; the story of the poet's life. [1883.].....92 B998j

"It does not profess to be a new biography of the poet, much less a critique of his writings...But what it undertakes it does thoroughly: it reveals us the man Byron as he has never before been drawn with pen and ink, his character...his good qualities, his foibles, and his vices...Avoiding equally the fulsome adulation of Moore, the absurd defamation of Mrs. Stowe, and the almost as absurd declamation of Macaulay, he gives us facts—hard, unpalatable facts—and in general leaves the reader to draw his own conclusions." Nation, 1883.

Cæsar, Caius Julius.

Scott, Frank Jesup. Portraitures of Julius Cæsar; a monograph. 1903.....r92 C119s

Biography of Cæsar and an account of the various alleged likenesses of him to be found in public museums and private collections. Coins, medals, statues and busts are included, and their authenticity discussed. Contains 37 full-page plates and 49 inset engravings.

Cairns, John, 1818–92.

Cairns, John, of Scotland. Principal Cairns. 1903. (Famous Scots series.) 92 C125c

Calvert, James.

Vernon, Mrs R. James Calvert; or, From dark to dawn in Fiji. 1890 ..... 92 C143v

Calvert was an English missionary (1813–92) who labored for many years among the Fiji islanders and translated the Bible into their language.

Calvin, John.

Dyer, Thomas Henry. Life of John Calvin; compiled from authentic sources and particularly from his correspondence. 1850 ..... 92 C144d

"His view of Calvin's character is rather severe, but his work is grounded upon original documents of an undoubted and important nature, as well as upon the various preceding biographies." Dictionary of national biography.

Henry, Paul Emil. Life and times of John Calvin, the great reformer; tr. fr. the German by Henry Stebbing. 2v. 1849 ..... 92 C144h Affords ample details on the main points of Calvin's history and that of his age. Though generally taking the part of an apologist the author never omits facts or documents; never garbles a letter, or weakens, by an imperfect abstract, a hostile argument. Condensed from translator's preface.

Cambrensis, Giraldus de Barri, called. See Giraldus de Barri, called Cambrensis.

Canning, George.

Bell, Robert. Life of George Canning. 1846 ..... 92 C1732b

Canning (1770–1827) was an English statesman and orator. Complete narrative of Canning's life, written from the standpoint of an admirer. The public and political part of his career is interspersed with sketches of society under George III.

Canova, Antonio. See Artists, v.1, p.739.

Carew, Bampfylde Moore.

Surprising adventures of Bampfylde Moore Carew, king of the beggars; containing his life, a dictionary of the cant language and many entertaining particulars of that extraordinary man. 1812 ..... r92 C194

Carew (1693–1770?) was an English adventurer whose career was a long series of swindling and imposture, very ingeniously carried out. Early in life he joined a band of gipsies and was later elected their king.

Carlyle, Mrs Jane Baillie (Welsh).

New letters and memorials; annotated by Thomas Carlyle and ed. by Alexander Carlyle, with introduction by Sir James Crichton-Browne. 2v. 1903 ..... 92 C2141n

Introduction is a vigorous denunciation of Froude and his editorship of Mrs Carlyle's letters. The present volumes contain the letters which Froude rejected from his edition.

"It is impossible to lay aside these volumes, as one could Froude's, without feeling that the Carlyles loved each other devotedly...The letters are full of little personal touches, trivial items of domestic routine, family jests, deliberately retained by Carlyle, and tenderly annotated for publication." Atlantic monthly, 1903.

Carlyle, Thomas.

New letters of Thomas Carlyle; ed. and annotated by Alexander Carlyle. 2v. 1904.....92 C214ne

"The letters now published extend from 1836 to 1879, and may be divided into two main classes: family letters addressed to Carlyle's mother, brother, wife and other near relatives; and letters to friends and associates, literary for the most part...These three hundred and ninety-five letters, dashed off for the most part with little or no premeditation, and written to various people on varying occasions, are...truly expressive of the general attitude of his mind...Graphic sketches of persons and things abound everywhere." Richard Garnett, in Academy, 1904.

Carlyle, Thomas, & Goethe, J. W. von.

Correspondence; ed. by C. E. Norton. 1887.....92 G559co

Begins with a letter from Carlyle in 1824 accompanying his translation of Wilhelm Meister. The correspondence continued until Goethe's death, and Carlyle says it "was not in itself momentous at all, but to us then an ætherial and quasi-celestial thing."

Carlyle, Thomas.

Carlyle, Alexander, & Browne, Sir James Crichton-. Nemesis of Froude; a rejoinder to James Anthony Froude's "My relations with Carlyle." 1903.....92 C214c

Vindication of Carlyle from the charges of his literary executor and biographer, Froude.

Carnegie, Andrew.

Alderson, Bernard. Andrew Carnegie; the man and his work. 1902.....92 C216a

The same. 1902.....92 C216a2

Title reads "Andrew Carnegie; from telegraph boy to millionaire."

Caroline Matilda, queen-consort of Christian VII, king of Denmark and Norway.

Wilkins, William Henry. Queen of tears, Caroline Matilda, queen of Denmark and Norway and princess of Great Britain and Ireland. 2v. 1904.....92 C218lw

"List of authorities," v.2, p.327–329.

Tragic history of Caroline Matilda, sister of George III, married at fifteen to Christian VII of Denmark and dead in exile in 1775, at the age of twenty-three. Founded on hitherto unpublished documents, and others inaccessible in English.

Caroline Wilhelmina, queen consort of George II.

Wilkins, William Henry. Caroline the illustrious, queen-consort of George II and sometime queen-regent; a study of her life and time. 2v. 1901.....92 C218w

"List of authorities," v.2, p.369–371.

"Mr. Wilkins is, perhaps, too enthusiastic an admirer of Queen Caroline to be regarded as a thoroughly impartial historian, though in the main his exalted estimate of her character may be taken as correct...It is a repulsive yet strangely fascinating age which the author may justly claim to have made clearer to all but special students of the period...giving us the cream of Hervey and Horace Walpole, of Lady Mary Montagu and Lady Suffolk, worked up into one continuous narrative." Contemporary review, 1902.

Carter, Elizabeth.

Gaussen, Alice C. C. A woman of wit and wisdom; a memoir of Elizabeth Carter, one of the bas bleu society, 1717–1806. 1906.....92 C236g

Memoir of an Englishwoman celebrated in her day for her learning and wit, of whom Dr Johnson said, "My old friend Mrs. Carter can make a pudding as well as translate Epictetus, and work a handkerchief as well as compose a poem." Her biography is an interesting reflection of 18th century life and literature in England.

Cartier, Sir Georges Étienne.

DeCelles, Alfred Duclos. Papineau [and] Cartier. 1904. (Makers of Canada.) 92 P226d

"The power wielded for a quarter of a century over the masses in Lower Canada by Mr. Papineau [1786–1870] was something marvellous; though the influence his impassioned appeals exerted may seem incredible to those who never witnessed the display." Canadian monthly, 1878.

Cartier (1814–73) was in early life a follower of Papineau and a leader in the insurrection of 1837. For many years in later life he was a member of the cabinet and a strong influence in shaping legislation.

Cartwright, Peter.

Autobiography of Peter Cartwright, the backwoods preacher; ed. by W. P. Strickland. 1856 ..... 92 C242s

Cartwright (1785–1872) was a traveling preacher of the Methodist church, a pioneer worker of that church in the West.

Casanova de Seingalt, Giovanni Jacopo.

Memoirs. 2v. 1902 ..... r92 C248

This edition is much abridged.

"The Europe of the latter half of the eighteenth century is nowhere painted in a fashion so truthful as in Casanova...Brilliant, impetuous, unscrupulous, cynical, libertine, he was for decades a wanderer over the face of Europe, dependent on his wits for bare subsistence, yet living generally on the fat of the land, consorting with popes, kings, cardinals, and statesmen, making friends wherever he went, and extricating himself from every predicament by sheer force of ingenuity and impudence." Athenæum, 1902.

Cellini, Benvenuto.

La vita, scritta da lui medesimo. 1903. (Biblioteca nazionale economica.) 92 C315v

"Those who have made themselves thoroughly familiar with Cellini's Memoirs possess the substance of that many-sided epoch [the 16th century] in the form of an epitome. It is the first book which a student of the Italian Renaissance should handle in order to obtain the right direction for his more minute researches...From the pages of this book the Genius of the Renaissance, incarnate in a single personality, leans forth and speaks to us. He was the first goldsmith of his time, an adequate sculptor, a restless traveller, an indefatigable workman, a Bohemian of the purest water, a turbulent bravo, a courtier and companion of princes; finally a Florentine who used his native idiom with incomparable vivacity of style." J. A. Symonds.

"One of the most interesting and valuable autobiographies ever written. The author was contemporaneous with Raphael and Michael Angelo, and was the most skilful worker in metals in that age of artists. It was while he was engaged in the varied labors of his craft that he dictated this fascinating work. The variety of its incidents, the minuteness of its descriptions, the pictures of the people, and of the manners of the time, and, above all, the view it affords of the life of one of the most powerful characters of the age, give it at once the charm of romance and the value of a record of contemporaneous events." C. K. Adams.

Cervantes Saavedra, Miguel de.

Calvert, Albert Frederick. Life of Cervantes; with numerous portraits and reproductions from early editions of Don Quixote. 1905 ..... 92 C334c

"Bibliography of Don Quixote," p.111-133.

"List of bibliographies of Cervantes," p.135–138.

Throws no new light upon Cervantes and contents itself with paraphrasing the more substantial accounts of Watts and Fitzmaurice-Kelly. To the scholar its only recommendation will be the 30 or more illustrations it contains, comprising several portraits of Cervantes, reproductions of early title-pages and cuts from rare editions. Condensed from Nation, 1905.

Champlain (1567–1635) was the founder of Quebec and the father of New France.

Dix, Edwin Asa. Champlain, the founder of New France. 1903. (Appletons' series of historic lives.).....92 C358d

Popular biography, closely following Champlain's own "Voyages," and illustrated with reproductions of some of Champlain's drawings. Gives more space to purely personal matters and less to the historical conditions than Parkman's account in "Pioneers of France in the New World."

Channing, William Ellery, 1780–1842.

Chadwick, John White. William Ellery Channing, minister of religion. 1903.....92 C365ch

"The development of character is outlined in progressive chapters from the picture of the impulsive and meditative child of the early Newport days to the active, often ascetic, preacher and social reformer of Boston and its historic Federal Street church." Dial, 1903.

Frothingham, Paul Revere. William Ellery Channing; his messages from the spirit. 1903.....92 C365f

An address delivered in the Arlington street church, Boston, May 31, 1903.

"Sermon-study of the great liberal preacher and philanthropist...indulging in no fulsome eulogy, but distinguished by sincere appreciation." Nation, 1903.

Chateaubriand, François Auguste, vicomte de.

Memoirs; tr. by A. T. de Mattos. 6v. 1902.....92 C396m

"An autobiography designed for posthumous publication, and actually issued...through the indiscreet haste of the publishers, while Chateaubriand was still living. Its egotism, its vanity, its malicious wit, its fierce reprisals on those whom the writer regarded as his enemies, its many beauties, its brilliance of style, make it an exposure of all that was worst and much that was best in his character and genius." Edward Dowden.

Chatham, William Pitt, earl of. See Pitt, William, earl of Chatham, 1708–78.

Chatterton, Henrietta Georgiana Marcia Lascelles, lady.

Dering, Edward Heneage. Memoirs of Georgiana, lady Chatterton; with some passages from her diary. 1878...92 C3992d

An appendix gives a list of Lady Chatterton's works.

Lady Chatterton's diary, which takes up the first part of the book, contains pleasant accounts of meetings with the celebrities of her time (1806–76). The remainder, written by her husband, is chiefly concerned with her conversion to Romanism and especially with the letters written to her during that period by Dr Ullathorne, bishop of Birmingham.

Thacher, John Boyd. Christopher Columbus; his life, his work, his remains as revealed by original printed and manuscript records, with an essay on Peter Martyr of Angbera and Bartolomé de las Casas, the first historians of America. 3v. 1903.....qr92 C727th "Painstaking work by a bibliophile and collector. Each voyage is treated separately with a description of the sources, a brief account of the voyage and the chief texts in the original languages followed by an English translation. Many of the documents are taken from Navarrete's collection without any attempt at verification. The author does not cite authorities except such as have bibliographical interest, and neglects the work of other modern investigators. The numerous facsimiles of books and mss, some of them now first reproduced photographically, are the most important feature of the work." Philip P. Wells.

Vignaud, Jean Henry. Critical study of the various dates assigned to the birth of Christopher Columbus; the real date, 1451. 1903.....92 C727v

"Bibliography," p.102–121.

Binder's title reads, "The real birth-date of Columbus, 1451."

From the assertions of Columbus himself, from the testimony of his contemporaries and from documents of Italian notaries, the author brings forth evidence to fix the much discussed date of Columbus's birth, in the year 1451.

Conkling, Roscoe.

Conkling, Alfred Ronald. Life and letters of Roscoe Conkling, orator, statesman, advocate. 1889.....92 C752c

Conkling (1829–88) was a lawyer and United States senator. His biography covers to some extent the political history of New York and of the United States from 1866 to 1884.

Constable, John. See Artists, v.1, p.767.

Constant, Silas.

Journal of the Reverend Silas Constant, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Yorktown, New York; with some of the records of the church and a list of his marriages, 1784–1825, with notes on the Nelson, Van Cortlandt, Warren and some other families mentioned in the journal, by E. W. Roebling; ed. by J. G. Leach. 1903.....qr92 C762

Covers the years from 1783 to 1801, recording the unimportant details of the author's daily life with practically no references to historic events. Chiefly valuable as a mine of names and dates for a part of New York which is deficient in public records of marriages and deaths.

Constantine the Great, emperor of Rome.

Firth, John Benjamin. Constantine the Great; the reorganization of the empire and the triumph of the church. 1905. (Heroes of the nations.).....92 C762f Crabbe, George.

Ainger, Alfred. Crabbe. 1903. (English men of letters.)..92 C857a

"It is not, nor could be, a brilliant biography: You cannot...get excitement from the drab life of this poetic country-parson. But Canon Ainger has treated it with a mixture of narrative skill and unambitious fidelity which gives it a quiet and sober interest not unlike that of Crabbe's own verse." Academy, 1903.

Cramp, Charles Henry.

Buell, Augustus C. Memoirs of Charles H. Cramp. 1906..92 C865b

Alfriend, Frank H. Life of Jefferson Davis. 1868.....r92 D319a

"Written from a conviction that Davis was not responsible for the failure of the Confederacy...The military conduct of the war is very fully considered as the source of weakness. The volume shows the heat of contemporary writing," Larned's Literature of American history.

Davis, Mrs Varina (Howell). Jefferson Davis, ex-president of the Confederate States of America; a memoir by his wife. 2v. 1890.....r92 D319da

"Story of the personal and social life in the Confederate executive mansion...an amiable and vivacious presentation of men, women, and events, drawn with insight and full knowledge. It gives us valuable pictures and telling comments, and must always have high rank in its sphere. No doubt it also reflects in considerable measure Mr. Davis's own opinions, softened in the presentation." Larned's Literature of American history.

Pollard, Edward Albert. Life of Jefferson Davis; with a secret history of the Southern confederacy, gathered behind the scenes in Richmond. 1869.....r92 D319p

"Written by the editor of the Richmond (Va.) Examiner to place the blame for the failure of the southern Confederacy. A bitter arraignment of Davis, but with little evidence of any secret history... The evidence submitted rarely substantiates the charge." Larned's Literature of American history.

Threescore years and ten; reminiscences, to which are added letters to and from her husband, Augustus De Morgan, and others; ed. by M. A. De Morgan. 1895.....92 D423d

Mrs De Morgan (1809–92) was an Englishwoman of wide acquaintance, much interested in philanthropic and reform work. Among the people appearing in her reminiscences are Charles Lamb, Crabb Robinson, Mary Lister, Thomas Campbell, Robert Owen, Carlyle and Lord Shaftesbury.

De Soto, Hernando. See Soto, Hernando de.

De Vere, Aubrey Thomas.

Ward, Wilfrid. Aubrey de Vere; a memoir based on his unpublished diaries and correspondence. 1904.....92 D487w

The story of the Irish poet's long and rather uneventful life (1814–1902) is told largely by himself, and it contains many interesting descriptions of contemporary great men, including Gladstone, Wordsworth, Tennyson, Newman and Browning. The poet's gradual change of religious belief which brought him from the English church to the Church of Rome is carefully traced.

Diaz, Porfirio.

Tweedie, Mrs Ethel B. (Harley). Porfirio Diaz, seven times president of Mexico. 1906.....92 D539t

Diaz (b. 1830) has had an unusually eventful career as both soldier and statesman. He fought in the Mexican war against the United States and was one of the leaders in opposing the French invasion of Mexico. Book is written from the standpoint of a warm admirer. It is the fullest account of the life of Diaz in English.

Dickens, Charles.

Kitton, Frederic G. Charles Dickens; his life, writings and personality. 1902.....92 D551k

"As he [Mr Kitton] has largely availed himself of printed letters unknown to Forster, the volume presents more than a little the effect of an autobiography...[He] has shrunk from revealing no ultimate detail, no triviality, no outburst of animal spirits, no period of depression by which men may peep into the soul of him [Dickens]." Academy, 1902.

Donne (1807–82) was an English scholar and critic, for 15 years examiner of plays in the lord chamberlain's office. Though his name is almost unknown to the present generation, his letters are of great interest for their sidelights on his friends, people better known than himself. Among these were Edward Fitzgerald, Archbishop Trench, the Kembles and Bernard Barton.

Doré, Gustave.

Macchetta, Blanche Roosevelt (Tucker), marchesa. Life and reminiscences of Gustave Doré; compiled from material supplied by Doré's relations and friends and from personal recollection; with many original unpublished sketches and selections from Doré's best published illustrations. 1885.....92 D737m

Doré (1833–83) was a French historical painter, sculptor and illustrator of books.

"Materials were gleaned from all sources, more especially from the recollections of Doré's old and intimate friends, and then were woven into a narrative which is irregular...sometimes rambling and prolix ...which yet has always a delightful spice of originality, and creates an absorbing interest in the man it delineates." Dial, 1885.

Claverhouse (1649?–1689) was a Scottish soldier, in 1678 appointed captain of a troop of dragoons to enforce certain stringent laws that had been enacted against the Scotch Covenanters. The severity with which he executed his orders provoked an uprising of the Covenanters.

Dunton, Theodore Watts-.

Douglas, James, b. 1869. Theodore Watts-Dunton, poet, novelist, critic. 1904 ..... 92 D926d

The work of a eulogist rather than a critic, yet interesting and significant as a view of a strong personality, his wide interests and attainments, the keenness and sympathy of his critical temper and his genius for friendship. Nearly two-thirds of the book is occupied with reprinted essays and poems and extracts from his longer compositions.

Dürer, Albrecht. See Artists, v.1, p.771.

Elgin, James Bruce, earl of.

Bourinot, Sir John George. Lord Elgin. 1903. (Makers of Canada.) 92 E464b

"Bibliographical note," p.269–270.

"Less a life of Lord Elgin than a study of the completion of responsible government in Canada. Lord Elgin's term of office was a notable period...To him the final solution of the Canadian difficulty is due." Wrong & Langton's Review of historical publications relating to Canada.

Eliot, Charles.

[Eliot, Charles William.] Charles Eliot, landscape architect. 1902 ..... 92 E4762e

Charles Eliot (1859–97) was the son of President Eliot of Harvard University. In his ten years' practice of his profession he made for himself a distinct name and place, especially in his relations with the work of the Metropolitan park commission of Massachusetts. The biography, enriched by extracts from his journals, letters and public papers, constitutes a valuable work on the subject of his profession.

Eliot, George, pseud. of Mrs Mary Ann (Evans) Cross).

Stephen, Sir Leslie. George Eliot. 1902. (English men of letters.) 92 E476s

Contents: Early life.—Coventry.—"The Westminster review."—"Scenes of clerical life."—"Adam Bede."—"The mill on the Floss."—"Silas Marner."— Middle life. — "Romola."— "Felix Holt."— "The Spanish gypsy."—"Middlemarch."—"Daniel Deronda."—Conclusion.

"In his account of George Eliot Sir Leslie Stephen supplies an interesting specimen of that art of biographical criticism of which he must always remain an acknowledged master...[He] writes of George Eliot in no spirit of adulation. He is keenly alive to her defects...But his tribute to her intellectual power of observation and to the richness of her emotional nature is ample enough to satisfy all reasonable admirers of her achievements." Athenæum, 1902.

Eliot, William Greenleaf.

Eliot, Mrs Charlotte C. William Greenleaf Eliot, minister, educator, philanthropist, with an introduction by J. K. Hosmer. 1904 ..... 92 E4772e

Dr Eliot was the first Unitarian minister to take a pastorate west of the Mississippi river, was the organizer of the western Sanitary Commission and virtually the founder of Washington University and the public school system of St. Louis. The memoir is a valuable contribution to the history of the middle West in its formative period.

Elizabeth, queen of England.

Creighton, Mandell, bp. Queen Elizabeth. 1900 ..... 92 E485c

Personal rather than a political biography of Elizabeth.

Hume, Martin Andrew Sharp. Courtships of Queen Elizabeth; a history of the various negotiations for her marriage. 1904 ..... 92 E485h

"Singular mixture of the action of coquetry with that of diplomacy." Nation, 1896.

Elizabeth, St. of Hungary.

Montalembert, Charles Forbes René de Tryon, comte de. Life of Saint Elizabeth of Hungary, duchess of Thuringia; tr. by F. D. Hoyt. 1904 ..... 92 E4856m

"Index of historical sources," p.481–491.

"This biography when originally published, was designed to be a vindication of the Ages of Faith against the ages of unbelief...The author, finding himself in Marburg on St. Elizabeth's feast-day, is impressed by the lack of reverence for her memory which is displayed in this city of Lutheranism, where exactly six centuries earlier the Duchess of Thuringia had died. And so he resolved to write once more of the woman who there at Marburg 'consecrated the last days of her life to works of heroic charity.'" Nation, 1905.

Ellsworth, Oliver.

Brown, William Garrott. Life of Oliver Ellsworth. 1905.....92 E5382b

Correspondence; ed. by F. W. Holls. 1903.....92 E586cor

Appeared, with the exception of the original German letters, in the Atlantic monthly, v.91, April 1903.

Some of Emerson's most characteristic and significant letters were written to Grimm during the course of their long correspondence. The letters from Grimm are printed in both German and English. Four of the letters are addressed to Gisela von Arnim whom Grimm afterwards married.

Emerson, Ralph Waldo.

Cary, Elisabeth Luther. Emerson, poet and thinker. 1904.....q92 E586ca

"The author has chosen for special emphasis the less usual aspects of Emerson's mind and genius...She has given, not a portrayal of the man or the essayist, but rather a study of the moral artist." Dial, 1904.

Mead, Edwin Doak. Influence of Emerson. 1903.....92 E586m

Contents: The philosophy of Emerson.—Emerson and Theodore Parker. —Emerson and Carlyle.

Sincere expression of a hearty and intelligent admiration for Emerson.

Sanborn, Franklin Benjamin. Personality of Emerson. 1903.....q92 E586sa

"A brief and somewhat desultory record of conversation, anecdotes, and impressions gathered during Mr. Sanborn's long acquaintance with Emerson, which dates back to 1852...He tells of Emerson's habits of thought and of life, and repeats his table-talk and forgotten bits of his lectures." Dial, 1903.

Emmet, Robert.

Guiney, Louise Imogen. Robert Emmet; a survey of his rebellion and of his romance. 1904.....92 E594g

Evelyn, John.

Diary; ed. from the original mss. by William Bray, with a biographical introduction by [M. W. Dunne], and a special introduction by Richard Garnett. 2v. 1901. (Universal classics library.).....r92 E953d

"John Evelyn, possessing neither the humour, the naïveté, the shrewdness, or the uncompromising frankness of his rival and friend [Pepys], occupies a much lower place as an autobiographer, though more highly endowed as a scholar and a man of letters...The chief literary merits of the 'Diary' are its unassuming simplicity and perfect perspicuity of style and phrase. Infinitely less interesting than Pepys's, it has the advantage of covering a much more extensive period [1641–1705], and faithfully reflecting the feelings of a loyal, pious, sensible Englishman at various important crises of public affairs." Richard Garnett.

Eytinge, Rose.

Memories of Rose Eytinge; being recollections & observations of men, women and events during half a century. 1905 ..... 92 E995

An actress's scattered memories of half a century. She was happily associated with Wallack, Booth, Davenport, Boucicault, the elder Sothern and other actors of their period.

Falckner, Justus.

Sachse, Julius Friedrich. Justus Falckner, mystic and scholar, devout pietist in Germany, hermit on the Wissahickon, missionary on the Hudson; a bi-centennial memorial of the first regular ordination of an orthodox pastor in America, done Nov. 24, 1703 at Gloria Dei, the Swedish Lutheran church at Wicaco, Philadelphia; compiled from original documents, letters and records at home and abroad. 1903 ..... 92 F184s

Falckner (1672–1723) was a Lutheran clergyman and hymn-writer.

"Its quaint details and numerous illustrations have interest for students of early Pennsylvania history as well as for Lutherans." Nation, 1903.

Fanshawe, Anne (Harrison), lady.

Memoirs of Lady Fanshawe, wife of Sir Richard Fanshawe, bt., ambassador from Charles II to the courts of Portugal & Madrid; containing extracts from the correspondence of Sir Richard Fanshawe; ed. with an introduction by Beatrice Marshall and a note upon the illustrations by Allan Fea. 1905. (Crown library.) 92 F223

Lady Fanshawe, in her youth, was one of the gayest members of the court of Charles I. Her "Memoirs" hold a high place in the biographical literature of the Stuart era.

Farrar, Frederic William, dean.

Farrar, Reginald. Life of Frederic William Farrar, sometime dean of Canterbury. 1904 ..... 92 F251f

Biography, by his son, of the well-known English clergyman and educator (1831–1903), who was successively head-master of Marlborough, rector of St. Margaret's, canon of Westminster, and dean of Canterbury. He was the author of some widely-read books, notably the "Life of Christ."

Fields, James Thomas.

[Fields, Mrs Annie (Adams), ed.] James T. Fields; biographical notes and personal sketches, with unpublished fragments and tributes from men and women of letters. 1882.....92 F465f

Memoir of the eminent Boston publisher (1817–81) by his wife. His life was not remarkable for incident and derives its chief interest from the extraordinary number of noted people with whom he was continually thrown in contact through his business. Many letters are included in the memoir.

Fiske, John.

Perry, Thomas Sergeant. John Fiske. 1906. (Beacon biographies of eminent Americans.).....92 F543p

"Bibliography," p.103–105.

Summary of the life and labors of John Fiske (1842–1901). The value of the little book lies in its estimate of Fiske's historical and philosophical work and in its frank acceptance of the fact that he was a popularizer of science and history rather than an investigator. Condensed from Atlantic monthly, 1906.

Fitzgerald, Edward.

Benson, Arthur Christopher. Edward Fitzgerald. 1905. (English men of letters.).....92 F572b

Contains very little fresh material, but it criticises Fitzgerald's few works with sound judgment and moderation. Condensed from Spectator, 1905.

"List of authorities," p.464–466.

Vindication of Mrs Fitzherbert and an attempt to prove the validity of her marriage to George IV. It is also a good picture of the society and politics of the period.

Fleming, Marjorie.

Macbean, Leila. Story of Pet Marjorie (Marjory Fleming). 1904.....92 F629m

Biography of the charming and precocious little Scottish girl whose friendship with Sir Walter Scott has been immortalized in Dr John Brown's "Marjorie Fleming." Though but eight years old when she died, her "literary remains" include diaries and poems, and her brief life was found worthy of a record in the "Dictionary of national biography."

Macbean, Leila, & Brown, John, M.D. Marjorie Fleming; the story of Pet Marjorie, together with her journals and her letters; to which is added Marjorie Fleming, a story of child-life fifty years ago. 1904.....92 F629ma

Foote, Andrew Hull.

Hoppin, James Mason. Life of Andrew Hull Foote, rear-admiral United States navy. 1874.....92 F746h

"Detailed yet attractive story of a typical American naval officer of forty years' public service, the latter portion of which was in the organization and command of iron-clad river fleets in the West. Foote...bore a large part in the capture of Forts Henry and Donelson early in 1862, and in the opening of the Mississippi. Admiral Foote died in the midst of the war." Larned's Literature of American history.

Forrest, Edwin.

Alger, William Rounseville. Life of Edwin Forrest, the American tragedian. 2v. 1877.....q92 F781a

It is elaborate, painstaking, exact and in general just and pleasantly free from fulsome eulogy, but it is also full of repetitions and digressions. Forrest is shown to us as a lover of art, a student of Shakespeare, a man with a tender heart and an open purse. Condensed from Nation, 1877.

Frederick the Great.

Carlyle, Thomas. History of Friedrich II of Prussia, called Frederick the Great. 4v. 1858–64.....92 F895ca4

"The book is founded on the most exhaustive study and the most careful observation. The author even visited the more important of Frederick's battle-fields and had surveys made in the interests of absolute accuracy. Every scrap of German writing that would throw light on the reign appears to have been examined and weighed. The result is one of the most remarkable books in the English language, and one, which, all things considered, is unquestionably the best history of Frederick the Great in any language." C. K. Adams.

"A grand portraiture of a grand subject on a great scale, and in a worthy style...A biography which is, from the nature of the case, a 'history of our own times,' as well as a Life of their great protagonist...Of political gossip, even of the more innocent kind...[the reader] will find very little; of scandal, political or otherwise, none. What he will find if he has the patience to follow Mr. Morley—and patience and diligence are required—is a faithful, skilful, and admirably developed account of the evolution of Mr. Gladstone's character and career." Spectator, 1903.

Smith, Goldwin. My memory of Gladstone. 1904.....92 G458sm

"In the main, a critical survey of Mr. Gladstone's career, suggested by the appearance of Mr. Morley's 'Life,' and forming an interesting supplement to that monumental work. As a Unionist, the author's point of view naturally differs from that of Mr. Morley, and his personal admiration for Gladstone the man in no way prevents him from criticising the statesman." Contemporary review, 1904.

Autobiography; tr. by John Oxenford. 2v. in 1. 1882....92 G559a

The autobiography, begun in 1810, tells the story of the poet's life down to the time of his settlement in Weimar in 1775.

"Has great charm, but the charm is scarcely, if at all, the kind which belongs to Autobiography. Its calm artistic delineation of men, scenes and influences...however we may prize them, only approximate to Autobiography; left as they are without the precise detail, and above all without the direct eloquent egotism which constitutes the value and charm of such works." Lewes's Life of Goethe.

he is an undaunted champion of democracy. He has...discovered for the national literature a new type, in the individual known as the bossiak. The nearest English equivalent for this word is tramp or vagrant...Gorki was born of bossiak parents and was a bossiak himself up to the age of twenty...Gorki's comment upon himself is..."I have come from below, from the nethermost ground of life, where is nought but sludge and murk. Gourgaud (1783–1852) took part in most of Napoleon's campaigns and accompanied him to St. Helena in 1815.

"In some respects not merely the most remarkable book relating to Napoleon at St. Helena, but to Napoleon at any time. It is the private diary of Gourgaud written entirely for his own eye...It throws a strange light on the author, but a still newer light on his master. But when we have read it we feel a doubt of all the other records, and a conviction that this book is more nearly the unvarnished truth than anything else that has been put forth." Lord Rosebery's Napoleon.

Mr. Dana had represented the War Department at Grant's headquarters in most of his campaigns from Vicksburg to Richmond inclusive. General Wilson had been much of the time on his staff. Personal acquaintance, unusual opportunity, intimate knowledge of affairs, and literary ability were all united to make the book. The fuller historical knowledge since opened to us was made up for by the great advantage of close personal association with their subject." Larned's Literature of American history.

Innumerable pen-and-ink illustrations intersperse the text, many of them from Miss Greenaway's letters to John Ruskin, her friendship with whom was one of the important features of her life. The full-page illustrations have been done with particular care by the three-color process...They have been especially well chosen and give a very adequate idea of her art, which she devoted to the graces of childhood and all the incidents that make the joys and interests of child life." Nation, 1906.

Grove, Sir George.

Graves, Charles L. Life & letters of Sir George Grove. 1903.....92 G945g

Grove (1820–1900) was an English musical critic, the editor of the "Dictionary of music and musicians." Few critics have done so much to spread the knowledge and love of music. His work on the dictionary was the absorbing occupation of his life, and his own contributions to it, including the articles on Beethoven, Mendelssohn and Schubert, are acknowledged masterpieces. For 40 years he wrote the analytical program notes for the Crystal Palace concerts. He was an indefatigable and charming letter-writer, a good traveler, well-informed on diverse subjects and very rich in his friendships, so that the interest of his biography will be by no means confined to music lovers.

Memoir of the French historian by his daughter. Consists chiefly of extracts from his letters.

Gurney, Mrs Emelia (Batten) Russell.

Letters; ed. by E. M. Gurney. 1902.....92 G976

"These letters have a peculiar and, coming at the present time, a very rare quality. Their spirituality is so fine, sustained, so ethereal almost that it is like a breath from another world, another people...The only things that really interested her were the things not seen, the growing of the soul, and the fuller expansion of the spirit-life after death... There are other things, however, besides spiritual matters in these letters. Interesting comments upon well-known people abound in them, for the Gurneys mixed with distinguished men and women of every kind, both social and literary." Academy, 1903.

Guthrie, Thomas.

Autobiography, and memoir by his sons, D. K. Guthrie and C. J. Guthrie. 2v. 1875.....92 G986z

Pollard, Albert Frederick. Henry VIII. 1905.....92 H4516p

Careful biography, written from the abundant sources of information now available. Some of the judgments will undoubtedly be thought open to question, especially the moral judgment of the king's character, which will strike most people as a little too favorable. Condensed from English historical review, 1906.

Thomas, William. The pilgrim; a dialogue on the life and actions of King Henry the Eighth; ed. with notes from the archives at Paris and Brussels by J. A. Froude. 1861.....92 H4516t

Thomas (d. 1554) was an Italian scholar and clerk of the council of Edward VI. His defense of the personal character and public policy of Henry VIII was first written in Italian. It is especially valuable as representing the popular view of Henry VIII current in England at the time of his death. It is not free from mistakes, but it has the accuracies and inaccuracies which might be naturally expected in any account of a series of intricate events given by memory without the assistance of documents. Condensed from Dictionary of national biography.

Herbert of Cherbury, Edward Herbert, lord.

Autobiography of Edward, lord Herbert of Cherbury, with introduction, notes, appendices and a continuation of the life by S. L. Lee. 1886.....92 H461l

"This picture, so frank, so boldly colored, so full of the very life of a young English noble, is one of the most remarkable instances of self-portraiture in any language...A rare sincerity marks the whole memoir, and gives it the grace of an antique simplicity...Herbert, not only as James's ambassador to Louis XIII., but as a sort of soldier of fortune in the Low Countries, and a peaceful traveller in Italy, saw everything that was best worth seeing in the Europe of his day." W. D. Howells.

Higginson, Thomas Wentworth.

Blanc, Mme Thérèse (de Solms), (pseud. Th. Bentzon). A typical American, Thomas Wentworth Higginson; tr. fr. the French by E. M. Waller. 1902.....92 H536b

Hoar, George Frisbie.

Autobiography of seventy years. 2v. 1903.....92 H646

Of wide interest, not only because of the personality of the writer and his engaging style, but because it is virtually a political history of his time. Mr Hoar (1826–1904) was from 1877 to the time of his death United States senator from Massachusetts.

United States—Congress. George F. Hoar [and] Matthew Stanley Quay; memorial addresses delivered in the Senate and House of representatives. 1905. (58th cong. 3d sess. Senate. Doc. no.201–202.).....qr92 H646u

Holland, Sir Henry.

Recollections of past life. 1872 .....92 H723

Sir Henry Holland (1788-1873) was an English physician, in his time one of the best known men in London society.

"He has been everywhere: he has seen everything: he has known everybody...But he rightly, if unluckily, deems that a physician's lips should be sealed like a confessor's...He carries reticence almost to a fault...and although his impressions of celebrated people are freely and fairly given, his conversations with them are carefully kept back." Quarterly review, 1872.

Holls, George Frederick William.

In memoriam Frederick William Holls. 1904.....qr92 H731

Frederick W. Holls (1857–1903) was a delegate to the Peace Conference at the Hague and afterwards its historian. Book contains, besides the biographical sketch, a report of the memorial services in his honor at Columbia University and testimonials from various societies.

Hunt, Leigh.

Autobiography of Leigh Hunt, with reminiscences of friends and contemporaries, and with Thornton Hunt's introduction and postscript; ed. by Roger Ingpen. 2v. 1903 .....92 H939

Bibliography of writings by Hunt, v.2, p.273–299.

"It is the book of an old man, ripe, tender, sensitive, human—an old man striving, with an honesty sometimes pathetic, always convincing and engaging, to tell the truth, to correct his first impressions, to pay a tribute of love and admiration to his friends, to do justice to those who called themselves his enemies...The story of his connection with [Shelley and Keats]...is a story which can never fail of its appeal...The book is a human book; it neither dogmatizes over life nor plays with it." Academy, 1903.

"I have just finished your Autobiography, which has been most pleasantly occupying my leisure these three days...I call this an excellent good book, by far the best of the autobiographic kind I remember to have read in the English language; and indeed, except it be Boswell's of Johnson, I do not know where we have such a picture drawn of a human life...A pious, ingenious, altogether human and worthy book; imaging, with graceful, honest and free felicity, many interesting objects and persons on your life-path, and imaging throughout, what is best of all, a gifted, gentle, patient and valiant human soul, as it buffets its way through the billows of time, and will not drown though often in danger; cannot be drowned, but conquers and leaves a track of radiance behind it." Thomas Carlyle.

Huss, John.

Letters; with introduction and notes by H. B. Workman and R. M. Pope. 1904.....92 H963

Letters written by the Bohemian reformer (1369–1415) during the seven years preceding his execution.

Gillett, Ezra Hall. Life and times of John Huss; or, The Bohemian reformation of the fifteenth century. 2v. 1864.....92 H963g

A standard authority on its subject, and one of the few biographies of Huss in English.

Hutton, Laurence.

Talks in a library, recorded by Isabel Moore. 1905.....92 H977

Interesting informal reminiscences of distinguished authors and actors, many of them warm friends of Mr Hutton. Also contains an account of his valuable collection of death masks. Portraits, facsimiles and other illustrations.

Ibsen, Henrik.

Letters; tr. by J. N. Laurvik and Mary Morison. 1905.....92 I127

The letters, extending over a period of more than 50 years, were written with no thought of publication and bear the stamp of absolute sincerity. They help in no small degree to an understanding of the man and his work. The correspondence is a one-sided one, since no letters to Ibsen were obtainable. A considerable number of the letters are addressed to Frederik Hegel, his publisher, to Björnsen and to George Brandes.

Jæger, Henrik. Henrik Ibsen [1828–1901], with a supplementary chapter by [W. M. Payne]. 1901.....92 I127j2
"Jæger has taken high rank in Scandinavia as a critic and man of letters and his biography has become the recognized authoritative life of Ibsen...Was written with Ibsen's sanction and partial collaboration." Nation, 1891.

Johnston, Gen. Albert Sidney.

Johnston, William Preston. Life of Gen. Albert Sidney Johnston, embracing his services in the armies of the United States, the republic of Texas and the Confederate States. 1878.....92 J367j

The book abounds with interesting incidents and exhibits a character which was always true to itself. The author fails to see in the origin of the struggle anything more than the fanaticism of abolitionists, and no book issued from the Confederate side has more persistently kept up the false argument based upon garbled returns of opposing armies. Condensed from Nation, 1878.

"Bibliography," v.2, p.429–433.

An American author (1824–1903), considered an authority on gipsy lore.

"This readable biography, permeated with the strong personality of its subject, has the shortcomings that Leland's versatility made practically unavoidable. It is the story of the man, rather than an authoritative record of his activities in so many and so widely diverging fields of investigation...It consists almost entirely of transcripts from his memoranda, notes, and other papers, and of letters written to his family and to celebrities, American and English, with some of their replies." Nation, 1906.

Julie de Lespinasse (1732–1776) was a Frenchwoman whose salon was for years one of the most brilliant in Paris, "more literary than that of the Marquise du Deffand, more aristocratic than that of the bourgeoise Madame Geoffrin." Her fame now rests chiefly on these love letters to M. de Guibert.

The heroine of Mrs Humphry Ward's novel, "Lady Rose's daughter," was modeled on Mlle de Lespinasse.

Lettres de Mlle de Lespinasse; suivies de ses autres œuvres & de lettres de Mme du Deffand, de Turgot, de Bernardin de St-Pierre, revues sur les éditions originales, augmentées des variantes, de nombreuses notes, d'un appendice comprenant les écrits de d'Alembert, de Guibert, de Voltaire, de Frédéric II sur Mlle de Lespinasse, d'un index et précédées d'une notice biographique et littéraire par Eugène Asse. 1903.....92 L647l

"If I knew the name of the Unknown, I would not tell it; but I do not know it. I am not deprived of the charm of mystery which these letters make one appreciate intensely...They are...tender, loyal, deeply pathetic confessions of a temperament which imposes profound affection." Preface by Henri Pène du Bois.

Merivale, Herman Charles.

Bar, stage & platform; autobiographic memories. 1902....92 M637z

Merivale is (1903) a retired English lawyer, a novelist and playwright. His autobiography is vivacious and gossipy, full of good stories about well-known people. In his theatrical reminiscences Charles Kean has the foremost place.

Dumont, Pierre Étienne Louis. The great Frenchman and the little Genevese; tr. fr. Étienne Dumont's "Souvenir sur Mirabeau," by Lady Elizabeth Seymour. 1904.....92 M735d

"Dumont's 'Souvenirs' are indispensable to all who would understand Mirabeau as a man, his methods of work, and the strange power that he had of exacting work from the hacks whom he underpaid and bullied. The chief defect in the present edition is the lack of a critical introduction and of notes." Athenæum, 1904.

Molesworth, Sir William.

Fawcett, Mrs Millicent (Garrett). Life of Sir William Molesworth. 1901.....92 M789f

Sir William Molesworth (1810–55) was an English politician and philosophic radical who labored for the development of the colonial empire of Great Britain. This biography, while somewhat uncritical and over-enthusiastic, is useful in the study of England's colonial policy.

Molière, Jean Baptiste Poquelin.

Trollope, Henry Merivale. Life of Molière. 1905.....92 M791t

Introduction contains a "General view of French comedy before Molière."

A mine of usually correct information as to Molière's life and the world he lived in, the theatres of Paris, the wandering troupes of the provinces, the society of the Hôtel de Rambouillet. The analyses of the plays are an amusing and very readable part of the book. Condensed from Spectator, 1906.

Montpensier, Anne Marie Louise d'Orléans, duchesse de, called La Grande Mademoiselle.

Memoirs of Mademoiselle de Montpensier, written by herself. 3v. 1848.....r92 M871

These memoirs of the masculine and adventurous daughter of Gaston of Orleans were begun while she was exiled on her estates (1652–57) for her complicity in the Fronde, but were only finished a few years before her death in 1693.

"Of very considerable merit and interest, though, or perhaps because, they are extremely egotistical and often extremely desultory. Mademoiselle writes without art, but with the hereditary ability of her family, and the strong personal view which she takes of public events is rather an advantage than a disadvantage." George Saintsbury.

Barine, Arvède, (pseud. of Mme Charles Vincens). La Grande Mademoiselle, 1627–1652; tr. fr. the French by H. E. Meyer. 1902.....92 M871b

The personal affairs of the subject of this biography, Mademoiselle de Montpensier, occupy but a small portion of the book. Her life is used as a thread to fasten together a miscellaneous mass of material illustrative of the French court and society in the first half of the 17th century.

Moore, Sir John.

Diary; ed. by Sir J. F. Maurice. 2v. 1904.....92 M878

Covers his whole military career from 1793 almost to the time of his death in 1809, with a full record of the important military events of the time and frank expression of his opinions concerning his contemporaries and the policy of the government. Maps and portraits.

Moore, Thomas, 1779–1852.

Memoirs, journal and correspondence; ed. by Lord John Russell. 8v. 1853–56.....r92 M879m

The principal authority for Moore's life. It consists of an unfinished autobiography, extending to 1799, journals from 1818 to 1847, and about 400 letters filling up the gap. The lack of an accompanying narrative is much felt, but the work is nevertheless the indispensable foundation of all the later biographies. Condensed from Dictionary of national biography.

Napier, Lady Sarah (Lennox) Bunbury.

Life and letters of Lady Sarah Lennox, 1745-1826, daughter of Charles, 2nd duke of Richmond, and successively the wife of Sir Thomas Charles Bunbury and of George Napier; also a short political sketch of the years 1760 to 1763 by Henry Fox, 1st lord Holland; ed. by the countess of Ilchester and Lord Stavordale. 2v. 1902..92 N1282

Few Englishwomen of the 18th century had a more striking or romantic career than Lady Sarah Lennox. George II romped with her, George III wished to marry her, and by her second marriage she became the mother of the three famous Napiers. Her letters reflect the social atmosphere of London in the era of Henry Fox and the elder Pitt.

Napoleon I, emperor of the French, & Gourgaud, Gaspard, baron.

Talks of Napoleon at St. Helena with General Baron Gourgaud, with the journal kept by Gourgaud on their journey from Waterloo to St. Helena; tr. with notes by E. W. Latimer. 1903.....92 N129g Gourgaud (1783–1852) took part in most of Napoleon's campaigns and accompanied him to St. Helena in 1815.

"In some respects not merely the most remarkable book relating to Napoleon at St. Helena, but to Napoleon at any time. It is the private diary of Gourgaud written entirely for his own eye...It throws a strange light on the author, but a still newer light on his master. But when we have read it we feel a doubt of all the other records, and a conviction that this book is more nearly the unvarnished truth than anything else that has been put forth." Lord Rosebery's Napoleon.

North, Simon Newton Dexter. "Old Greek," an old-time professor in an old-fashioned college; a memoir of Edward North, with selections from his lectures. 1905..92 N454n

"Old Greek" was the nickname or, more correctly, the pet name by which Edward North (1820–1903), professor of Greek at Hamilton College, was known to the students and alumni. For more than 50 years he was the heart of the college and his biography is a record of the best and highest type of teacher.

North, Marianne.

Recollections of a happy life; ed. by her sister Mrs J. A. Symonds. 2v. 1894.....92 N455

Marianne North (1830–90) was an English flower-painter. In carrying out her plan to paint the flora of remote countries, she traveled widely in Canada, the United States, India, Japan, Borneo, Ceylon, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa. Her paintings are valuable artistically, but still more for the fidelity with which they preserve a record of vegetation now often disappearing.

Paget, Sir James.

Memoirs and letters of Sir James Paget; ed. by Stephen Paget. 1901 ..... 92 P1462

Paget (1814-1899) was a surgeon and the foremost English pathologist of his day. The autobiography was written when he was at the height of his fame as a consulting surgeon. It contains little in the way of striking social or political events, but reveals the development of a remarkably strong character and keen intelligence.

Palissy (1510?–90) was a French potter and enameler, a convert to the reformed religion and one of the founders of the Calvinistic church at Saintes.

"Though his book is full of interesting details...there is a mixture of fact and fiction in so considerable a portion of the work—admittedly so in the first six chapters—that it requires a tedious amount of care to separate the real from the imaginary." Athenæum, 1852.

Papineau, Louis Joseph.

DeCelles, Alfred Duclos. Papineau [and] Cartier. 1904. (Makers of Canada.) 92 P226d

"The power wielded for a quarter of a century over the masses in Lower Canada by Mr. Papineau [1786–1870] was something marvellous: though the influence his impassioned appeals exerted may seem incredible to those who never witnessed the display." Canadian monthly, 1878.

Cartier (1814–73) was in early life a follower of Papineau and a leader in the insurrection of 1837. For many years in later life he was a member of the cabinet and a strong influence in shaping legislation.

Pickering, Percival Spencer Umfreville, ed. Memoirs of Anna Maria Wilhelmina Pickering, with extracts from the journals of her father, John Spencer Stanhope, describing his travels and imprisonment under Napoleon. 1903. ..... 92 P546p

"This autobiography, the writer of which was born in 1824, gives an intimate picture of the life of members of two famous families as they were observed by a lively girl first, then by a wise and tender woman...The bright, discursive pages are full of yarns and snapshots. One slips happily from leaf to leaf, not always clear as to whom precisely one is reading about, but aware of the atmosphere of a county family of a hundred years ago, in which all the men were brave and all the women more or less charming...One is in touch with the men and events of the day...You see Keane and Macready as Richard III; 'the joyous Chantrey' in his studio; the Emperor Francis Joseph a promising and prophetic young man; Prince Albert a collegian, King Christian of Denmark before he was married...and London learning the polka." Academy, 1904.

Rémusat, Claire Élisabeth Jeanne Gravier de Vergennes, comtesse de.

Memoirs of Madame de Rémusat, 1802–1808; with a preface and notes by her grandson, Paul de Rémusat; tr. fr. the French by Mrs Cashel Hoey and John Lillie. 1900..92 R336m

Selection from the letters of Madame de Rémusat to her husband and son from 1804 to 1813; fr. the French by Mrs Cashel Hoey and John Lillie. 1881.....92 R336

Madame de Rémusat (1780–1821) was the wife of Napoleon's chamberlain and an attendant of the empress Josephine. These letters, which are intimately personal, give an excellent idea of the social life of Paris from 1804 to 1813. They make little reference to the political and military events of the time.

Renan, Ernest.

Barry, William Francis. Ernest Renan. 1905. (Literary lives.).....92 R337ba

Written by a Roman Catholic theologian and professor.

"Like a clever controversialist, Dr. Barry gains the sympathy of the reader by bringing out all the winning side of the great literary artist before he turns the corner and reveals him as the victim of his own brilliancy, stranded on the barren shore of an empty rationalism." Nation, 1905.

Richardson, Samuel.

Correspondence of Samuel Richardson, selected from the original manuscripts bequeathed by him to his family; to which are prefixed a biographical account and observations on his writings by A. L. Barbauld. 6v. 1804..92 R416

"So far from containing any view of the literature, the politics, or manners of the time—any anecdotes of the eminent and extraordinary personages to whom the author had access...they consist almost entirely of compliments and minute criticisms on his novels, a detail of his ailments and domestic concerns, and some tedious prattling disputations with his female correspondents, upon the duties of wives and children...Compliments and the novels form indeed the staples of the whole correspondence." Edinburgh review. 1804.

Ruskin, John.

Letters to Charles Eliot Norton. 2v. 1904.....92 R899let

Letters extending from the beginning of a long and close friendship in 1855 down to 1887. Singularly unrestrained and self-revealing, they form a most interesting record of Ruskin's moods, opinions and mental conditions, besides giving glimpses of his work and of the places that he loved.

Letters to M. G. & H. G. 1903.....92 R899le

Contents: Ruskin at Hawarden in 1878.—Ruskin's letters to M. G.—Ruskin's letters to H. G.—Ruskin and Gladstone, by Scott Holland.—The dead Ruskin, by Scott Holland.

Written to Mr Gladstone's daughters, Mary and Helen, from 1878 to 1887. Preface by Right Hon. George Wyndham.

"The fun and feeling in these letters are so deliberately fragile that any appreciation of the prophet's 'message,' also to be found in them here and there, would be not so much out of place as in the way." Preface.

Collingwood, William Gershom. Ruskin relics. 1903....92 R899co

Disconnected chapters about some incidents of Ruskin's life and some of his occupations, interests and diversions.

Harrison, Frederic. John Ruskin. 1902. (English men of letters.).....92 R899ha

Condensed account of Ruskin's life and a consideration of his place in English literature. While not depreciating his literary importance, the author lays much stress on his importance as a social reformer.

Russell, John, earl.

Walpole, Spencer. Life of Lord John Russell. 2v. 1889..92 R915w

Authoritative biography based on letters, diaries and papers furnished by Lord Russell's family.

"Throws more light on the inner working of politics than any book which has appeared of recent years, if we except perhaps the last instalment of the Greville Memoirs. It will rank with that work...as one of our chief sources of history for the middle of the nineteenth century." Spectator, 1889.

Ryerson, Egerton.

Burwash, Nathanael. Egerton Ryerson. 1903. (Makers of Canada.).....92 R973b

Both a biography and a history. Ryerson (1803–82) was the founder of the school system of Ontario.

Saint-Elme, Ida.

Memoirs of a contemporary; reminiscences by Ida Saint-Elme of her acquaintance with certain makers of French history, and of her opinions concerning them; from 1790 to 1815; tr. by Lionel Strachey. 1902.....92 S137

Author was a Frenchwoman, noted for her beauty, extravagance and caprice. She was associated with many of the celebrated men of her time, was frequently seen in war camps, witnessed the battle of Valmy, took part in the retreat from Moscow and was wounded in a cavalry charge at Eylau.

St. Vincent, John Jervis, earl.

Tucker, Jedediah Stephens. Memoirs of Admiral Earl St. Vincent. 2v. 1844.....92 S155t

British admiral (1735–1823) particularly distinguished for the rigid discipline by means of which he greatly increased the efficiency of the British navy. The earlier part of the memoirs is not always accurate, but the author had access to valuable material and his account of the later and more important part of St. Vincent's career is faithful and trustworthy.

Sastrow, Bartholomew.

Social Germany in Luther's time; being the memoirs of Bartholomew Sastrow; tr. by A. D. Vandam. 1902.....92 S252

Sastrow (1520–1603) was a shrewd, garrulous, humorous Pomeranian, who was well placed for observing the movements of the reformation era in Germany. He knew Melancthon, shook hands with Luther and saw Charles V eat his dinners. This autobiography illustrates national customs, food, amusements and other topics, pleasant and unsavoury. It contains a realistic portrait of Charles V, drawn largely from personal observation.

Savonarola, Girolamo.

Clark, William, b. 1829. Savonarola; his life and times. 1900.....92 S268c

Sidgwick, Henry.

Henry Sidgwick; a memoir by A. S[idgwick] and E. M. S[idgwick]. 1906.....92 S5682

Appendix contains "Papers read by Sidgwick to the Synthetic Society," and a "List of Henry Sidgwick's published writings."

The memoir of Henry Sidgwick [1838–1900] is a labor of love by the brother and the widow of the late professor of moral philosophy in Cambridge University. To many persons, all over the civilized world, his name will recall the work of one of the most profound and suggestive philosophers of our time, the author of treatises on ethics, economics and politics, prominent in the cause of university reform, of the higher education of women, and of psychical research. To a smaller number, chiefly in England, he will be remembered as the keenest, liveliest, most accurate and most candid of talkers. From a smaller number still, this memoir chiefly composed of his own letters will draw out not painful tears in memory of a heart as warm as his head was strong, a sweetness as irresistible as his intellect, and an elevation of soul that never tottered under the hardest questions of life. Condensed from review by William Everett in Atlantic monthly, 1906.

Stephen, Sir Leslie. Life of Sir James Fitzjames Stephen, a judge of the High court of justice. 1895.....92 S828s

"Bibliographical note," p.483–486.

Sir J. F. Stephen (1829–94) was an able English jurist, codifier of the law, historian of the law and journalist.

"The charm and the value of the book are not limited to its setting forth of one notable man's highly interesting personality. It throws much light on some of the characteristics and movements of intellectual life in the second half of the nineteenth century, and is therefore no less interesting as history than as biography." Athenæum, 1895.

Stephens (1812–83) was an American statesman, vice-president of the Confederacy from 1861 to 1865.

"Writer deals with Stephens' life to 1866, and appends a number of his letters and speeches. The biography is written in the vein of an admirer, but the delineation of Stephens' character is fair and judicious, and the facts are plainly and accurately stated. It is, however, not a complete biography even for the period covered. The speeches and letters are valuable." Larned's Literature of American history.

Sterling (1806–44) was an English author, a personal friend of Carlyle.

"Carlyle wished to exhibit him as raised above the turbid sphere of contemporary controversy. The result was a book so calm, tender, and affectionate as to be in singular contrast with his recent utterances, and to be perhaps his most successful piece of literary work." Dictionary of national biography.

"What Carlyle with wonderful art has done is to...lead us to believe that we are reading a life of Sterling, while Sterling is really 'vanished' and we are actually reading an extraordinarily interesting history of the places that he lived in, the men he knew...and the personality of his redoubtable and admirable friend and biographer, all thrown up on a background of the shortcomings of church and state of England in the 19th century." Saintsbury's Essays in English literature.

Kapp, Friedrich. Life of Frederick William von Steuben. 1859. .....92 S842k

German-American soldier (1730–94), who served in the Revolution.

"Family papers, letters, documents from Germany, France, England... were liberally placed at his disposal. To make his story perfect, Mr. Kapp only required to consult the state archives at Washington, but there he was 'ignominiously repulsed'...Despite this opposition...[he] has accomplished his task satisfactorily." Littell's living age, 1860.

Stevens, Benjamin Franklin.

Fenn, George Manville. Memoir of Benjamin Franklin Stevens. 1903.....92 S8442f

B. F. Stevens (1833–1902) was an eminent American bibliographer and antiquarian who spent much of his life in London. He was purchasing agent for many American libraries and compiler of important historical material relating to America, existing in foreign archives. For all his long English residence he remained intensely loyal to his early associations and friendships, and Mr Fenn understands so little the New England conditions by which Mr Stevens's character was formed and which so strongly influenced his whole life, that he has presented a very inadequate sketch of an unusual and most attractive personality.

Stevenson, Robert.

Stevenson, David. Life of Robert Stevenson, civil engineer. 1878.....q92 S8482s

Consists chiefly of extracts from Mr Stevenson's professional reports, diary and communications to scientific journals and societies, from 1798 to 1843, when he retired from active practice. They cover a wide field of engineering, including lighthouses, harbors, rivers, railways, roads, bridges and ferries.

Stevenson, Robert Louis.

Kelman, John. Faith of Robert Louis Stevenson. 1903....92 S848k

"He points out that Stevenson's virtues belong to the Hellenistic side of Christianity, but are Christian none the less, and that what he preaches...is the gospel of health and cheerfulness...The criticism is always sane, and frequently luminous, the saving sense of humour is not wanting." London Times literary supplement, 1903.

Stiles, Ezra.

Literary diary of Ezra Stiles; ed. by F. B. Dexter. 3v. 1901 .....92 S856

v.1. 1769–1776.
v.2. 1776–1781.
v.3. 1782–1795.

Stiles (1727–95) was for many years a pastor in Newport, Rhode Island, and from 1778 to the time of his death, president of Yale College.

"Though lacking much of the personal and social detail and quaint gossipy flavor that renders Sewall's Diary so enjoyable reading, or the interest attaching to the origin of the English colonies which characterizes Winthrop's Journal, Stiles's record must rank as among the few significant diaries of early New England." Nation, 1902.

Stoddard, Richard Henry.

Recollections, personal and literary; ed. by Ripley Hitchcock, with an introduction by E. C. Stedman. 1903.....92 S868

Appendix contains bibliography of Stoddard's works, p.321–322.

Reminiscences of a long life devoted to literature and enriched by associations with literary people, including Bayard Taylor, N. P. Willis, Lowell, Hawthorne, Poe, George Boker, Thackeray, Bryant, Longfellow, Whittier and others.

Stoddart, James Henry.

Recollections of a player. 1902.....92 S869

Author (1827–1907) had a long and honorable career on the American stage. His "Recollections" are full of kindly appreciation of the many distinguished actors with whom he has been associated.

Stoner, Nicholas.

Simms, Jeptha Root. Trappers of New York; or, A biography of Nicholas Stoner & Nathaniel Foster; together with anecdotes of other celebrated hunters and some account of Sir William Johnson and his style of living. 1871.....r92 S881s

Stoner and Foster were two well-known trappers and frontiersmen of western New York in the latter part of the 18th century. The material in the book was derived largely from the conversation of Stoner.

Story, William Wetmore.

James, Henry, b. 1843. William Wetmore Story and his friends; from letters, diaries and recollections. 2v. 1903..92 S888j

Story (1819–95) was an American lawyer, sculptor and poet. He gave up a promising legal career to become a sculptor, and, from 1848 to the close of his life, lived chiefly in Rome.

"A book whose charm lies, of course, largely in its theme and materials, but also in the clever handling of these. Here we have Mr. James at his best. A 'prentice hand might, of course, make a readable book out of such elements, having in the first place...'life and light and Italy' to deal with, and having also Browning, Lowell, Story, and Charles Sumner in the foreground, or at any rate self-portrayed in their own letters. But to do this by delicate touches, with such keen characterization, with such faithful givings and withholdings, as in these two volumes, really demands a talent as fine as that of Mr. James." Nation, 1903.

Sumner, Charles.

Pierce, Edward Lillie. Memoir and letters of Charles Sumner. v.3–4. 1893.....92 S956p

For v.1–2 see preceding catalogue.

"For the rise of the slavery issue, the legislation of the period of the Civil War and Reconstruction, and the history of the foreign relations of the United States from 1861 to 1871, this work is almost indispensable. Mr. Pierce was a lifelong friend of Sumner, and has edited his letters with the greatest care. The accompanying memoir is remarkably fair and judicious. The first two volumes are more important for the intellectual and social history of New England than for national history." Larned's Literature of American history.

Taine, Hippolyte Adolphe.

Life and letters of H. Taine, 1828–1852; tr. fr. the French by Mrs R. L. Devonshire. 1902.....92 T145

Taine (1828–93) was a distinguished French historian, philosopher and critic.

"Taine throughout his life loathed self-advertisement and personal tittle-tattle; therefore we find in these pages the fewest intimate details consistent with intelligibility. On the other hand, every letter which may enable us to trace his mental and moral growth, the obstacles it encountered or the influences which swayed it, is given in full." Saturday review, 1902.

Taney, Roger Brooke.

Tyler, Samuel. Memoir of Roger Brooke Taney, chief justice of the Supreme court of the United States. 1876.....92 T176t

"The work of a friend of the subject and undertaken at his request. The first chapter, treating of the early life of Taney, is an autobiography. The bulk of the book is occupied by comments on Taney's judicial decisions. The author desires to 'vindicate' these opinions as well as Taney's action in the bank controversy. The book is scholarly, but strongly biased...The appendix contains the Dred Scott decision and other papers." Larned's Literature of American history.

Tasso, Torquato.

Milman, Robert. Life of Torquato Tasso. 2v. 1850.....92 T229m

"A careful biography, but lacking references, exhibiting no great acquaintance with literary history, and avoiding any attempt at criticism; it is in places too rhetorical, in others rather slovenly in expression; the versified translations from poems of biographical interest are literal but not particularly graceful." Dictionary of national biography.

Tooke, John Horne.

Stephens, Alexander. Memoirs of John Horne Tooke, interspersed with original documents. 2v. 1813.....92 T619s

Tooke (1736–1812) was an English philologist and political adventurer, a conspicuous actor in the Wilkes controversies.

The "Memoirs" are founded on original letters and papers, as well as upon an acquaintance of several years. The quarrel between Tooke and Wilkes and the controversy with Junius are dealt with in great detail, and the latter part of the book contains reports of conversations with Tooke at Wimbledon. Condensed from Dictionary of national biography.

Toussaint L'Ouverture (1743–1803) was a Haitian revolutionist.

Train, George Francis.

My life in many states and in foreign lands; dictated in my seventy-fourth year. 1902.....92 T684

A frankly egotistical account of an extraordinary career. The author (1829–1904) was, in his later years, chiefly known for his eccentricities, but in times past he has been connected with many great enterprises. He organized the Credit Mobilier and the Union Pacific railroad, built the first street railway in England, traveled four times around the world and was fifteen times in prison. Once a man of great wealth, he was, at the time he dictated his autobiography, living on three dollars a week at the Mills Hotel in New York city.

"Alphabetical index of Tchaikovsky's works," p.779–782.

"Though appealing primarily to the musical reader, this huge volume is not only intensely interesting as the revelation of a remarkable personality, but its pages are charged with romantic interest of that strange quality peculiar to the works of the great Russian novelists. The central and governing episode of Tchaikovsky's life—his relations with the generous, eccentric widow who came to his rescue at the nadir of his fortunes and gave him a free life, relieved from the anxiety of uncongenial drudging—is perhaps the most extraordinary incident in the entire annals of artistic patronage." Spectator, 1905.

Victor Amadeus II, king of Sardinia.

Vitelleschi, Amy Augusta Frederica Annabella Cochrane-Baillie, marchesa. Romance of Savoy; Victor Amadeus II and his Stuart bride. 2v. 1905.....92 V3112v

At no point during its earlier history are the annals of the house of Savoy more interesting than during the reign of Victor Amadeus II (1684–1732), when, through his astuteness, the duchy became a kingdom. Perhaps half the book is devoted to social, domestic and ceremonial matters, court life being described in detail. The book leaves a distinct impression of the king's character, of the long-suffering Queen Anna, and of the little world in which they lived. Condensed from Nation, 1905.

Lee, Sidney. Queen Victoria; a biography. 1903.....92 V312l

Expansion of author's article in the Dictionary of national biography.

"He has collected his information with diligence and judgment from many quarters...But the multiplicity of memoranda never obstructs the easy flow of the narrative. The chronicle of royal progresses, etc., is by no means as tiresome as it might have been, and the details of national politics are introduced only to such a degree as was necessary to make intelligible the Queen's relation to public questions...[He] has been most conspicuously successful in resisting the temptation to write as a courtier...He depicts Her Majesty as a human being with the weaknesses to which our nature is prone...Every student of the public life of Great Britain in the nineteenth century...will have reason to be thankful to Mr. Sidney Lee for a book which is likely to remain for a long time the standard authority on the subject of which it treats." Nation, 1902.

Italian letters of a diplomat's wife, January–May 1880, February–April 1904. 1905.....92 W117i

Some of these letters were published under the title "Italian recollections" in "Scribner's magazine," Feb.–April 1905.

Two series of letters, the second written after an interval of over 20 years. Together they make a lively picture of life and society in the Italian capital.

Letters of a diplomat's wife, 1883–1900. 1903.....92 W117

About a fourth part of these letters appeared in Scribner's magazine, v.33, Jan.–March 1903.

Author is an American woman, wife of M. Waddington, a distinguished Frenchman who was the special representative of France at the czar's coronation in 1883, and afterward ambassador to Great Britain. Mme Waddington accompanied her husband to Russia and England, and these informal letters to her sisters describe the personages and events of their official life.

"In addition to inherited adaptation, Madame Waddington possesses as her personal endowment a charming gayety of temper, an insatiable interest in everything which goes on around her, and a quick wit. After reading her letters—the most entertaining which have appeared since Lady Granville's—one is left with the cheerful impression that in a world of misfits, here at least was the right person in the right place." Nation, 1903.

Wagner, Richard, & Wesendonk, Frau Mathilde (Luckemeyer).

Richard Wagner to Mathilde Wesendonck; tr. by W. A. Ellis. 1905.....92 W134r

Frau Wesendonk was the wife of a wealthy friend of Wagner's who built and placed at the disposal of the composer a small building near his own villa at Zurich. Here Wagner lived for 16 months, while he was engaged in writing his "Tristan and Isolde" and during this time Frau Wesendonk was his intimate friend and confidante. After he left the "Asyl" he wrote a diary specially for her. This diary and the letters throw much light on Wagner's life and experience at the time that he wrote "Tristan and Isolde" and "Parsifal."

Wagner, Richard.

Kobbé, Gustav. Wagner and his Isolde. 1905.....92 W134ko

This version of Wagner's friendship with Mathilde Wesendonk, who inspired his "Tristan und Isolde," was made in advance of, and without any knowledge of, Mr Ellis's translation of the letters to her. Those who have time and inclination for merely the most interesting parts of the episode, will find Mr Kobbé's volume just what they want.

Wallace, Alfred Russel.

My life; a record of events and opinions. 2v. 1905.....92 W175

Autobiography, written in his eighty-third year, of a biologist who was co-discoverer with Darwin of the theory of natural selection. His chapters on friends and acquaintances give interesting glimpses of Darwin, Spencer, Huxley, Lyell, Tyndall and other scientists. The second volume contains much concerning spiritualism.

Wallack, John Lester.

Memories of fifty years; with an introduction by Laurence Hutton. 1889.....92 W1772

Wallack (1820–88) was the last of a family of American actors. For 40 years, as actor and manager, he was one of the most prominent figures on the American stage.

Wallcut, Thomas.

"It is as a letter-writer...that he attains his highest point...Almost every element of wit and humour, variety and charm, is present. For gossip, anecdote, epigram, description, illustration, playfulness, pungency, novelty, surprise, there is nothing quite like them in English, and Byron did not overpraise them when he called them 'incomparable.'" Dictionary of national biography.

Sympathetic short sketch, both biographical and critical.

Warren, Gen. Joseph.

Frothingham, Richard. Life and times of Joseph Warren. 1865. .....92 W2462f

"Admirable biography of the eminent Revolutionary leader (1741–75)... The book is characterized by fulness of knowledge, uncommon judgment, an admirable temper, rigid accuracy of statement and a fitting literary style. It has an index and a portrait. It will hold the interest of the general reader, while meeting the wants of the special student." Larned's Literature of American history.

Washington, George.

Letters and recollections; being letters to Tobias Lear and others between 1790 and 1799, showing the first American in the management of his estate and domestic affairs; with a diary of Washington's last days kept by Mr Lear. 1906.....92 W272

"Neither the letters to Tobias Lear, who was Washington's secretary for sixteen years, nor the extracts from Lear's diary relating to Washington's last illness, nor the miscellaneous letters which complete this volume, add materially to the knowledge already possessed of Washington's declining years...But they bring us into very close touch with the daily life of a great man." Nation, 1906.

Mitchell, Silas Weir. The youth of Washington, told in the form of an autobiography. 1904.....92 W272m Appeared in "Century magazine," v.67–68, Apr.–Oct. 1904.

Purports to be reminiscences, written between 1797 and 1799, of Washington's life up to the time of Braddock's defeat. The principal historic events described are real and Washington's style is well imitated.

Sparks, Jared. Life of George Washington.....92 W272s

A slightly abridged edition of the life of Washington published originally in 1837 as the first volume of Sparks's edition of Washington's writings. The division into chapters also differs from that of the original edition.

"The history of Washington's life was less Mr. Sparks's object than editing and illustrating his writings...As an introduction to Washington's Writings, his work is a model, luminous, comprehensive, accurate, and just; conceived in the true spirit of historical appreciation, and written in a simple, manly, and dignified style." North American review, 1858.

Washington, Mrs Martha (Dandridge).

Lossing, Benson John. Mary and Martha, the mother and the wife of George Washington. 1886.....92 W2723l

"Belongs to the better class of popular writing, yet unimportant to the student of history. Preserves the current traditions of the two women. Entertaining to the general reader." Larned's Literature of American history.

Pryor, Mrs Sara Agnes (Rice). The mother of Washington and her times. 1903.....92 W2723p

"There is little of Mary Washington that can be regarded as historical. The facts that she was born, married, and bore an illustrious son can hardly be expanded into a volume of size without much padding, so Mrs. Pryor draws a full 'picture' of Virginia life in colonial times, through colored glasses." Nation, 1904.

Weed, Thurlow.

Autobiography; ed. by his daughter, Harriet A. Weed. 2v. 1883–84.....92 W424

v.1. Autobiography.
v.2. Memoir of Thurlow Weed, by T. W. Barnes.

Vol.1, covering the years from 1808 to 1880, is especially useful for the history of the party politics of New York and of the Union. Written in a careless, rambling fashion from scattered notes, with excellent temper and in newspaper English. Contains a full account of the Morgan affair. Vol.2 is a memoir of Thurlow Weed, written by his grandson. It contains much matter of interest to the student of politics; but the tone is highly eulogistic, and, at times, markedly partisan. Condensed from Larned's Literature of American history.

Gleig, George Robert. Life of Arthur, duke of Wellington. 1899.....92 W492gl

First published about 1860, this is one of the standard biographies of Wellington and contains much original matter. The author knew Wellington personally, besides having served under him.

Morris, William O'Connor. Wellington, soldier and statesman, and the revival of the military power of England. 1904. (Heroes of the nations.) 92 W492mo

By an acknowledged authority on the Napoleonic wars. Deals mainly with the military side of Wellington's career and discusses various disputed questions in the history of the Peninsular war and the Waterloo campaign.

Wesendonk, Frau Mathilde (Luckemeyer), & Wagner, Richard.

Richard Wagner to Mathilde Wesendonck; tr. by W. A. Ellis. 1905 ..... 92 W134r

Frau Wesendonk was the wife of a wealthy friend of Wagner's who built and placed at the disposal of the composer a small building near his own villa at Zurich. Here Wagner lived for 16 months, while he was engaged in writing his "Tristan and Isolde" and during this time Frau Wesendonk was his intimate friend and confidante. After he left the "Asyl" he wrote a diary specially for her. This diary and the letters throw much light on Wagner's life and experience at the time that he wrote "Tristan and Isolde" and "Parsifal."

Wesley, John.

Journal; abridged by P. L. Parker, with an introduction by H. P. Hughes and an appreciation of the Journal by Augustine Birrell. 1902 ..... 92 W553

A one-volume abridgment of the original journal.

"The most amazing record of human exertion ever penned or endured... Let no one deny charm to Wesley who has not read his Journal...a book...which quivers with life and is crammed full of character. If you want to get into the last century, to feel its pulses throb beneath your finger...ride up and down the country with the greatest force of the eighteenth century in England." Augustine Birrell.

Winchester, Caleb Thomas. Life of John Wesley. 1906..92 W553w

Whately, Elizabeth Jane. Life and correspondence of Richard Whately, late archbishop of Dublin. 2v. 1866 ..... 92 W594w

"List of the writings of Dr Whately," v.2, p.460–462.

Miss Whately has performed her task with tact and judgment and has allowed her father as far as possible to tell his own story in his letters and journals. The work however must be considered as a profile rather than as a full portrait. There are many aspects of Whately's very varied nature and traits and anecdotes of his earlier career, which are hardly touched upon. Condensed from British quarterly review, 1867.

Whistler, James Abbott McNeill. See Artists, v.1, p.765.

White, Andrew Dickson.

Autobiography. 2v. 1905.....92 W631

v.1. Environment and education.—Political life.—As university professor.—As university president.—In the diplomatic service.

v.2. In the diplomatic service (continued).—Sundry journeys and experiences.—Miscellaneous recollections.—Religious development.

As president of Cornell University, minister to Russia, minister and ambassador to Germany, and delegate to the Peace Conference of The Hague, Mr White has rendered distinguished services to his country. His autobiography covers fully his two careers, academic and political. It is valuable also for its recollections of noteworthy people, including nearly all the men who have made recent continental history.

Wilson, Bird. Memoir of the life of William White, bishop of the Protestant Episcopal church in the state of Pennsylvania. 1839.....r92 W637w

List of the works of Bishop White, p.305–318.

Bishop White (1748–1836) was the organizer of the church in Pennsylvania, and in 1786 was elected first bishop of the diocese. His influence was large in the development of the church and he had much to do with the form finally assumed by the Book of common prayer.

Whitman, Walt.

Traubel, Horace Logo. With Walt Whitman in Camden (March 28–July 14, 1888). 1906.....92 W648tr

Traubel was Whitman's Boswell. His memoirs give rough notes of talks with Whitman, with many letters of the period or of an earlier time. The whole book is unstudied and unpolished, yet it conveys a realistic impression of the poet and the man.

Whittall, Sir James William.

Frederick the Great on kingcraft; from the original ms.; with reminiscences and Turkish stories. 1901.....92 W658

The title reverses the contents of the book, as regards importance. Author's family reminiscences describe the life of an English family in the Levant during the first half of the 19th century. These, with the Turkish stories, form the larger and more interesting part of the book. They are preceded by text and translation of the famous "Matinées du roi de Prusse," from what purports to be the original ms.

Whittier, John Greenleaf.

Carpenter, George Rice. John Greenleaf Whittier. 1903. (American men of letters.).....92 W661ca

"List of Whittier's writings," p.304–307.

"The political and reformatory aspects of Whittier's life are treated with more elaboration than the literary and poetic...Professor Carpenter does much more justice than former critics to Whittier's prose, especially his political editorials." Nation, 1903.

Wilde, Oscar.

De profundis. 1905.....92 W714

"What Wilde felt, meant and knew in Reading Gaol...With its clear rhythmic language, its strong union of thought and feeling, its direct appeal to the sense of the beautiful, this little book claims to be ranked as great literature." Contemporary review, 1905.

William I, emperor of Germany, & Bismarck-Schönhausen, O. E. L. fürst von.

Correspondence of William I & Bismarck, with other letters from and to Prince Bismarck; tr. by J. A. Ford. 2v. 1903.....92 W7415

These letters were selected for publication by Bismarck himself, and carefully arranged in portfolios. v.1 contains his correspondence with William I; v.2, his correspondence with other political personages.

Williams, Edward Ellerker.

Journal of Edward Ellerker Williams, companion of Shelley and Byron in 1821 and 1822, with an introduction by Richard Garnett. 1902.....92 W743

"From October, 1821, to July, 1822, Williams's diary accounts for almost all his and his friends' [the Shelleys'] actions, so far as the latter came under his observation. If many of the incidents recorded appear but trivial, the reader will not be insensible to the transparent simplicity of the unpretentious narrative, faithfully reflecting the character of the gentle, generous, and guileless author." Richard Garnett.

Williams, Roger.

Knowles, James Davis. Memoir of Roger Williams, the founder of the state of Rhode-Island. 1834.....92 W748k

"A minute and conscientious biography...but it is written with a strong bias in favor of Williams where he comes in collision with the authorities of Massachusetts." Winsor's Narrative and critical history of America.

Williams, Thomas, 1806–72.

Konkle, Burton Alva. Life and speeches of Thomas Williams, orator, statesman and jurist, 1806–1872, a founder of the Whig and Republican parties, with an introduction by P. C. Knox. 2v. 1905.....92 W749k

Williams, who lived for many years in Pitttsburgh, was an eminent lawyer, but particularly noted as an orator. His speeches begin with the uprising against President Jackson and the United States bank and end with the impeachment of Andrew Johnson, of which he was one of the managers, and represent the Whig and Republican movements during that period.

Wister, Sarah.

Sally Wister's journal; a true narrative, a Quaker maiden's account of her experiences with officers of the Continental army, 1777–1778; ed. by A. C. Myers. 1902.....92 W819

Sally Wister was the daughter of a prosperous Philadelphia merchant. Her journal covers the period from September 1777 to June 1778, during the British occupation of Philadelphia. It is an interesting historical document, aside from its charm as a naïve and perfectly frank narrative of personal experiences.

Wolcott, Roger.

Lawrence, William, bp. Roger Wolcott. 1902.....92 W834l

Roger Wolcott (1847–1900) was governor of Massachusetts from 1896 to 1898. The story of his life and eminent public service is appreciatively told by a warm friend.

Wolfe, Gen. James.

Casgrain, Henri Raymond, abbé. Wolfe and Montcalm. 1905. (Makers of Canada.).....92 W837c

Somewhat colored by the author's strong Canadian sympathies, and some of its conclusions must be considered in the light of material made accessible since his death.

Wolff, Joseph.

Travels and adventures of Joseph Wolff. 1861.....92 W838

Wolff (1795–1862), the son of a Jewish rabbi, was a Christian missionary in oriental countries.

Wolseley, Garnet Joseph, viscount.

Story of a soldier's life. 2v. 1903.....92 W8482

Brilliant and varied experiences of the author, a distinguished British general, from his first campaign in Burmah in 1852 to the close of the Ashantee war in 1874.

Wolsey, Thomas, cardinal.

Cavendish, George. Life and death of Cardinal Wolsey; illustrated with portraits by Holbein. 1905.....q92 W848ca

Cavendish (1500–61?) was Wolsey's gentleman-usher, accompanied him on his embassy to France and stayed with him after the cardinal had lost the royal favor. His biography is the chief authority for Wolsey's personal history.

"The view of Wolsey taken by Cavendish is substantially the same as that of Shakespeare, and it is by no means improbable that Shakespeare had read Cavendish in the manuscript. Cavendish writes with the fullest admiration for Wolsey and sympathy with his aims...The picture which Cavendish draws of Wolsey is most attractive, and recalls vividly the impression which he produced in his own time...The fulness of portraiture, the clearness of personal details, the graceful description, the reserve...give the book a distinction of its own, and place it high among English biographies." Dictionary of national biography.

Wood, Henry J.

Newmarch, Rosa. Henry J. Wood. 1904. (Living masters of music.).....92 W853n

Henry J. Wood is (1904) an English musician, conductor of the Queen's Hall orchestra, and in the author's judgment "unquestionably the central figure in English musical life."

Wordsworth, William.

Knight, William Angus. Life of William Wordsworth. 3v. 1889. .....92 W897k

In no sense a critical biography, but a collection of letters, documents and miscellaneous material, the author's expressed purpose being "to tie together with a slender biographic thread the narrative of the lives of Wordsworth and his sister, and of those who were inseparably connected with them in poetic labor, in such a way that nothing of importance is omitted from it, and thus to arrange the materials on which future critics may work."

Worthington, Thomas.

Cole, Frank Theodore. Thomas Worthington of Ohio; founder, senator, governor and first citizen. 1903....r92 W916c

Reprinted from the "Old Northwest" genealogical quarterly.

Born in Virginia in 1773, he was one of the early settlers of Ohio, and in private and public life did much for the development of the state. This short biographical sketch contains genealogical notes relating to the Worthington family, and a list of his descendants.
